The Collector Of Treasures:

The Collector of Treasures and Other Botswana Village Tales Bessie Head, 2013-10-09 Bessie Head's short stories have an extraordinary simplicity and breadth of vision heralded a review in The Tribune after publication of Head's first collection of short stories The Collector of Treasures Regarded today as one of Africa's best known woman writers in English Head draws on the rich oral tradition of southern Africa and masterfully applies storytelling's language and imagery Carefully sequenced the anthology gives special focus to village people from independence era Botswana and the status position and plight of African women The Collector of Treasures Bessie Head, 1992

African Oral Literature Russell Kaschula, 2001 Throughout Africa oral literature is flourishing though it is perceived by some as anachronistic to the modern world This work refutes this idea in its entirety by presenting 22 chapters which firmly place the study of oral literature within contemporary African existence The study analyzes how oral literature relates to media music technology text gender religion power politics and globalization

The Creative Vision of Bessie Head Coreen Brown, 2003 This book is an exploration of the way in which Head's writing is her idiosyncratic response to her personal life Her desire to portray and yet subvert oppression political racist and sexist that she encountered in South Africa and Botswana led to a Romanticism born of her need to create an antithesis to what she perceived to be the reality around her Her eagerness to discover a haven in her adopted rural Botswana led to a Utopia of her own making a literary resolution imagined not actual A mental breakdown led to the creation of her greatest novel A Question of Power one which examines the depths of evil but allows also for the dawning of the heights of goodness The appendix contains many heretofore unpublished letters that help to explain the personal compulsion that provided for Head's creativity

Homelands, Harlem and Hollywood Rob Nixon, 2022-10-05 Originally published in 1994 Homelands Harlem Hollywood examines the anti colonialist struggle against apartheid and the ways in which American and South African culture have been fascinated with and influenced by one another Rob Nixon's wide ranging analysis looks at Hollywood representations of the struggle for liberation the impact of the Harlem Renaissance on the Sophiatown writers the banning and censorship of television under apartheid Mandela and messianic politics the sports and cultural boycotts ethnic nationalism and the culture of violence Nixon concludes with an investigation of how the collapse of communism and anti communism and the rise of ethnic cleansing in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union had powerful implications for the shape of post apartheid South Africa

Politics of Mothering Obioma Nnaemeka, 1997-01 This collection is a study of African literature framed by the central and multi faceted idea of mother motherland mothertongue motherwit motherhood mothering looking at the paradoxical location of mother as both central and marginal Whilst the volume stands as a sustained feminist analysis it engages feminist theory itself by showing how issues in feminism are in African literature recast in different and complex ways

Bessie Head Huma Ibrahim, 1996 One of the foremost African writers of our time who dispelled the silence between colonial and feminist discourses by talking back

Bessie Head at last gets her due in this first book length comprehensive study of her work This book locates Head's unquestionable importance in the canon of African literature Author Huma Ibrahim argues that unless we are able to look at the merging of women's sexual and linguistic identity with their political and gendered identity the careful configurations created in Head's work will elude us Ibrahim offers a series of thoughtful readings informed by feminist diasporan postcolonial and poststructuralist insights and concerns She identifies a theme she calls exilic consciousness the desire to belong and traces its manifestations through each phase of Head's work showing how women's talk a marginalized commodity in the construction of southern Africa is differently embodied and evaluated Bessie Head's works are frequently featured in courses in African literature third world literature and fiction writing but there is little critical material on them Ibrahim offers readings of Head's novels When Rain Clouds Gather Maru and A Question of Power as well as the collections Tales of Tenderness and Power A Collector of Treasures A Woman Alone Autobiographical Writings and The Cardinals the histories Serowe Village of the Rain Wind and A Bewitched Crossroad and her letters to Robert Vigne collected in A Gesture of Belonging In Head's exploration of oppressed people especially women and those in exile Ibrahim finds startling insights into institutional power relations Head not only subverts Western hegemonic notions of the third world woman but offers a critique of postcoloniality

The Oral-Style South African Short Story in English Craig MacKenzie, 1999 This study deals with a particular kind of short story in South African English literature a kind of story variously called the fireside tale tall tale skaz narrative or the term used here the oral style story Most famously exemplified in the Oom Schalk Lourens narratives of Herman Charles Bosman the oral style story has its roots in the hunting tale and camp fire yarn of the nineteenth century and has dozens of exponents in South African literature most of them long forgotten Here this neglect has been addressed A W Drayson's Tales at the Outspan 1862 provides a point of departure and is followed by discussions of works by William Charles Scully Percy FitzPatrick Ernest Glanville Perceval Gibbon Francis Carey Slater Pauline Smith and Aegidius Jean Blignaut all of whom used the oral style story genre In the work of Herman Charles Bosman however the South African oral style story comes into its own In his Oom Schalk Lourens figure is invested all of the complexity and double voicedness that was latent and largely dormant in the earlier works Bosman demonstrates his sophistication particularly in his metafictional use of the oral style story The study concludes with a discussion of the use of oral forms in the work of more recent black writers among them Bessie Head Mtutuzeli Matshoba and Njabulo Ndebele

Black Women's Writing Gina Wisker, 1992-12-18 This book contains a lively and wide ranging collection of critical essays on Black women's writing from Afro American African South African British and Caribbean novelists poets short story writers and a dramatist The contributors are black and white female and male academics and readers who chart their engagement with and enjoyment of the texts of some of the key figures in black women's writing across several continents

Across the Lines Wolfgang Kloos, 1998 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries Text, Theory, Space Kate Darian-Smith, Liz Gunner, Sarah Nuttall, 2005-08-04 Focusing on two white settler societies South Africa and Australia this book investigates the meaning of the South as an aesthetic political geographical and cultural space This is a landmark in post colonial theory and criticism Writing Africa in the Short Story Ernest Emenyonu, 2013 The success of the Caine Prize for African Writing and the growth of online publishing have played key roles in putting the short story in its rightful place within the study and criticism of African literature African writers have much more than the critics recognized the beauty and potency of the short story Always the least studied in African literature classrooms and the most critically overlooked genre in African literature today the African short story is now given the attention it deserves Contributors here take a close look at the African short story to re define its own peculiar pedigree chart its trajectory critique its present state and examine its creative possibilities They examine how the short story and the novel complement each other or exist in contradistinction within the context of culture and politics history and public memory legends myths and folklore Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Nigeria HEBN Concert of Voices - Second Edition Victor J. Ramraj, 2009-08-17 Concert of Voices combines poetry fiction drama and essays in an anthology of world literature in English This second edition preserves the first edition's breadth and its balance of established and less widely known authors while including a large selection of exciting new material Biographical information and explanatory notes have been updated and expanded and new pieces by Cyril Dabydeen Vikram Seth Wole Soyinka Pauline Johnson Rudy Wiebe and many other authors have been added The Collector's Treasury Pasquale De Marco, 2025-03-08 In a world brimming with hidden treasures and untold stories collecting transcends mere acquisition it becomes an art form a quest for knowledge and a testament to

Lederer,2020-12-24 In Conversation with Bessie Head shows how reading the novels and letters of Botswana s most influential writer Bessie Head fosters an ongoing conversation between reader and writer and is in fact a very personal undertaking Each chapter tackles two parallel threads the first regarding Mary S Lederer s own history of reading Head from her first purchase of Maru through completing a Ph D on Head s trilogy through living in Botswana and connecting with various aspects of Head s life to examining how reading Head has affected her own development as a human being This history then ties each chapter into discussion of how Head develops her own vision of the brotherhood of man Alongside critically informed discussion Head's vision is examined through the prism of specific questions Why is madness not a useful concept for understanding Head's ideas Why did Head say she was not a feminist and what is the significance of male and female in her novels What is the relationship between individual race and community How can the nature of God be a clear expression of love but also an indistinct force for both good and evil Head's novels present opportunities for personal growth and through these conversations with her we become different readers

Bessie Head and the Trauma of Exile Joshua Agbo, 2021-06-17 This book investigates themes of exile and oppression in Southern Africa across Bessie Head's novels and short fiction An exile herself arriving in Botswana as a South African refugee Bessie Head's fiction serves as an important example of African exile literature This book argues that Head's characters are driven to exile as a result of their socio political ambivalence while still in South Africa and that this sense of discomfort follows them to their new lives Investigating themes of trauma and identity politics across colonial and post colonial contexts this book also addresses the important theme of black on black prejudice and hostility which is often overlooked in studies of Head's work Covering Head's shorter fiction as well as her major novels When Rain Clouds Gather 1969 Maru 1971 A Question of Power 1973 Serowe Village of the Rain Wind 1981 and A Bewitched Crossroads An African Saga 1984 this book will be of interest to researchers of African literature and postcolonial history
