Gregory Steirer, 2024-07 Tracing the emergence of what the media industries today call transmedia story worlds and narrative franchises Legal Stories provides a dual history of copyright law and narrative based media development between the Copyright Act of 1909 and the Copyright Act of 1976 Drawing on archival material including legal case files and employing the principles of actor network theory Gregory Steirer demonstrates how the meaning and form of narrative based property in the twentieth century was integral to the letter and practice of intellectual property law during this time Steirer's expansive view of intellectual property law encompasses not only statutes and judicial opinions but also the everyday practices and productions of authors editors fans and other legal laypersons The result is a history of the law as improvisatory and accident prone taking place as often outside the courtroom as inside and shaped as much by laypersons as lawyers Through the examination of influential legal disputes involving early properties such as Dashiell Hammett's Sam Spade H P Lovecraft's Cthulhu Mythos and Robert E Howard's Conan the Barbarian Steirer provides a ground's eye view of how copyright law has operated and evolved in practice Robert E. Jerng,2017-11-07 When does racial description become racism Critical race studies has not come up with good answers to this question because it has overemphasized the visibility of race According to dominant theories of racial formation we see race on bodies and persons and then link those perceptions to unjust practices of racial inequality Racial Worldmaking argues that we do not just see race We are taught when where and how to notice race by a set of narrative and interpretive strategies These strategies are named racial worldmaking because they get us to notice race not just at the level of the biological representation of bodies or the social categorization of persons Rather they get us to embed race into our expectations for how the world operates As Mark C Jerng shows us these strategies find their most powerful expression in popular genre fiction science fiction romance and fantasy Taking up the work of H G Wells Margaret Mitchell Samuel Delany Philip K Dick and others Racial Worldmaking rethinks racial formation in relation to both African American and Asian American studies as well as how scholars have addressed the relationships between literary representation and racial ideology In doing so it engages questions central to our current moment In what ways do we participate in racist worlds and how can we imagine and build one that is anti racist
