Gifted?: The shift to enrichment, challenge and equity Morgan Whitfield, 2024-07-19 Gifted and talented is a zombie It is dead but still walking around There are new labels to stratify students more able significantly able high aptitude learners New labels do not equal new thinking The concept of gifted is still stubbornly embedded in our educational structures with its legacy of social immobility racism and sexism Students can be more able when they have more financial resources more access more visibility or more cultural acceptance There are pervasive narratives that educators should prioritise extension for some students and not others We can dispel the myth that pitching lessons judiciously to middle ability and then differentiating up and down is effective This book explores how we can provide every student with rigorous challenge Challenge for all is an inclusive approach to teaching whereby every student is invited and given the tools to reach a place of mastery This can be through project based learning Harkness round tables oracy adaptive teaching inclusive enrichment programs dynamic classroom strategies and a schoolwide mission for equity Educators can embed powerful knowledge into the curriculum reimagine teaching to the top and stretch learners through personalised and responsive instruction The shift to enrichment challenge and equity creates magnificent possibilities The message to all students is you belong here

Equity in the Classroom Caroline V. Gipps, 2003-09-02 Concerned with pedagogy and the learning achievement of both girls and boys this book examines international trends in subject performance throughout schooling and looks critically at a range of interventions in difference contexts and countries all aimed at enhancing equity in schools and higher education institutions The book argues that pedagogy can not be isolated from the overarching gender education system What can be done it claims is that teachers can be provided with a range of pedagogic strategies which can be used to make education as it is experienced by students and reflected in their achievements more just
