The Collapse Of Real Socialism In Poland:

The Collapse of 'real Socialism' in Poland Jacek Tittenbrun, 1993 Jacek Tittenbrun born in 1952 is Professor of Sociology Deputy Director of the Institute of Sociology and Head of the Economic Sociology Research Unit at Adam Mickiewicz University Poznan Poland He received his MA with Distinction and his PhD there His research interests centre on the relationship between economy and society He is the author of seven books Among them are Interactionism in Contemporary American Sociology Financial Institutions and Ownership of Equity Capital New Capitalists Employee Pension Funds and Ownership of Equity Capital all in Polish His forthcoming book co authored with two other Polish scholars is Ownership and Society in English He has published about seventy scholarly articles in professional including Anglo American journals and contributions to collective volumes The Collapse of Communist Power in Poland Jacqueline

Hayden, 2006-03-23 Based on extensive original research including interviews with key participants this book investigates the sudden and unforeseen collapse of communist power in Poland in 1989 It sets out the sequence of events and examines the strategies of the various political groupings prior to the partially free election of June 1989 This volume argues that the specific negotiating strategies adopted by the communist party representatives in the Round Table discussions before the elections was a key factor in communism's collapse The book shows that on many occasions PZPR decision makers ignored expert advice and many Round Table bargains went against the party's best interests Using in depth interviews with major party players including General Jaruzelski General Kiszczak and Mieczyslaw Rakowski as well as Solidarity advisors such as Adam Michnik the text provides a unique source of first hand accounts of Poland's revolutionary drama Poland's New Capitalism Jane Hardy, 2009-07-20 This book explores the way that neoliberal policies have formed the basis of political transformation in Poland championed by both post communist and post Solidarity governments Poland was central to the historic changes that took place across Eastern Europe at the end of the Cold War It is the largest economy in the region and was at the forefront of opposition to communism Since then neoliberal policies have controlled the country This book assesses the impact of these policies the role of capital in the form of transnational corporations and foreign direct investment The revival of trade unions and growth of new social movements are also explored as they challenge Poland's new capitalism

Poland Anita Prazmowska, 2010-06-30 Polish independence following the end of World War I marked a new era for a nation that had endured centuries of foreign partition But the spirit of Polish nationalism forged during this long period of external domination has frequently been at odds with the modernising drives of democracy and communism How can the ideals of nationalism survive in a modern nation state Anita Prazmowska traces this conflict from the emergence of an independent Poland in 1918 through World War II communism and the democratic victories of Solidarity to the present day when Polish membership of the EU is changing perceptions both within Poland and in the wider world Poland A Modern History presents a vivid and accessible portrait of Poland's tumultuous history over the past century It is a clear and concise introduction to a nation which often at the epicentre of European political history has nevertheless sometimes struggled to define its national identity

Politics and Society in Poland Frances Millard, 2002-09-11 An examination of political social and economic development in Poland since the summer of 1989 with the main focus on democratization The Protracted Death-agony of Real Socialism Jerzy Hausner, Tadeusz Klementewicz, 1992

Freethought and Atheism in Central and Eastern Europe Tomáš Bubík, Atko Remmel, David Václavík, 2020-02-26 This book provides the first comprehensive overview of atheism secularity and non religion in Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth and twenty first centuries In contrast to scholarship that has focused on the decline of religion and secularization theory the book builds upon recent trends to focus on the rise of non religion itself While the label of post communism might suggest a generalized perception of the region this survey reveals that the precise developments in each country before after and even during the communist era are surprisingly diverse A multinational team of contributors provide interdisciplinary case studies covering Estonia Latvia Lithuania Russia Ukraine Poland the Czech Republic Slovakia Hungary Croatia Romania and Bulgaria This approach utilises perspectives from social and intellectual history in combination with sociology of religion in order to cover the historical development of secularity and secular thought complemented with sociological data The study is framed by methodological and analytical chapters Offering an important geographical perspective to the study of freethought atheism secularity and non religion this wide ranging book will be of significant interest to scholars of twentieth century social and intellectual history sociology of religion and non religion cultural and religious studies philosophy and theology

Poland's Foreign and Security Policy Ryszard Zięba, 2019-11-06 This book analyses determinants and the evolution of Poland's foreign and security policy in the changing international order By studying historical geopolitical and domestic factors the author offers a better understanding of Poland's national interests and sheds new light on its foreign relations with the USA Russia and the European Union Furthermore the author also discusses Poland's cooperation within international organisations such as NATO and the EU

The Routledge History Handbook of Central and Eastern Europe in the Twentieth Century Włodzimierz Borodziej, Sabina Ferhadbegović, Joachim von Puttkamer, 2020-04-21 Statehood examines the extending lines of development of nation state systems in Eastern Europe in particular considering why certain tendencies in state development found a different expression in this region compared to other parts of the continent This volume discusses the differences between the social developments political decisions and historical experience that have influenced processes of state building with a focus on the structural problems of the region and the different paths taken to overcome them The book addresses processes of building social orders and examines the contribution of state institutions to social and cultural integration and disintegration It analyses institutional and personnel continuities that have outlasted the great political changes of the twentieth century and addresses the expansion of state activity in shaping property relations in agriculture and industry as well as in social security and family politics Taking a comparative approach based on experiential history allowing individual experience to be detached from specific national references the volume delineates a transnational comparison of problems shared within the region as they have been passed down through history providing definition to the specificity of Eastern Europe and situating the historical experience of the region within a pan European context The second in a four volume set on Central and Eastern Europe in the twentieth century it is the go to resource for those interested in statehood and state building in this complex region

The Rise and Fall of the Brezhnev Doctrine in Soviet Foreign Policy

Matthew J. Ouimet, 2003-01-01 Ouimet argues that the now famous reforms of Soviet bloc policy of the mid 1980s were not the instigation but rather the climax of a fundamental transformation in Soviet policy toward Eastern Europe that had its origins in the Brezhnev era

Nation and Identity in Contemporary Europe

Brian Jenkins, Spyros A. Sofos, 2003-09-02 The resilience of nationalism in contemporary Europe may seem paradoxical at a time when the nation state is widely seen as being in decline The contributors of this book see the resurgence of nationalism as symptomatic of the quest for identity and meaning in the complex modern world Challenged from above by the supranational imperatives of globalism and from below by the complex pluralism of modern societies the nation state in the absence of alternatives to market consumerism remains a focus for social identity Nation and Identity in Contemporary Europe takes a fully interdisciplinary and comparative approach to the national question Individual chapters consider the specifics of national identity in France Germany Britain Italy Iberia Russia the former Yugoslavia and Poland while looking also at external forces such as economic globalisation European supranationalism and the end of the Cold War Setting current issues and conflicts in their broad historical context the book reaffirms that nations are not natural phenomena but constructed forms of social identity whose future will be determined in the social arena

Understanding Social Change Agnieszka Golec, 2006

Understanding Social Change Political Psychology in Poland

Unnecessary Suffering Maurice Glasman, 1996 They have a dream a dream of a world where everything and everybody can be bought and sold a world run efficiently by managers a world where freedom means the free market Maurice Glasman argues that this dream is an unrealisable utopia or a nightmare if put into practice He takes the management speak cliches of the New Right and New Labour alike and turns them on their head managers are not efficient they are a barrier to work and production liberal democracy which now means the free market and the strong state should be turned upside down with democracy at the level of the economy and liberalism at the level of the state Drawing on the work of Karl Polanyi Glasman argues that there is no need to surrender solidarity and human rights to the march of the managers and the market There is another tradition represented by the labour movement and the Catholic church in West Germany which defended democracy in the workplace and reined back the savageries of capitalism It was the tradition that Solidarity in Poland could have looked to after 1989 instead of allowing itself to be hijacked by the New Right and statist communitarianism Unnecessary Suffering examines this tradition and issues a call that cries out that human beings and the environment cannot should not and will not be treated as commodities

The Strength of Diversity Allan Rosas, Jan Helgesen, Diane Goodman, 2022-06-13 At the beginning of the 1990 s all CSCE Conference on Security and Co operation in Europe States committed themselves to pluralist democracy the rule of law and human rights and fundamental freedoms The idea of pluralist democracy is also gaining ground in other parts of the world

Post-Communist Poland - Contested Pasts and Future Identities Ewa Ochman, 2013-07-18 This book explores the reinterpretations of Poland s past which have been undertaken by Polish national and local elites since the fall of communism It focuses on remembrance practices and traces the de commemorating of communism to examine the ways in which collective remembering and forgetting shapes present power constellations in Poland and impacts on foreign and domestic policy The book outlines the detail of the new hegemonic national myths which are being established but also investigates fragmentation and diversification of commemorative practices at the local level that has the most potential to challenge the dominant vision of national Polish identity historically centred on martyrdom heroism and independence as less relevant to Poland s new aspirations for the future

The Road to Disillusion: From Critical Marxism to Post-communism in Eastern Europe Raymond C. Taras, 2015-02-24 The history of reform movements in postwar Eastern Europe is ultimately ironic inasmuch as the reformers successes and defeats alike served to discredit and demoralize the regimes they sought to redeem The essays in this volume examine the historic and present day role of the internal critics who whatever their intentions used Marxism as critique to demolish Marxism as ideocracy but did not succeed in replacing it Included here are essays by James P Scanlan on the USSR Ferenc Feher on Hungary Leslie Holmes on the German Democratic Republic Raymond Taras on Poland James Satterwhite on Czechoslovakia Vladimir Tismaneanu on Romania Mark Baskin on Bulgaria and Oskar Gruenwald on Yugoslavia In concert the contributors provide a comprehensive intellectual history and a veritable Who s Who of revisionist Marxism in Eastern Europe

Rethinking the Social, 2024-10-07 The book casts a spotlight on Central and Eastern European societies making their experiences visible and meaningful within the postcolonial discourse. The modernization theory overlooks important aspects of postsocialist transformation. Consequently, sociological knowledge has drifted apart from the social production of knowledge and sociology has become alarmingly irrelevant to the people it studies. Therefore, the book departs from preconceived notions of normal and modern to foreground the importance of actual social experience. After all, Central and Eastern Europe is a valuable yet underestimated social laboratory. Thus, the contributors experiment with new theoretical and methodological approaches to bridge the gap between social research and real people. Contributors are Izabella Bukraba, Rylska Jacek, Burski Grzegorz, Ekiert Kaja, Gadowska Anna, Giza Ma, gorzata G owacka, Grajper Micha, Kaczmarczyk Krzysztof, T Konecki Miros awa, Marody Adam, Mrozowski Joanna, Wawrzyniak Anne, White Renata, W och Tomasz, Zarycki and Marek Zirk, Sadowski.

China on Film Paul G. Pickowicz, 2013-02-28. Leading scholar Paul G. Pickowicz traces the dynamic history of Chinese filmmaking and discusses its course of development from the early days to the present. Moving decade by decade, he explores such key themes as the ever-shifting definitions of modern marriage in 1920s silent features, East-West cultural conflict in the movies of the 1930s, the strong appeal of the powerful melodramatic mode of the 1930s and 1940s, the polarizing political controversies surrounding Chinese filmmaking under the Japanese occupation of Shanghai in the 1940s, and the critical role of cinema during the bloody civil war of the late 1940s. Pickowicz then considers the challenging Mao years, including chapters on legendary screen personalities who tried but failed to adjust to the new socialist order in the 1950s, celebrities who made the sort of artistic and political accommodations that would keep them in the spotlight in the post-revolutionary era, and insider film professionals of the early 1960s who actively resisted the most extreme forms of Maoist cultural production. The book concludes with explorations of the highly cathartic films of the early post-Mao era, edgy postsocialist movies that appeared on the eve of the Tiananmen demonstrations of 1989, the relevance of the Eastern European velvet prison cultural production model, and the rise of underground and independent filmmaking beginning in the 1990s. Throughout its long history of film production, China has been embroiled in a seemingly unending series of wars, revolutions, and jarring social transformations. Despite daunting censorship obstacles, Chinese filmmakers have found ingenious ways of taking political stands and weighing in for better or worse on the most explosive social, cultural, and economic issues of the day. Exploring the often gut-wrenching controversies generated by their work, Pickowicz offers a unique and perceptive window on Chinese culture and society.

Cabinets in Eastern Europe J. Blondel, F. Müller-Rommel, 2016-01-03. Cabinets in Eastern Europe is a comprehensive study which enables the reader to compare the origins, structure, composition, and activities of these cabinets and to draw lessons from this comparison. Each chapter begins with a survey of the evolution of cabinets since the fall of communism at the beginning of the 1990s. The emphasis is then laid on the place of the cabinet in the constitution and on the role of presidents and prime ministers in the formation of the life of each cabinet. At a time when most Eastern European countries are candidates for membership in the European Union this volume provides a unique comparative presentation of the way in which cabinets have been evolving in Eastern Europe since the end of communism
