Alan McCulloch, Susan McCulloch

The Colonial Image Australian Painting 1800-1880:

The Colonial Image Tim Bonyhady, Australian National Gallery, 1987 This book commissioned by the Australian National Gallery and based primarily on its holdings also draws on other collections in order to show the range of colonial painting

Contemporary Art and Unforgetting in Colonial Landscapes Kate McMillan, 2019-07-22 This book explores the work of artists based in the global south whose practices and methods interrogate and explore the residue of Empire. In doing so it highlights the way that contemporary art can assist in the unforgetting of colonial violence and oppression that has been systemically minimized. The research draws from various fields including memory studies, postcolonial and decolonial strategies of resistance, activism, theories of the global south, the intersection between colonialism and the Anthropocene, as well as practice-led research methodologies in the visual arts. Told through the author's own perspective as an artist and examining the work of Julie Gough, Yuki Kihara, Megan Cope, Yhonnie Scarce, Lisa Reihana and Karla Dickens, the book develops a number of unique theories for configuring the relationship between art and a troubled past. Australia's

Empire Deryck Marshall Schreuder, Stuart Ward, 2008-02-07 Australia's Empire is the first collaborative evaluation of Australia's imperial experience in more than a generation. Bringing together political, cultural and aboriginal understandings of the past, it argues that the legacies of empire continue to influence the fabric of modern Australian society. A Companion to Nineteenth-Century Art Michelle Facos, 2018-09-10 A comprehensive review of art in the first truly modern century. A Companion to Nineteenth Century Art contains contributions from an international panel of noted experts to offer a broad overview of both national and transnational developments, as well as new and innovative investigations of individual art works, artists and issues. The text puts to rest the skewed perception of nineteenth century art as primarily Paris-centric by including major developments beyond the French borders. The contributors present a more holistic and nuanced understanding of the art world during this first modern century. In addition to highlighting particular national identities of artists, A Companion to Nineteenth Century Art also puts the focus on other aspects of identity including individual, ethnic, gender and religious. The text explores a wealth of relevant topics such as the challenges the artists faced, how artists learned their craft and how they met clients, the circumstances that affected artists' choices and the opportunities they encountered, and where the public and critics experienced art. This important text offers a comprehensive review of nineteenth century art that covers the most pressing issues and significant artists of the era. Covers a wealth of important topics such as ethnic and gender identity, certain general trends in the nineteenth century, an overview of the art market during the period and much more. Presents novel and valuable insights into familiar works and their artists. Written for students of art history and those studying the history of the nineteenth century. A Companion to Nineteenth Century Art offers a comprehensive review of the first modern era of art with contributions from noted experts in the field. Australian Art in the National Gallery of

Australia National Gallery of Australia, Anne Gray, 2002 Australian art in the National Gallery of Australia The Vision

Splendid Stephanie Owen Reeder, 2011 The Vision Splendid features the sketchbooks of 22 nineteenth century artists ranging from well known professionals like Eugene von Gu rard and John Glover to amateurs about whom little is known These artists engineers surveyors military men solicitors public servants and pastoralists all delighted in recording what they saw and then sharing it with family friends and the wider public The sketches reveal what colonial life in Australia was like at that time both in the country and in the city and the challenges the artists faced depicting landscapes that were so different from those in Europe Australian and New Zealand Journal of Art, 2001 S.T. Gill & His Audiences Sasha Grishin, 2015-07-01 Samuel Thomas Gill or STG as he was universally known was Australia s most significant and popular artist of the mid nineteenth century For his contemporaries he epitomised Marvellous Melbourne basking in the glow of the gold rushes He worked in South Australia Victoria and New South Wales and left some of the most memorable images of urban and rural life in colonial Australia A passionate defender of Indigenous Australians and of the environment Gill in his art celebrated the emerging quintessential Australian character This is the first major comprehensive book to be devoted to Gill and presents a radical reassessment of one of the most important figures in Australian colonial art and reproduces in some instances for the first time some of the most startling images from nineteenth century Australian art There will be an exhibition of S T Gill s work at the State Library of Victoria in July 2015 and at the National Library of Australia in June 2016 plus smaller shows in regional Victorian galleries In association with the State Library of Victoria The Last Man Tom Lawson, 2014-01-27 Little more than seventy years after the British settled Van Diemen s Land later Tasmania in 1803 the indigenous community had been virtually wiped out Yet this genocide at the hands of the British is virtually forgotten today The Last Man is the first book specifically to explore the role of the British government and wider British society in this genocide It positions the destruction as a consequence of British policy and ideology in the region Tom Lawson shows how Britain practised cultural destruction and then came to terms with and evaded its genocidal imperial past Although the introduction of European diseases undoubtedly contributed to the decline in the indigenous population Lawson shows that the British government supported what was effectively the ethnic cleansing of Tasmania particularly in the period of martial law in 1828 1832 By 1835 the vast majority of the surviving indigenous community had been deported to Flinders Island where the British government took a keen interest in the attempt to transform them into Christians and Englishmen in a campaign of cultural genocide Lawson also illustrates the ways in which the destruction of indigenous Tasmanians was reflected in British culture both at the time and since and how it came to play a key part in forging particular versions of British imperial identity Laments for the lost Tasmanians were a common theme in literary and museum culture and the mistaken assumption that Tasmanians were doomed to complete extinction was an important part of the emerging science of human origins By exploring the memory of destruction The Last Man provides the first comprehensive picture of the British role in the destruction of the Tasmanian Aboriginal population 19th Century Australian Watercolours, Drawings & Pastels

Art Gallery of New South Wales, Hendrik Kolenberg, Anne Denham Ryan, Patricia Mary James, 2005 This is the fourth in our series of publications concerned with the gallery's extensive and exceptional Australian works on paper collection The selection for this publication and exhibition is by Hendrik Kolenberg Senior Prints Drawings and Watercolours and Patricia James one of our longest serving and most trusted Gallery Volunteers

Early Painters of Australia, 1788-1880 Shar Jones, 1988 A survey of early Australian painting from 1788 to 1880 in which social influences and trends in art are well explained Although many of the works featured are amateur in approach the historical viewpoint is interesting and the more professional colonial artists are well documented Precursors to the Heidelberg School such as Von Guerard and Buvelot are placed in their artistic and social context There are 148 numbered colour plates many full page each refers to a list with details about the paintings Well presented and easy to read the book would lend itself well to the study of Australian art the colonial art theme in year 11

Landscapes of Power Margot Ruth Winer, 1994

Public Understanding of Science David Knight, 2006-10-16 Answering questions such as whether the interesting parts of science be conveyed in sermons poems pictures and journalism Knight explores the history of science to show how the successes and failures of our ancestors can help us understand the position science comes to occupy now

Drawing in Australia Andrew Sayers, 1989 This beautifully illustrated book is an informative and fascinating chronological survey of Australian drawing since 1770 Defining a drawing as any unique work on paper Sayer examines a wide range of them in relation to the social influences of the period in which they were created the genre and the medium and discusses stylistic changes and changes in perception such as in the many revivals that drawing has experienced since the 1920 s He also provides drawings of natural history Aborigines and landscape portraits scenes of contemporary life of the 1850 s decorative drawing watercolors and examples of surrealistic techniques

Aboriginal Art Donna Leslie, 2008 Donna Leslie a Post doctoral Research Fellow at The University of Melbourne sets out to demonstrate how Aboriginal art has questioned the assimilationist policies which prevailed in Australia from the 1930s to the 1970s Her rigorous and sustained argument supported by an impressive array of important visual images reveals an extensive grasp of issues relating not only to the practice and history of art but also in fields of anthropology ethnology and sociology The book is a rare presentation of aspects of the history of Aboriginal art from an Aboriginal perspective and provides fresh ways of understanding Aboriginal experience While the author acknowledges the problems faced by Aboriginal peoples particularly those associated with the former policy of assimilation her message is positive and encourages a deepening understanding of Aboriginal art culture and peoples in the spirit of reconciliation Moreover she addresses the development of Aboriginal art in the modern Australian city as well as in the more traditional environment of the land
