Willis,2002 Philosophy and the Novel Alan H. Goldman,2013-04-05 Alan H Goldman presents an original and lucid account of the relationship between philosophy and the novel In the first part on philosophy of novels he defends theories of literary value and interpretation Literary value the value of literary works as such is a species of aesthetic value Goldman argues that works have aesthetic value when they simultaneously engage all our mental capacities perceptual cognitive imaginative and emotional This view contrasts with now prevalent narrower formalist views of literary value According to it cognitive engagement with novels includes appreciation of their broad themes and the theses these imply often moral and hence philosophical theses which are therefore part of the novels literary value Interpretation explains elements of works so as to allow readers maximum appreciation so as to maximize the literary value of the texts as written Once more Goldman s view contrasts with narrower views of literary interpretation especially those which limit it to uncovering what authors intended One implication of Goldman s broader view is the possibility of incompatible but equally acceptable interpretations which he explores through a discussion of rival interpretations of Ernest Hemingway s The Sun Also Rises Goldman goes on to test the theory of value by explaining the immense appeal of good mystery novels in its terms The second part of the book on philosophy in novels explores themes relating to moral agency moral development motivation and disintegration in Jane Austen s Pride and Prejudice Mark Twain s Huckleberry Finn John Irving s The Cider House Rules and Joseph Conrad s Nostromo By narrating the course of characters lives including their inner lives over extended periods these novels allow us to vicariously experience the characters moral progressions positive and negative to learn in a more focused way moral truths as we do from real life experiences

Martinelli-Fernandez, Lori Baker-Sperry, Heather McIlvaine-Newsad, 2009-03-04 The first essays set forth sociological medical and political points of view discussing the abortion debate along with various abortion methods The next essay serves as a bridge to the remaining essays The remaining essays examine a study of The Cider House Rules the biological and theological concerns a case study of abortion and a feminist Kantian perspective Provided by publisher
