Parisian history Tom Stammers explores collectors investments not just financial but also emotional and imaginative in historical artefacts as well as their uncomfortable relationship with public institutions In so doing he argues that private collections were a critical site for salvaging and interpreting the past in a post revolutionary society accelerating but also complicating the development of a shared national heritage Curiosity and Wonder from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment Robert John Weston Evans, Alexander Marr, 2006 Curiosity and wonder are topics of increasing interest and importance to Renaissance and Enlightenment historians Conspicuous in a host of disciplines from history of science and technology to history of art literature and society both have assumed a prominent place in studies of the Early Modern period This volume brings together an international group of scholars to investigate the various manifestations of and relationships between curiosity and wonder from the 16th to the 18th century Focused case studies on texts objects and individuals explore the multifaceted natures of these themes highlighting the intense fascination and continuing scrutiny to which each has been subjected over three centuries Collecting East and West Andrea M. Gáldy, Adriana Turpin, 2013-09-11 If collecting the rare and valuable is an entirely normal trait of human behaviour amassing objects from far away places has also long played a role in the history of collecting East and West or North and South for that matter are of course entirely relative to one s particular geographical position Therefore it is interesting that collecting exotic objects is an endeavour that unites humanity over millennia and round the globe The ancient Assyrians did so as assiduously as eighteenth century collectors in Paris or London Chinese emperors collected Western art and artefacts at a time when Western collectors started to gather ceramics lacquered furniture or South East Asian prints Key factors were of course increasingly frequent contact and an ever growing knowledge about the other and about the other s artistic production Of particular interest to the mission of this working group is the fact that the building of collections was only part of the endeavour but that in many cases the objects imported at huge cost and logistic effort were meant to be displayed in surroundings reminiscent of their original habitat even though their exact original context may have been open to debate and their final exhibition surroundings may have been unrecognisable to anyone from their former home Western collectors built Chinese cabinets for their exotic treasures often complemented by depictions of Oriental tea parties Less familiar is perhaps the fact that from the seventeenth century onwards Chinese emperors displayed their European collectibles in palaces built for them for this purpose in Western architectural style The essays in the present volume therefore attempt to connect the collections of exotic objects with the forms of display adopted by collectors and institutions and thus chart the levels of increasingly informed and intimate encounters between East and West scholars and collectors art lovers and institutions from the early first millennium BC to the early twentieth century and from South East Asia to North Western Europe Domestic Space in France and Belgium Claire Moran, 2022-01-13 Domestic Space in France and Belgium offers a new addition to the growing body of work in Interior Studies Focused on late 19th and early 20th century France and Belgium it addresses an overlooked area of modernity the domestic sphere and its conception and representation in art literature and material culture Scholars from the US UK France Italy Canada and Belgium offer fresh and exciting interpretations of artworks texts and modern homes Comparative and interdisciplinary it shows through a series of case studies in literature art and architecture how modernity was expressed through domestic life at the turn of the century in France and Belgium The Naturalist ,1900

Howard,Michael Snodin,Maurice Howard,1996-01-01 In a wide ranging and richly illustrated book the authors begin by tracing the ways ornament has been used over the last five centuries the rules of decorum and etiquette associated with it and the social moral and spiritual values it has represented They examine how architecture set the agenda for ornament in the Renaissance and how printed images carried a common vocabulary of ornament throughout the Western world They survey the personal side of ornament both in dress and in the domestic interior a private expression of the self and a public statement of social and cultural status They look at ornament in the public domain from the lavish decoration and symbolism of a town pageant to the logos of today s corporate industry and show how the ever evolving role of ornament is to invent and embody the collective spirit of communities at work and at leisure They conclude by discussing how the Western tradition of ornament has responded to and absorbed exotic African and Asian motifs Moresque motifs of the Near East and such familiar designs as the Paisley and Willow patterns Never Enough John E. Burke PhD,2015-08-21 From a basic Boy Scout knife and other simple pocketknives to rare Persian rugs and from a strong interest in historic American clay jugs to fine Asian jade pieces author Dr John E Burke has collected it all In Never Enough he describes his life journey through collecting and at the same time explores why man is a collecting species This memoir offers a look inside the mind of a passionate knowledgeable collector as he discusses his progression from a curious neophyte to a proficient expert collector in each of his eight domains Burke walks through the stages of how to gain knowledge and experience and how he personally mastered each of his collections He narrates how he became a collector of antiques and explains his passion for the objects he collects Offering a useful introduction to collecting Never Enough focuses on Burkes personal aspects of collecting including his own motivations and those of other collectors and ultimately the meaning and satisfaction of collecting The Collectors' Journal ,1909 The Wake of Iconoclasm Angela Vanhaelen,2012 Explores the relationship between art and religion after the iconoclasm of the Dutch Reformation Reassesses Dutch realism and its pictorial strategies in relation to the religious and political diversity of the Dutch cities Provided by publisher
