The Coast Of Southern Africa:

The Coast of Southern Africa John Kench, Ken Gerhardt, 1987      The Coastal Guide of South Africa Lynne Matthews, 2007 On an extraordinary journey along South Africa's coastline this definitive guidebook explores the beauties and hidden secrets of the country's natural heritage Stretching for almost 2 000 miles the country's southern shoreline contains distinct climates that accommodate an enormously rich and diverse array of birds mammals reptiles marine life and plants The west coast plays host to cold nutrient rich waters kelp forests and low growing succulent scrub along the dunes while on the east and north coasts conditions are more tropical with higher rainfall warmer waters greater marine diversity and tall dense forests This handbook outlines the coastline's biodiversity from dune to ocean developed in order to offer beach enthusiasts vacationers and recreational anglers a simple way to identify the plants and animals most commonly seen or caught along the coast In addition to background information on tides and habitats guidelines are also included for The Southern African Sustainable Seafood Initiative a consumer guide to making sustainable choices Detailed and thorough this overview will create a deeper appreciation of what can be found on this rich and beautiful landscape      Coastal Fishes of Southern Africa Phillip C. Heemstra, Elaine Heemstra, 2004 A guide to over 400 species of the fishes along the coast of southern Africa this work features over 600 original paintings showing changes with growth and sexual differences in colour of many of the fishes The species accounts include descriptions and other information for identification and comparison of similar species      Estuarine Sedimentation Along the Natal Coast, South Africa A. R. Orme, 1974 The character and materials of sedimentation in estuaries and lagoons along the 570 km Natal Coast are described and analyzed Sites examined include the Greater St Lucia lagoon system with its 9 major contributing rivers Richards Bay with its 2 main contributing rivers and 28 rivers that discharge directly into the Indian Ocean without passing through an intermediate lagoonal filtering system other than their own estuaries Discussion is based on field and remote sensing investigations and borehole data and is supported by pertinent maps and cross sections The nature and processes of sedimentation along the Natal coast are representative of events along more than 2000 km of African coast from central Mozambique to eastern Cape Province Modified author abstract      Transactions of the Royal Society of South Africa Royal Society of South Africa, 1919      Quaternary Environmental Change in Southern Africa Jasper Knight, Stefan W. Grab, 2016-06-23 Ongoing climate change necessitates advances in our understanding of the interrelationships between climate landscape shaping processes and human activity over long time periods especially in areas that are already climatically stressed This volume presents new ideas on macroscale landscape evolution mountain fluvial and aeolian processes and environments in southern Africa a key region in the story of human evolution during the last two million years Interdisciplinary in scope it brings together an international team of experts to synthesise the latest research and understanding of landscape human relationships in this region It incorporates results from the emerging fields of geoarchaeology and cultural landscapes and utilises the latest data and analytical techniques A key reference for researchers studying hominid evolution geoarchaeology and environmental change it provides a benchmark study of southern African landscape evolution during the Quaternary It will also appeal to professionals and policymakers with interests in future human landscape evolution in southern Africa Brighter South Africa James Ewing Ritchie,1892 Rocky Shores: Exploitation in Chile and South Africa W. Roy Siegfried,2013-03-07 It seems almost trite to introduce this book by saying that man has been exploiting the intertidal zone for food for a long time Just how long nobody knows for sure but the prehistoric inhabitants of Terra Amata on the Mediterranean coast near Nice ate marine intertidal animals at least 300 000 years ago Similar impressive evidence going back to at least 100000 years exists for prehistoric man s consumption of intertidal animals along the South African coast However early man s dependence on intertidal resources probably goes back much further in time During the last 2 million or so years temperate Eurasia experienced some 20 glaciations interspersed by warm equable periods Different modes of life were open to man in colonizing the northern temperate zone One was to become a big game hunter specializing for example on mammoths the other to exploit marine intertidal resources Of the two probably the shoreline offered an easier environment for an original scavenging food gatherer Southern Africa's Blue Economy Donald L. Sparks,2023-05-18 Southern Africa s maritime interests are considerable its oceans and ports are essential to the wealth of the region are crucial for trade and are an important source of employment food and energy However regional governments do not place sufficient attention on the Blue Economy and its potential to stimulate economic growth Of the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals goal Number 14 Life Below Water is the least funded Less than 1% of Official Development Assistance goes toward this goal and even private investment and funding from philanthropic organizations is grossly inadequate to meet Africa s blue economy needs It is vital for the international community to face up to the challenges of Africa s Blue Economy and start working on solutions and for southern Africa s Blue Economy policies and goals to be expanded Just as sustainable development green initiatives show promise so too could Blue Economy projects and activities Southern Africa s rich coastal and marine resources need to be managed on both a national and regional level if they are to be used in a long term sustainable way This book provides for the first time a concise study of the constraints and opportunities that the Blue Economy offers for southern Africa and the role that the Southern African Development Community SADC could play in fostering a sustainable use of its ocean and coastal resources Union of South Africa from Olifants River to Mossel Bay Great Britain.
