

The background of the book cover is an abstract painting. It features a central, somewhat ethereal face with dark, swirling hair or patterns around it. The face has a pale, almost white complexion with subtle hints of color. Below the face, there are intricate, swirling patterns in shades of red, orange, and blue, resembling stylized flowers or organic forms. The overall style is painterly and expressive, with visible brushstrokes and a rich, textured appearance. The colors are vibrant and varied, creating a complex and visually engaging composition.

The History of Anthropology Regna Darnell, 2021-10 This volume on the history of anthropology emphasizes schools of theory institutional connections social networks and collaborative research with North American Indigenous communities Regna Darnell a fifty year veteran of the field brings unsurpassed historicist and presentist interpretations of the discipline's legacy

And Along Came Boas Regna Darnell, 1998-01-01 The advent of Franz Boas on the North American scene irrevocably redirected the course of Americanist anthropology This volume documents the revolutionary character of the theoretical and methodological standpoint introduced by Boas and his first generation of students among whom linguist Edward Sapir was among the most distinguished Virtually all of the classic Boasians were at least part time linguists alongside their ethnological work During the crucial transitional period beginning with the founding of the Bureau of American Ethnology in 1879 there were as many continuities as discontinuities between the work of Boas and that of John Wesley Powell and his Bureau Boas shared with Powell a commitment to the study of aboriginal languages to a symbolic definition of culture to ethnography based on texts to historical reconstruction on linguistic grounds and to mapping the linguistic and cultural diversity of native North America The obstacle to Boas's vision of anthropology was not the Bureau but the archaeological and museum establishment centred in Washington D C and in Boston Moreover the scientific revolution was concluded not when Boas began to teach at Columbia University in New York in 1897 but around 1920 when first generation Boasians cominated the discipline in institutional as well as theoretical terms The impact of Boas is explored in terms of theoretical positions interactional networks of scholars and institutions within which anthropological work was carried out The volume shows how collaboration of universities and museums gradually gave way to an academic centre for anthropology in North America in line with the professionalization of American science along German lines during the late 19th and early 20th centuries The author is Professor of Anthropology and Director of the Centre for Research and Teaching of Canadian Native Languages at the University of Western Ontario Canada She is a fellow of the Royal Society of Canada
