The Collegians Le Collegiali:

The Collegians Ninni Lemus, 2005-06 This is an engaging look into the lives of a little girl and her friends living together mostly happily in a boarding school where God simplicity gentle love and education are top priorities In this protected environment the little girl finds fulfillment support and to a great extent contentment peppered with some surprising childhood exploits and their resultant consequences Away from her own parents she finds the maternal love she craves in a nun who nurtures her with affection and with determination through the years For ten years the little girl relies almost wholly on that love but her world is shattered when at the tender age of twelve she is taken away and placed in another collegiate Very young and very alone in a much less protected world separated forever from the nun who had always been there for her she finds herself fighting everyone but she also meets her first love Le giornate del cinema muto ,2008

The Qur'an in Rome Federico Stella, Roberto Tottoli, 2024-03-04 Despite its relevance to the subsequent development of Western Islamic studies the intellectual contribution of early modern Catholicism is still an under researched area The aim of this volume is to fill this gap offering a series of essays dealing with the study of the Qur'an and Arabic language in early modern Catholic Europe Focusing on the circulation of manuscripts translations and printed books the essays highlight how Catholic Orientalism contributed to the birth and spread of Western Islamic studies although sometimes it was still directed towards religious polemics Among the protagonists of this period of Islamic studies the volume will focus on Catholic priests missionaries religious orders Jesuits Franciscans Carmelites Eastern Christians converts and other prominent figures in the Catholic culture of the time Special attention will be given to the work of Ludovico Marracci author of a fundamental edition of the Arabic text and Latin translation of the Qur'an with an introduction notes refutations and religious and linguistic insights The volume is of interest to an audience of specialists and non specialists interested both in Islamic and Qur'anic studies and in the history of modern Catholicism missions and Orientalism Dictionary Catalog of the University Library.
