G. Jung survived an intense encounter with the unconscious He did this by giving expression to his inner world in the paintings and dialogues found in the Red Book Yet Jung felt alone in this work unable to find a precedent or cultural parallel until he discovered alchemy This ancient protoscience became the bridge Jung had been seeking between the remote past and the present Yet between the downfall of alchemy in the eighteenth century and Jung's Red Book in the twentieth it seems that there was a gap in the tradition According to Jungian analyst and author Thomas Elsner Samuel Taylor Coleridge's great visionary poem The Rime of the Ancient Mariner is another link in that golden chain In Elsner's analysis Coleridge's nineteenth century night sea journey can today be understood as a symbolic self portrait of the collective unconscious a self portrait that like the Red Book finds its historical context and continuity in the alchemical tradition Continuing the highly esteemed works arising from the Fay Lecture Series sponsored by the Jung Center Houston Elsner's A Flash of Golden Fire: The Birth, Death and Rebirth of the Modern Soul in Coleridge's The Rime of the Ancient Mariner promises to further extend the understanding and appreciation of Jungian principles for practitioners analysts others interested in Jungian theory and practice the psychological dimensions of Romantic poetry and the evolution of Western consciousness The Damnation of Newton Frederick Burwick, 2012-05-10 No detailed description available for The Damnation of Newton An Introduction to Jacob Boehme Ariel Hessayon, Sarah Apetrei, 2013-08-29 This volume brings together for the first time some of the world's leading authorities on the German mystic Jacob Boehme to illuminate his thought and its reception over four centuries for the benefit of students and advanced scholars alike Boehme's theosophical works have influenced Western culture in profound ways since their dissemination in the early 17th Century and these interdisciplinary essays trace the social and cultural networks as well as the intellectual pathways involved in Boehme's enduring impact The chapters range from situating Boehme in the 16th Century Radical Reformation to discussions of his significance in modern theology They explore the major contexts for Boehme's reception including the Pietist movement Russian religious thought and Western esotericism as well as focusing more closely on important readers the religious radicals of the English Civil Wars and the later English Behmenists literary figures such as Goethe and Blake and great philosophers of the modern age among them Schelling and Hegel Together the chapters illustrate the depth and variety of Boehme's influence and a concluding chapter addresses directly an underlying theme of the volume asking why Boehme matters today and how readers in the present might be enriched by a fresh engagement with his apparently opaque and complex writings The Birth-mark Susan Howe, 2015-12-03 Susan Howe's classic groundbreaking exploration of early American literature In this classic groundbreaking exploration of early American literature Susan Howe reads our intellectual inheritance as a series of civil wars where each text is a wilderness in which a strange lawless author confronts interpreters and editors eager for settlement Howe approaches Anne Hutchinson Mary Rowlandson Cotton Mather Hawthorne Emerson Melville and Emily Dickinson as a fellow writer her insights fierce and original are rooted in her seminal textual scholarship in examination of their editorial histories of landmark works In the process Howe uproots settled institutionalized roles of men and women as well as of poetry and prose and of poetry and prose The Birth mark first published in 1993 now joins the New Directions canon of a dozen Susan Howe titles Marginalia: Valckenaer to Zwick Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1969 Annotating Modernism Amanda Golden, 2020-05-04 Making extensive use of archival materials by Sylvia Plath John Berryman and Anne Sexton Amanda

Golden reframes the relationship between modernism and midcentury poetry While Golden situates her book among other materialist histories of modernism she moves beyond the examination of published works to address poets annotations in their personal copies of modernist texts A consideration of the dynamics of literary influence Annotating Modernism analyzes the teaching strategies of midcentury poets and the ways they read modernists like T S Eliot James Joyce Ezra Pound Virginia Woolf and W B Yeats Situated within a larger rethinking of modernism Golden s study illustrates the role of midcentury poets in shaping modernist discourse

The Collected Works of Samuel Taylor Coleridge: Marginalia [v. 1-3] Samuel Taylor Coleridge,1969 Marginalia Samuel Taylor Coleridge,2000 Reading Notes ,2021-11-01 Reading notes constitute a vast resource for an understanding of literary history and culture They indicate what writers read as well as how they read and what they used in their own work As such they play an important role in both the reception and the production of texts The essays in this volume representing the newest trends in European and international textual scholarship examine literary creation and the relationship between reading and writing To study how readers respond to writing and how reading engenders new writing the contributing scholars no longer take for granted that authors write in splendid isolation but turn to a more broadly sociological investigation of authorship assigning new roles to the writer as reader notetaker annotator book collector and so on Notes and annotations may be fragmentary private undigested and embryonic but as witnesses to the reading process they tell unique stories about writers and readers ranging from great marginalists like Coleridge to women annotators of cookbooks This subject of research is a junction of several fields of research and tries to bridge gaps between separate disciplines with a common ground such as the history of the book the history of reading and the history of writing scholarly editing and textual genetics the analysis commentary and critical interpretation of the way in which works of art come into being bridging the gap between literary and textual criticism Studies in Literature and the Humanities George Whalley,1985-06-18 Speaking of God in an Inhumane World, Volume 2 Christopher Rowland,2024-10-31 This two volume collection of essays on the Bible and social justice liberation theology and radical Christianity by Christopher Rowland addresses the question raised by Gustavo Guti rrez about how we can speak of God as a loving parent in a world that continues to be so inhumane These essays by an esteemed New Testament scholar represent intellectual interests of a lifetime as he integrated exegesis of the New Testament texts in their first century contexts and located their interpretations within the quests for meaning and significance that exist within contemporary society These essays represent mostly the latter concern exploring Christian Scripture which has informed the lives of men and women down the centuries as they interpret both contexts and in doing so make a significant contribution to contextual theology that should be heard by the inhabitants of both contexts The first volume of Speaking of God in an Inhumane World includes essays on liberation theology and radical Christianity the second volume focuses primarily on radical Christianity and includes reflections on Gerrard Winstanley William Blake William Stringfellow and others Editing the Nation's Memory ,2015-07-14 Europe s nation states emerged from a complex of nineteenth century developments in which cultural consciousness raising played a formative role. The nineteenth century reflection on Europe's national identities involved a re-inventory and revalorisation of the vernacular cultural past and above all the nation's literary heritage. Everywhere in Europe foundational texts including medieval epics and romances, ancient laws and chronicles were retrieved from their obscure repositories. In new printed editions prepared according to the emerging academic standards of textual scholarship they were appropriated, contested and canonised as public symbols of the nation's permanence in history. This often neglected but crucially important Europe-wide process of editing the nation's memory involved old states and emerging nations, large and small, countries, metropolitan and peripheral regions. It straddled politics, the academic professionalization of textual scholarship and of the human sciences and literary taste. This collection of studies by outstanding specialists offers a comparative synopsis on exemplary cases from all corners of the European continent.
