Colonies in Space Frederic Golden,1977 Discusses a space colonization program being developed by physicist Gerald K O'Neill which includes complete living and industrial facilities operating on solar energy Colonial Space J.K.

Noyes,2012-10-12 First Published in 1992 This book is about space of a colony and how it was produced It began as a study of the literature of the German colony of South West Africa between the years 1884 and 1915 The author's aim is to demonstrate the active role which literature had played in structuring the experience of the colony If it could be shown that literature not only describes but also helps to structure the forms of experience then it would follow that it also plays an important role in structuring the experience of colonization and hence the form of the colony itself From the outset therefore the study was concerned with a number of issues centering around colonization representation experience and social form where spatiality is the concept which allows us to understand how these various aspects of colonialism interrelate Space Andrew Janiak,2020-01-23 Recurrent questions about space have dogged philosophers since ancient times Can an ordinary person draw from his or her perceptions to say what space is Or is it rather a technical concept that is only within the grasp of experts Can geometry characterize the world in which we live What is God's relation to space In Ancient Greece Euclid set out to define space by devising a codified set of axioms and associated theorems that were then passed down for centuries thought by many philosophers to be the only sensible way of trying to fathom space Centuries later when Newton transformed the natural philosophy of the seventeenth century into the physics of the eighteenth century he placed the mathematical analysis of space time and motion at the center of his work When Kant began to explore modern notions of idealism and realism space played a central role But the study of space was transformed forever when in 1915 Einstein published his general theory of relativity explaining that the world is not Euclidean after all This volume chronicles the development of philosophical conceptions of space from early antiquity through the medieval period to the early modern era The chapters describe the interactions at different moments in history between philosophy and various other disciplines especially geometry optics and natural science more generally Fascinating central figures from the history of mathematics science and philosophy are discussed including Euclid Plato Aristotle Proclus Ibn al Haytham Nicole Oresme Kepler Descartes Newton Leibniz Berkeley and Kant As with other books in the series shorter essays or Reflections enrich the volume by characterizing perspectives on space found in various disciplines including ecology mathematics sculpture neuroscience cultural geography art history and the history of science Trans-Colonial Urban Space in Palestine Maha Samman,2013-06-26 Taking a multidisciplinary approach to examine the dynamics of ethno national contestation and colonialism in Israel Palestine this book investigates the approaches for dealing with the colonial and post colonial urban space resituating them within the various theoretical frameworks in colonial urban studies The book uses Henry Lefebvre's three constituents of space perceived conceived and lived to analyse past and present colonial cases interactively with time It mixes the non temporal conceptual framework of analysis of colonialism using literature of previous colonial cases with the inter temporal abstract Lefebvrian concepts of space to produce an inter temporal re reading of them Israeli colonialism in the occupied areas of 1967 its contractions from Sinai and Gaza and the implications on the West Bank are analysed in detail By illustrating the transformations in colonial urban space at different temporal stages a new phase is proposed the trans colonial This provides a conceptual means to avoid the pitfalls of neo colonial and post colonial influences experienced in previous cases and the book goes on to highlight the implications of such a phase on the Palestinians It is an important contribution to studies on Middle East Politics and Urban Geography

Films for the Colonies Tom Rice, 2019-10-01 Films for the Colonies examines the British Government's use of film across its vast Empire from the 1920s until widespread independence in the 1960s Central to this work was the Colonial Film Unit which produced distributed and through its network of mobile cinemas exhibited instructional and educational films throughout the British colonies Using extensive archival research and rarely seen films Films for the Colonies provides a new historical perspective on the last decades of the British Empire It also offers a fresh exploration of British and global cinema charting the emergence and endurance of new forms of cinema culture from Ghana to Jamaica Malta to Malaysia In highlighting the integral role of film in managing and maintaining a rapidly changing Empire Tom Rice offers a compelling and far reaching account of the media propaganda and the legacies of colonialism

Gender and colonial space Sara Mills, 2013-07-19 Gender and colonial space is a trenchant analysis of the complex relation between social relations including notions of class nationality and gender and spatial relations landscape architecture and topography in post colonial contexts Arguing against much of the psychoanalytic focus of much current post colonial theory Mills aims to set out in a new direction drawing on a wide range of literary and non literary texts to develop a more materialist approach She foregrounds gender in this field where it has often been marginalised by the critical orthodoxies demonstrating its importance not only in spatial theorising in general but in the post colonial theorising of space in particular Concentrating on the period of high British colonialism at the close of the nineteenth century she adroitly examines a range of contexts looking at a range of colonial contexts such as India Africa America Canada Australia and Britain illustrating how relations must be analysed for the way in which different colonial contexts define and constitute each other Unlearning the Colonial Cultures of Planning Libby Porter, 2016-02-24. Colonialization has never failed to provoke discussion and debate over its territorial, economic and political projects and their ongoing consequences. This work argues that the state based activity of planning was integral to these projects in conceptualizing, shaping and managing place in settler societies. Planning was used to appropriate and then produce territory for management by the state and in doing so became central to the colonial invasion of settler states. Moreover, the book demonstrates how the colonial roots of planning endure in complex post colonial societies and how such roots manifest in everyday planning practice continue to shape land use contests between indigenous people and planning systems in contemporary post colonial states.

Citizens and Subjects of the Italian Colonies Simona Berhe, Olindo De Napoli, 2021-12-31. This is the first book on Italian colonialism that specifically deals with the question of citizenship and subjecthood. Such a topic is crucial for understanding both Italian imperial rule and the complex dynamics of the different colonial societies where several actors like notables, political leaders, minorities etc. were involved. The chapters gathered in the book constitute an unprecedented account of a heterogeneous geographical area. The cases of Eritrea, Libya, Dodecanese, Ethiopia and Albania confirm that citizenship and subjecthood in the colonial context were ductile political tools which were structured according to the orientations of the Metropole and the challenges that came from the colonial societies, often swinging between submission, cooptation to the colonial power and resistance. On one hand, the book offers an account of the different policies of citizenship implemented in the Italian colonies.

in particular the construction of gradated forms of citizenship the repression and expulsion of dissidents the systems of endearment of local people and cooptation of the elites and the racialization of legal status On the other it deals with the various answers coming from the local populations in terms of resistance negotiation and construction of social identity
