

Coming Home

Punchestown races a glorious extravaganza,
You had a flutter on Fuchsia Belle,
Tall white haired man, softest baby blue eyes,
Everything new and wondrous to you,
Without any fuss you showered your warmth,
Outside the rain lashed down relentlessly,
All together we were like long lost pals,
As you wove your pure spell,
Watching as horses fell, virgin territory

For the farmer with plenty of charm,
Never doing anybody any harm,
A life dedicated to your beloved farm.
Years have passed many changes taking place,
Lover of nature, plenty of patience as you work at your own pace,
Gentleness oozes from your eyes like water over a smooth stone,
You hold my hand, i feel i am coming home.

The Coming Home Poems:

Coming Home Sue Shellabarger Pettit, 1987-02-25 Coming Home is a collection of 26 poems covering 65 pages that were written in December 1984 in 48 hour period gratitude driven inspiration one week after the arrival of a two week old adopted daughter They were written in rhyme and iambic pentameter and were experienced and proclaimed by the author to have come through her not from her As the author states Coming Home is about coming back to myself and my own wisdom It is about finding that peaceful place within a place where I feel secure and full She adds Coming Home was written as a celebration as I began to realize that the only thing that takes me away from a peaceful life is traveling in my own thoughts In the last lines of the title poem the author states with a powerful certainty Coming Home s a simple journey takes no movement on my part Instead of listening to my thoughts I listen with my heart This powerful experience occurred shortly after the author and her husband had met Sydney Banks and had become students of the Three Universal Principles of Mind Thought and Consciousness and as she had accompanied her psychiatrist husband to a 10 month fellowship in this new at the time understanding The collection of poems was first self published in 1987 but as the interest in The Three Principles has flourished and spread internationally demand for easy availability to the inspired poems has also multiplied One of the poems Lilly s Loose which captures the thought created experience of emotional upset has been published with permission in six books by other authors You are in for a treat

Coming Home Floyd Cooper, 1994-09-13 Young Langston Hughes was a dreamer He dreamed about heroes like Booker T Washington who was black just like him When he heard the clackety clack of train wheels he dreamed about the places it had been But most of all he dreamed about having a happy home And so one day he began turning those dreams into beautiful prose As he did he discovered where his home really was in the words and rhythms of his poetry that reached people all over the world The beloved Langston Hughes comes to life in a book for poets dreamers children and adults anyone who has ever thought of what home means to them Teachers looking for a good way to introduce youngsters to this prominent poet will find this book to be an excellent accompaniment to his work School Library Journal Like Hughes poetry the power of Cooper s story is that it confronts sadness even as it transcends it Booklist His text is as inviting as his illustrations The New York Times Book Review

The Coming of the Princess, and Other Poems Kate Seymour MacLean, 2019-12-19 In The Coming of the Princess and Other Poems Kate Seymour MacLean crafts a collection that weaves together themes of nature femininity and the passage of time with eloquence and vivid imagery Her poetry is rich in musicality reflecting the Romantic ideals prevalent during the late 19th century while intertwining the emerging voices of women s literature MacLean s lyrical style not only showcases her strong command of form but also invites readers to explore the nuanced emotions and experiences tied to her subjects revealing both personal and universal truths that resonate with the reader s own life experiences Kate Seymour

MacLean born to a family of intellectuals and artists was influenced by the vibrant literary circles of her time She contributed significantly to the literary scene in America often addressing the condition of women and their roles within society The backdrop of her life filled with advocacy for women s rights and social reform imbues her work with a sense of urgency and relevance that challenges the status quo in an era of burgeoning change MacLean s The Coming of the Princess and Other Poems is a vital read for anyone interested in the evolution of women s poetry and the exploration of identity through lyrical expression Recommended for both scholarly audiences and general readers alike this collection offers a compelling look into the voice of a woman poised elegantly between tradition and modernity A Concordance to the Poems of Emily Dickinson

S. P. Rosenbaum,2019-06-30 A Concordance to the Poems of Emily Dickinson is the third volume in the distinguished series Cornell Concordances Like the others it was programmed on an IBM 704 electronic computer and provides an alphabetical list of all significant words each word given in context In order to provide variants it was based on Thomas H Johnson s three volume edition of all the known texts of Emily Dickinson s poems Included are an analytical preface by the editor and an index of words in the order of frequency Asian American Poets Guiyou Huang,2002-05-30 Even though Asian American literature is enjoying an impressive critical popularity attention has focused primarily on longer narrative forms such as the novel And despite the proliferation of a large number of poets of Asian descent in the 20th century Asian American poetry remains a neglected area of study Poetry as an elite genre has not reached the level of popularity of the novel or short story partly due to the difficulties of reading and interpreting poetic texts The lack of criticism on Asian American poetry speaks to the urgent need for scholarship in this area since perhaps more than any other genre poetry most forcefully captures the intense feelings and emotions that Asian Americans have experienced about themselves and their world This reference book overviews the tremendous cultural contributions of Asian American poets Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 48 American poets of Asian descent most of whom have been active during the latter half of the 20th century Each entry begins with a short biography which sometimes includes information drawn from personal interviews The entries then discuss the poet s major works and themes including such concerns as family racism sexism identity language and politics A survey of the poet s critical reception follows In many cases the existing criticism is scant and the entries offer new readings of neglected works The entries conclude with bibliographies of primary and secondary texts and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography The Harp of Erin: a Book of Ballad-poetry and of Native Song. The Penguin Book of the Prose Poem Jeremy Noel-Tod, 2018-11-29 A wonderful book an invigorating revelation An essential collection of prose poems from across the globe by old masters and new reveals the form s astonishing range Kate Kellaway Observer A superb anthology it is hard to know how it could possibly be bettered Daily Telegraph This is the prose poem a genre with an oxymoron for a name one of literature s great open secrets and the home for over 150 years of extraordinary work by many of the world s most beloved writers This uniquely wide ranging anthology gathers essential pieces of writing from every stage of the form s evolution beginning with the great flowering of recent years before moving in reverse order through the international experiments of the 20th century and concluding with the prose poem s beginnings in 19th century France Edited with an introduction by Jeremy Noel Tod War Poetry of the South Various Authors, Several considerations have prompted the editor of this volume in the compilation of its pages It constitutes a contribution to the national literature which is assumed to be not unworthy of it and which is otherwise valuable as illustrating the degree of mental and art development which has been made in a large section of the country under circumstances greatly calculated to stimulate talent and provoke expression through the higher utterances of passion and imagination Though sectional in its character and indicative of a temper and a feeling which were in conflict with nationality yet now that the States of the Union have been resolved into one nation this collection is essentially as much the property of the whole as are the captured cannon which were employed against it during the progress of the late war It belongs to the national literature and will hereafter be regarded as constituting a proper part of it just as legitimately to be recognized by the nation as are the rival ballads of the cavaliers and roundheads by the English in the great civil conflict of their country The emotional literature of a people is as necessary to the philosophical historian as the mere details of events in the progress of a nation This is essential to the reputation of the Southern people as illustrating their feelings sentiments ideas and opinions the motives which influenced their actions and the objects which they had in contemplation and which seemed to them to justify the struggle in which they were engaged It shows with what spirit the popular mind regarded the course of events whether favorable or adverse and in this aspect it is even of more importance to the writer of history than any mere chronicle of facts The mere facts in a history do not always or often indicate the true animus of the action But in poetry and song the emotional nature is apt to declare itself without reserve speaking out with a passion which disdains subterfuge and through media of imagination and fancy which are not only without reserve but which are too coercive in their own nature too arbitrary in their influence to acknowledge any restraints upon that expression which glows or weeps with emotions that gush freely and freshly from the heart With this persuasion we can also forgive the muse who in her fervor is sometimes forgetful of her art And yet it is believed that the numerous pieces of this volume will be found creditable to the genius and culture of the Southern people and honorable as in accordance with their convictions They are derived from all the States of the late Southern Confederacy and will be found truthfully to exhibit the sentiment and opinion prevailing more or less generally throughout the whole The editor has had special advantages in making the compilation Having a large correspondence in most of the Southern States he has found no difficulty in procuring his material Contributions have poured in upon him from all portions of the South the original publications having been in a large number of cases subjected to the careful revision of the several authors It is a matter of great regret with him that the limits of the present volume have not suffered him to do justice to and find a place for many of the pieces which fully deserve to be put on record Some of the poems were quite too long for his purpose a large number delayed by the mails and other causes were received too late for publication Several collections from Louisiana North Carolina and Texas especially are omitted for this reason Many of these pieces are distinguished by fire force passion and a free play of fancy Briefly his material would enable him to prepare another volume similar to the present which would not be unworthy of its companionship He is authorized by his publisher to say that in the event of the popular success of the present volume he will cheerfully follow up its publication by a second of like style character and dimensions
