New & Selected Essays Howard Nemerov, 1985 OSRIC My hair is falling out and no one reads my poems OSWALD My liver is bad and everyone reads my ads In this opening dialogue between Osric a poet and Oswald a copywriter Nemerov exhibits qualities that remain constant through these 26 new and selected essays the ability to find the perfect wry phrase to show that the world is not quite as it should be and the courage to attack with wit and humor subjects that in others elicit a savage solemnity None of this is to say however that Nemerov is frivolous As are all the great writers and critics he is a deeply serious if nimble wit who confronts the basic issues of art in life death morality Thus in The Swaying Form A Problem in Poetry he can say So the work of art is religious in nature not because it beautifies an ugly world or pretends that a naughty world is a nice one for these things especially art does not do but because it shows of its own nature that things drawn within the sacred circle of its forms are transfigured illuminated by an inward radiance which amounts to goodness because it amounts to being itself

The New Oxford Book of War Poetry Jon Stallworthy, 2014-06-26 There can be no area of human experience that has generated a wider range of powerful feelings than war Jon Stallworthy's classic and celebrated anthology spans centuries of human experience of war from Homer's Iliad through the First and Second World Wars the Vietnam War and the wars fought since This new edition published to mark the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War includes a new introduction additional poems from David Harsent and Peter Wyton amongst others The new selection provides improved coverage of the two World Wars and the Vietnam War and new coverage of the wars of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Howard Nemerov Mary Eileen Knoff,1981 The Oxford Companion to Twentieth-century Literature in English Jenny Stringer,1996 Survey of twentieth century English language writers and writing from around the world celebrating all major genres with entries on literary movements periodicals more than 400 individual works and articles on approximately 2 400 authors A Reader's Guide to the Narrative and Lyric Poetry of Thomas Lovell Beddoes Rodney Edgecombe,2015-10-05 Beddoes poses a peculiar problem for critics and scholars who wish to redress the marginal position that he occupies in the Romantic canon a problem seemingly unique to him and created in part by his misconception of his own strengths as a writer An extremely good poet who had things turned out differently might have functioned as a missing link between Keats and Tennyson he fatally divided his attention between verse and medicine a discipline that by his own admission made in the poem composed for Zo King served to wither his creative gift This fission of energy was bad enough but more damaging still was his misconception of metier for whatever mental resources remained to Beddoes after gruelling days in the classroom he invested in writing an unstageable drama instead of in his primary gift for lyric verse Whereas the Beddoes revival that has been gathering momentum in recent years has centred on Death's Jest Book the play onto which the poet directed some might say misdirected so much of his creative energy this study focuses wholly on his lyric and narrative verse much of which has received short critical shrift It follows the sequence of poems set out in the Donner edition and focuses on their verbal richness and inventiveness as they unspool upon the page Poetry Of The Second World War Desmond Graham,2011-05-31 Poetry of the Second World War brings to light a neglected chapter in world literature In its chorus of haunting poetic voices over a hundred of the most articulate minds of their generation record the true experience of the 1939 45 conflict and its unending consequences In keeping with its subject it has an international scope with poems from over twenty countries including Japan Australia Europe America and Russia poems in which human responses echo each other across boundaries of culture and state Auden Brecht Stevie Smith Primo Levi Zbigniew Herbert and Anna Akhmatova are set alongside the eloquence of unknown poets The anthology has been arranged to bring out the chronological and cumulative human experience of the war pre war fears air raids the boredom fear and camaraderie of military life battle occupation and resistance surviving and the aftermath Here at last are the poems of the Holocaust the Blitz Hiroshima of soldiers refugees and disrupted lives What emerges is a poetry capable of conveying the vast and terrible sweep of war
