Class, Culture and Suburban Anxieties in the Victorian Era Lara Baker Whelan, 2011-12-20 In this study Whelan demonstrates the way in which representations of the Victorian suburb in mid to late nineteenth century British writing occasioned a literary sub genre unique to this period that attempted to reassure readers that the suburb was a place where outsiders could be controlled and where middle class values could be enforced In particular Whelan draws attention to the discourse of the suburb as a space of cultural contention in an attempt to illuminate a facet of class history that has often been ignored overgeneralized or misunderstood At the same time she recontextualizes Victorian fiction for modern readers in light of middle class suburban anxieties Women's Ghost Literature in Nineteenth-Century Britain Melissa

Dickerson,1996 An interesting rereading of familiar texts by Emily and Charlotte Bronte Elizabeth Gaskell and George Eliot recovering the historical and literary roots of the supernatural as it appears in each women s work Dickerson English Rhodes College makes interesting observations about women s changing roles in the 19th century when scientific advancements relegated women to the home as arbiters of the spiritual while men occupied themselves with rational invention Through close readings she demonstrates how the Brontes Gaskell and Eliot resisted this division and simultaneously created a spiritual genre of writing traditionally denigrated by critics Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR British Short-fiction Writers, 1880-1914 William F. Murphy,2016-10-24 In recent years horror and gothic themes have penetrated mainstream popular culture in a manner unseen since the horror boom of the 1970s Primetime television viewers who before might not have shown interest in such late night fare now happily settle down after dinner to watch zombie or serial killer shows This collection of 54 biographical essays examines many overlooked and underrated figures who have played a role in the ever expanding world of horror and gothic entertainment The contributors push the boundaries of how we define these terms bringing into the discussion such diverse figures as singer songwriter Tom Waits occultist Dion Fortune author Charles Beaumont historian and bishop Gregory of Tours and video game designer Shinji Mikami History of the Gothic: Gothic Literature 1825-1914 Jarlath Killeen,2009-06-01 This volume in this exciting new series provides a detailed yet accessible study of Gothic literature in the nineteenth century It examines how themes and trends associated with the early Gothic novels were diffused widely in many different genres in the Victorian period including the ghost story the detective story and the adventure story It looks in particular how the Gothic attempted to resolve the psychological and theological problems thrown up the modernisation and secularisation of British society The author argues that the fetishized figure of the child came to stand for what many believed was being lost by the headlong rush into a technological and industrial future The relationship between the child and horror is examined and the book demonstrates that far from a simple rejection or acceptance of secularisation the Gothic attempts to articulate an entirely different way of being modern Victorian Gothic Andrew Smith,2012-04-04 A multi disciplinary scholarly consideration of the Victorian Gothic These 14 chapters each written by an acknowledged expert in the field provide an invaluable insight into the complex and various Gothic forms of the nineteenth century Covering a range of diverse contexts the chapters focus on science medicine Queer theory imperialism nationalism and gender Together with further chapters on the ghost story realism the fin de siecle pulp fictions sensation fiction and the Victorian way of death the Companion provides a thorough going overview of the Victorian Gothic An essential resource for students and scholars working on the Gothic Victorian literature and culture and critical theory Key Features

The Demographic Imagination and the Nineteenth-Century City Nicholas Daly, 2015-03-30 In this provocative book Nicholas Daly tracks the cultural effects of the population explosion of the nineteenth century the demographic transition to the modern world As the crowded cities of Paris London and New York went through similar transformations a set of shared narratives and images of urban life circulated among them including fantasies of urban catastrophe crime dramas and tales of haunted public transport refracting the hell that is other people In the visual arts sentimental genre pictures appeared that condensed the urban masses into a handful of vulnerable figures newsboys and flower girls At the end of the century proto ecological stories emerge about the sprawling city as itself a destroyer This lively study excavates some of the origins of our own international popular culture from noir visions of the city as a locus of crime to utopian images of energy and community

Irish Novels 1890-1940 John Wilson Foster, 2008-02-21 Studies of Irish fiction are still scanty in contrast to studies of Irish poetry and drama Attempting to fill a large critical vacancy Irish Novels 1890 1940 is a comprehensive survey of popular and minor fiction mainly novels published between 1890 and 1922 a crucial period in Irish cultural and political history Since the bulk of these sixty odd writers have never been written about certainly beyond brief mentions the book opens up for further exploration a literary landscape hitherto neglected perhaps even unsuspected This new landscape should alter the familiar perspectives on Irish literature of the period first of all by adding genre fiction science fiction detective novels ghost stories New Woman fiction and Great War novels to the Irish syllabus secondly by demonstrating the immense contribution of women writers to popular and mainstream Irish fiction Among the popular and prolific female writers discussed are Mrs J H Riddell B M Croker M E Francis Sarah Grand Katharine Tynan Ella MacMahon Katherine Cecil Thurston W M Letts and Hannah Lynch Indeed a critical inference of the survey is that if there is a discernible tradition of the Irish novel it is largely a female tradition A substantial postscript surveys novels by Irish women between 1922 and 1940 and relates them to the work of their female antecedents This ground breaking survey should also alter the familiar perspectives on the Ireland of 1890 1922 Many of the popular works were problem novels and hence throw light on contemporary thinking and debate on the Irish Question After the Irish Literary Revival and creation of the Free State much popular and mainstream fiction became a lost archive neglected evidence indeed of a lost Ireland
