The City Builder György Konrád, 2007 An architect in an unnamed city considers his life his work and the many layered history of the city he and his family architects all have contributed to building In the days after World War II during which American bombers destroyed much of what his father built he becomes a Stalinist planner and realizes that the power of the nobility the wealthy and the bourgeois has been usurped by technocrats Vanished by those technocrats into the communist underworld of torture and imprisonment he is eventually released into a post Stalinist world and becomes the chief builder in a provincial town Told with wit and elegance by one of Hungary's greatest novelists The City Builder is one of the most important and impassioned books about the indignities of living in and contributing to a cruelly depersonalized society

The City Builders Susan S. Fainstein, 2001 This revised edition examines major redevelopment efforts in New York and London to uncover the forces behind these investment cycles and the role that public policy can play in moderating market instability It chronicles the progress of three development projects in New York and three in London The Builder, 1875

A Healer and a Builder Philip W. Augustine, 2025-08-07 A Healer and A Builder traces the life and times of Dr John R Augustine from his early years in Kitchener Ontario through his medical education at the University of Western Ontario in the late 1940s and early 1950s to his years in Thunder Bay Ontario A Healer and A Builder provides an intimate personal portrait of John Augustine his family background and the philosophical foundation that motivated a lifetime of extraordinary contributions to his profession and his community This is the story of John Augustine's development of a dynamic new clinical education program which attracted medical students and doctors to Thunder Bay and environs and provided the foundation for the creation of the Northern Ontario School of Medicine now NOSM University It is also the story of how John and his wife Annette worked tirelessly to bring to life local arts and cultural institutions such as the Thunder Bay Museum the National Exhibition Centre and the Centre for Indian Art In this meticulously researched story of a life well lived Philip Augustine drawing on family diaries archival research and memories of his father gives a fascinating inside account of courtship and family life as well as medical education and health care in the last half of the twentieth century A Healer and A Builder is an inspiring account of a notable figure in modern Canadian medical history and a charming and generous person

Building Chester Phillip Jones, 2009-12-05 For a stranger to Chester the opportunity to explore the streets and buildings of a 2000 year old city must promise much to the first time visitor The presence of its almost intact circuit of medieval defensive walls its many early churches world famous shopping rows and its overtly historic character all suggest a place that has its foundations in much more ancient times However the architecture of modern day Chester can be deceptive with many buildings appearing to much older than they actually are being designed by a small group of leading regional architects who combined to create what is commonly referred to as the Chester Look a mixture of half timbered vernacular buildings and classically inspired facades both of which hark back to more ancient days This book attempts to identify and explain the various histories of many of Chester's landmark sites and buildings who built them owned them and what purpose did they serve within its 224 pages      Atlanta and Environs Franklin M. Garrett, 2011-03-01 Atlanta and Environs is in every way an exhaustive history of the Atlanta Area from the time of its settlement in the 1820s through the 1970s Volumes I and II together more than two thousand pages in length represent a quarter century of research by their author Franklin M. Garrett a man called a walking encyclopedia on Atlanta history by the Atlanta Journal Constitution With the publication of Volume III by Harold H. Martin this chronicle of the South's most vibrant city incorporates the spectacular growth and enterprise that have characterized Atlanta in recent decades The work is arranged chronologically with a section devoted to each decade a chapter to each year Volume I covers the history of Atlanta and its people up to 1880 ranging from the city's founding as Terminus through its Civil War destruction and subsequent phoenixlike rebirth Volume II details Atlanta's development from 1880 through the 1930s including occurrences of such diversity as the development of the Coca-Cola Company and the Atlanta premiere of Gone with the Wind Taking up the city's fortunes in the 1940s Volume III spans the years of Atlanta's greatest growth Tracing the rise of new building on the downtown skyline and the construction of Hartsfield International Airport on the city's perimeter covering the politics at City Hall and the box scores of Atlanta's new baseball team recounting the changing terms of race relations and the city's growing support of the arts the last volume of Atlanta and Environs documents the maturation of the South's preeminent city      Where Sin Abounds Robert R. Gonzales Jr., 2010-01-01 Nearly all scholars divide Genesis into primeval and patriarchal history though they debate the precise point of division One reason advanced to justify the division is a thematic shift In primeval history the narrator focuses on the origin and spread of sin as well as God's consequent curse and judgment on humanity In patriarchal history however the spread of sin theme falls off the radar of most scholars But these analyses of the primeval and patriarchal narratives are simplistic and inaccurate In fact the theme of human sin and the divine curse not only serve as the main themes of the Fall narrative but they also continue to function as major themes in both the primeval and patriarchal narratives that follow More particularly human sin appears to increase at both individual and societal levels Moreover just as the primordial sin threatened to derail the advance of God's kingdom and fulfillment of the creation mandate so the spread of human sin in postlapsarian history threatens to thwart God's redemptive plan which consists in the restoration of his original creational intentions for divine and human eschatological fullness This proves true even in the patriarchal narratives where the sins of God's chosen often threaten the very promise intended for their ultimate good These facts which the author attempts to demonstrate in the monograph not only have important ramifications for the unity of the Genesis corpus but they also have important implications for the doctrines of sin justification and sanctification      A Concordance to the Poems of Robert Browning ,      Building Age , 1927
