The Memory of Nature in Aboriginal, Canadian and American Contexts Françoise Besson, Claire Omhové, Héliane Ventura, 2014-06-12 This volume engages the reader's interest in the relationship that binds man to nature a relationship which makes itself manifest through certain literary or visual artefacts produced by Native or non Native writers and artists It ranges from the study of literatures mainly from Canada including Quebec and Acadia but also from Britain the United States of America France Turkey and Australia to the exploration of films photographs paintings and sculptures produced by Aboriginal artists from North America Thanks to a relational paradigm founded on spatial and temporal enlargement it reimagines the critical outlook on indigenous production by instigating a dialogue between endogenous and exogenous scholars novelists and artists and by weaving together interdisciplinary approaches spanning anthropology geology ecocriticism and the study of myths From the writings by Scott Momaday to those by Tomson Highway from Pauline Johnson to Louise Erdrich or from the photographs by William McFarlane Notman and Edward Burtynsky or the films by Randy Redroad to the paintings by Emily Carr it explores art as the sedimentation of nature It simultaneously interrogates the representation of nature and the nature of representation as a geological and generic process inscribed in the history of mankind Without eclipsing differences and imposing a reified Eurocentric critical discourse upon indigenous productions this volume does not colonize indigenous texts or indulge in cultural appropriation of works of art but looks for historical mythological or geological traces of the past a past characterized by the intimacy between man and animal man and rock or man and plant a past which is allowed to resurface through the creative and critical outlooks that are bestowed upon its subjacent or subterranean existence It resurfaces not as nostalgic memory but as an interactive fertilization giving the present a new life in which the non human provides a key to the understanding of the human bond to nature Disaster and Memory Wheeler W. Dixon,1999 Using the media s coverage of the death of Princess Diana as a starting point the author draws on the effects of new technologies the role of the star system the nature of public surveillance and the development of media conglomerates to explain why Hollywood has become so repetitive Discussing films such as Titanic the author argues that current films replay the same plotlines with greater wizardry and less humanity than those of fifty years ago and that our culture is fascinated with images of disaster Mediating Memory in the Museum S. Arnold-de-Simine,2013-10-16

Mediating Memory in the Museum is a contribution to an emerging field of research that is situated at the interface between memory studies and museum studies It highlights the role of museums in the proliferation of the so called memory boom as well as the influence of memory discourses on international trends in museum cultures Grandma's Story Korie

From Memory to History Jim Cullen, 2021-04-16 Covering a range of beloved television series from M A S H to Mad Men this book explores how historical sitcoms and dramas have depicted earlier parts of the twentieth century while still reflecting the concerns of their own era including the Vietnam War civil rights movements changing gender roles and technological advancements

Next-Generation Memory and Ukrainian Canadian Children's Historical Fiction Mateusz Świetlicki, 2023-03-24 This is the first book monograph devoted to Anglophone Ukrainian Canadian children s historical fiction published between 1991 and 2021 It consists of five chapters offering cross sectional and interdisciplinary readings of 41 books novels novellas picturebooks short stories and a graphic novel The first three chapters focus on texts about the complex process of becoming Ukrainian Canadian showcasing the experiences of the first two waves of Ukrainian immigration to Canada including encounters with Indigenous Peoples and the First World War Internment The last two chapters are devoted to the significance of the cultural memory of the Holodomor the Great Famine of 1932 1933 and the Second World War for Ukrainian Canadians All the chapters demonstrate the entanglements of Ukrainian and Canadian history and point to the role Anglophone children s literature can play in preventing the symbolical seeds of memory from withering This volume argues that reading imagining and reimagining history can lead to the formation of beyond textual next generation memory Such memory created through reading is multidimensional as it involves the interpretation of both the present and the past by an individual whose reality has been directly or indirectly shaped by the past over which they have no influence Next generation memory is of anticipatory character which means that authors of historical fiction anticipate the readers both present day and future not to have direct links to any witnesses of the events they discuss and to have little knowledge of the transcultural character of the Ukrainian Canadian diaspora
