Narratives of East Asian Women Teachers of English Gloria Park, 2017-09-13
This book is a powerful narrative of how six women experienced their lives alongside their desire to overcome the challenging and empowering nature of the English language The volume shares who they are as transnational and mobile women living in the midst of linguistic privilege and marginalization It is one outcome of a research project and the lived experiences which surround and influence and were influenced by it The author documents how she and her research partners began studying what had drawn them to US TESOL programs and how English was and is a symbol of power and privilege a symbol of educational access and a pursuit of equity yet at times is also a symbol of linguistic marginalization Towards a Pedagogical Model for Teaching English in an Indian Context Mriganka

Choudhury,2018-11-07 This book encapsulates the various discourses that try to theorise the evolution of English as a global language from the perspectives of history geography and individual proficiency It discusses the status of English in post colonial India where it has coexisted with native languages in a multilingual scenario for almost three hundred years and has developed into a form with its own distinct lexical phonological morpho syntactical and discourse features This indigenized form of English has come to be recognized as Indian English While many linguists argue that Indian English is a distinct variety with its own standardized form others do not quite agree While the advocates of Standard Indian English have argued in favour of recognition of Standard Indian English in Indian pedagogy others regard Indian English as suitable only for informal usage Through a survey conducted among those who are closely related to the English language in India this book examines the acceptability of Standard Indian English usage and using an attitudinal survey gauges their opinion vis vis the idea of forming a pedagogical model for teaching English in the Indian context Teaching English as a Foreign
