Teaching Music Performance in Higher Education Helen Julia Minors, Stefan Östersjö, Gilvano Dalagna, Jorge Salgado Correia, 2024-05-27 Higher Music Performance Education as taught and learned in universities and conservatoires in Europe is undergoing transformation. Since the nineteenth century the master apprentice pedagogical model has dominated creating a learning environment that emphasises the development of technical skills rather than critical and creative faculties. This book contributes to the renewal of this field by being the first to address the potential of artistic research in developing student centred approaches and greater student autonomy. This potential is demonstrated in chapters illustrating artistic research projects that are embedded within higher music education courses across Europe with examples ranging from instrumental tuition and ensemble work to the development of professional employability skills and inclusive practices. Bringing together diverse and experienced voices working within Higher Music Education but often also as professional performers this edited collection pairs critical reflection with artistic insight to present new approaches to curricula for teaching interpretation and performance. It calls for greater collaboration between Higher Education and professional music institutions to create closer bonds with music industries and thereby improve students career opportunities. Teaching Music Performance in Higher Education will appeal to scholars performers teachers but also students whose interests centre on innovative practices in conservatoires and music departments.

Words as Events Venla Sykärä, 2011-02-01 Words as Events introduces the tradition of short communicative rhyming couplets the mantin des as still sung and recited in a variety of performance situations on the island of Crete Recently these poems have also entered modern mass media and they are widely being exchanged as text messages by Cretans Focusing on the multi functionality of the short form Sykärä demonstrates how the traditional register gives voice to individual experiences in spontaneous utterances The local focus on communicative economy and artistry is further examined in a close analysis of the processes and ideals of composition By analyzing how the restrictions of form and performative conventions in fact generate impulses of creativity the author creates a theoretical approach that is sensitive to the special characteristics of the short rhymed poetic traditions In this interdisciplinary study the reader is invited to become familiar with the current folklore theory of oral poetry which has a long tradition in Finland The author combines the results of earlier folkloristic and anthropological insights and extends the theoretical concerns further to address questions of spontaneity and individual agency The research data has been produced in communicative interactions during long term fieldwork As a result the short rhymed poetry often neglected by scholars in earlier research paradigms can now be seen in new light specifically as dialogic poetry through its extended multi layered dialogic qualities
