magazine The Education of a Speculator is the first meaningful book on speculating. Successful speculating is as fine an art as chess, checkers, fishing, poker, tennis, painting, and music. Niederhoffer brings forth the best from each of these fields and shows the investor how their principles can enrich one's life and net worth. Martin Edelston, President, Boardroom Inc., publishers of Boardroom Classics and Bottom Line Personal, with an original mind and an eclectic approach, Victor Niederhoffer takes the reader from Brighton Beach to Wall Street, visiting all stops of interest along the way. Moore on his 75th birthday, who joined the National Bureau of Economic Research in 1939 and was also Professor Emeritus at New York University. He progressed through many levels: research assistant, staff member, associate director of research, director of research, vice president of research, director of business cycle research, and most recently, membership on the Bureau's Board of Directors and its Executive and other Committees. Moore was prominently involved in the creation, development, and continuing improvement of a system of leading, lagging, and coincident indicators, an achievement of greatest importance. Commerce Business Daily, 2000.

Identifying Patterns in Financial Markets João Leitão, Rui Ferreira Neves, Nuno C.G. Horta, 2017-12-26. This book describes a new pattern discovery approach based on the combination among rules between Perceptually Important Points (PIPs) and the Symbolic Aggregate approximation (SAX) representation optimized by Genetic Algorithm (GA). The proposed approach was tested with real data from the S&P 500 index, and all the results obtained outperformed the Buy-Hold strategy. Three different case studies are presented by the authors.

Agent-Based Computational Economics Shu-Heng Chen, 2017-09-19. This book aims to answer two questions that are fundamental to the study of agent-based economic models: what is agent-based computational economics, and why do we need agent-based economic modelling of the economy? This book provides a review of the development of agent-based computational economics (ACE) from a perspective on how artificial economic agents are designed under the influences of complex sciences: experimental economics, artificial intelligence, evolutionary biology, psychology, anthropology, and neuroscience. This book begins with a historical review of ACE by tracing its origins. From a modelling viewpoint, ACE brings truly decentralized procedures into market analysis, from a single market to the whole economy. This book also reviews how experimental economics and artificial intelligence have shaped the development of ACE. For the former, the book discusses how ACE models can be used to analyse the economic consequences of cognitive capacity, personality, and cultural inheritance. For the latter, the book covers the various tools used to construct artificial adaptive agents, including reinforcement learning, fuzzy decision rules, neural networks, and evolutionary computation. This book will be of interest to graduate students researching computational economics, experimental economics, behavioural economics, and research methodology.
