Stokers Submarine:

Australian Submarines Vol 2 Michael White, 2015-11-01 The book commences with a discussion of the policy issues as to whether Australia needed submarines and then the decision to buy AE1 and AE2 It then goes through their coming to Australia the tragic loss of AE1 in New Guinea on 14 September 1914 and the bravery and daring of the AE2 crew in penetrating the Dardanelles on Anzac Day in 1915 The history then goes on to deal with the J Class submarines that came to Australia in 1919 the first Oxley and Otway which went to the RN in the Depression in 1931 and the fact that in World War Two Australia had no submarines except for the Dutch K IX whose career ended with a battery explosion in 1944 Then the period of the RN Fourth Submarine Squadron based in Sydney is dealt with including some of the happy memories of those who served in it The book sets out the story of the new RAN submarine arm from 1963 When Oxley S 57 arrived in Neutral Bay Sydney in 1967 so began the new Australian era of submarines The basic dates of the O Boats are outlined along with the building and basic dates of the Collins class The book deals with some of the issues about the intelligence patrols about the Future Submarine and also records the numerous plaques services memorials and museums in Australia and overseas dedicated to Australian submarines and Australian and NZ submariners There is a detailed chapter on special submarine craft such as the X Craft in which some of the submarine heroes like Max Sheean Henty Henty Creer and Ken Briggs served and in some cases died The appendices to this book are numerous and detailed by a strong team from around the world including Garry Mellon Barrie Downer and Pat Heffernan Numerous photographs have been collected and included in the book to fit in with the text from Darren Brown and others The appendices also list all Australian submariners who have qualified and served up until mid 2014 including those who have died

The Submarine Service, 1900-1918 Nicholas Lambert, 2020-11-26 The year 2001 marks the centenary of the Royal Navy's submarine service In the aftermath of the 2016 celebrations of the Battle of Jutland centenary it is worth considering how the First World War at sea changed This volume opens with an examination of the background to the Board of Admiralty's decision in 1900 to buy submarines bringing to light documents that go a long way toward dispelling the myth that Britain's pre 1914 naval leaders were opposed to the development of the submarine as a major weapon Indeed the documents show that senior naval officers and influential civilians in Whitehall believed that the advent of the submarine would revolutionize naval warfare in a way that would bolster the Royal Navy's position as the world's predominant naval power This edited selection of documents illustrates not only the Admiralty's thinking on the employment of the submarine between 1900 and 1918 it also charts the technical development of British submarines and explains issues such as why the pioneer submariners came to regard themselves as an elite group within the Royal Navy and were allowed to become the silent service

Submarine and Anti-submarine Henry John Sir Newbolt, 2023-10-28 In Submarine and Anti submarine Henry John Sir Newbolt presents a meticulous examination of naval warfare during the early 20th century particularly focusing on the strategic interplay between submarine and anti submarine tactics Newbolt employs a clear engaging literary style blending technical analysis with historical narrative which situates the book within the context of World War I naval strategy He skillfully navigates the complexities of emerging submarine technology and its implications for naval power reflecting the anxieties and innovations characteristic of this turbulent era Newbolt a prominent British poet historian and public figure was deeply invested in the naval traditions of his time having served in various capacities that provided him with firsthand insight into military affairs His commitment to capturing the essence of nautical strategy and its ramifications was likely fueled by both his literary inclinations and his experiences as a lifelong advocate for the Royal Navy This unique perspective allows Newbolt to articulate the tension between aggression and defense within maritime operations a theme that resonates throughout the text Submarine and Anti submarine is invaluable for historians and military enthusiasts alike as it offers a profound understanding of naval doctrine and its evolution Newbolt's ability to distill complex concepts into accessible prose makes this work both informative and engaging For those interested in the intricacies of maritime warfare and its historical context this book is an essential addition to their library

The Hunting Submarine Ian Trenowden, 2014-06-24 HMS Tally Ho captained by Commander L W A Bennington was a T class submarine which achieved spectacular success in the Second World War Her name was chosen for her by Winston Churchill and it proved a very suitable one for a hunting submarine In a single wartime commission lasting from 15th March 1943 to 26th February 1945 she operated in the Malacca Strait Here surrounded by enemy air bases and in badly charted shallow waters so shallow many experts considered them completely unsuitable for submarine operations she took a heavy toll of enemy warships and supply vessels The boat her captain and her crew are all vividly portrayed in this exciting chronicle which is the fruit of wide and detailed research

The Navy List, 1925 A Submariner's Story Joel C. E. Blamey, 2002 After six years in the Royal Navy Joel Blamey was conscripted into Britain's submarine service in 1926 aged 22 He went on to serve an unprecedented 28 years as a submariner surviving peacetime accidents and World War II At the age of 50 Joe returned to general service He served on several submarines and survived several accidents such as hitting an underwater pinnacle in Sidon and a collision in Seahorse from which he was transferred before it was lost to enemy action The National Engineer, 1925 Vols 34 contain official N A P E directory Naval Eyewitnesses James Goulty, 2022-11-04 Goulty tells the story from the perspective of the ordinary sailor or officer who was there The Northern Mariner Although many books have been written about naval actions during the Second World War histories and memoirs in particular few books have attempted to encompass the extraordinary variety of the experience of the war at sea That is why James Goult's vivid survey is of such value Sailors in the Royal Navy and the Merchant Navy experienced a war fought on a massive scale on every ocean of the world in a diverse range of vessels from battleships aircraft carriers and submarines to merchant ships and fishing boats Their recollections are as varied as the ships they served in and they take the reader through the entire maritime war as it was perceived at the time by those who had direct personal knowledge of it Throughout the book the emphasis is on the experience of individuals their recruitment and training their expectations and the reality they encountered on active service in many different offensive and defensive roles including convoy duty and coastal defence amphibious operations hunting U boats and surface raiders mine sweeping and manning landing and rescue craft A particularly graphic section describes in the words of the sailors themselves what action against the enemy felt like and the impact of casualties seamen who were wounded or killed on board or were lost when their ships sank A fascinating inside view of the maritime warfare emerges which may be less heroic than the image created by some post war accounts but it gives readers today a much more realistic impression of the whole gamut of wartime life at sea

The Price of Victory: A Naval History of Britain: 1815-1945 N. A. M. Rodger, 2025-05-13 The final installment of N A M Rodger's definitive authoritative trilogy on Britain's naval history Across two acclaimed volumes preeminent naval historian N A M Rodger has traced the progress of naval warfare in Britain from the seventh century through to Trafalgar combining decades of scholarship with original insights and analysis In this final volume N A M Rodger delivers a magisterial history of the Royal Navy beginning after its defeat of Napoleon and concluding in 1945 with the Second World War At the end of the French and Napoleonic Wars British sea power was at its apogee But by 1840 as one contemporary commentator put it the Admiralty was full of intellects becalmed in the smoke of Trafalgar How the Royal Navy reformed and reinvigorated itself in the course of the nineteenth century is just one thread in this magnificent book which refuses to accept standard assumptions and analyses Rodger's comprehensive narrative goes beyond the conduct of war at sea to tell a sprawling story of naval warfare as a national endeavor As in previous volumes the social history of officers and men and now also women has a prominent place Along the way he describes the development and strategic significance of submarine and navy air forces and the rapid evolution of weapons and ships from classic Nelsonian type to hybrid steam sail ships then armor clad and the fully armored Dreadnoughts and beyond He assesses the character and importance of leading admirals Beatty Fisher Cunningham together with the roles of other less famous but no less consequential figures Rodger sets all this in the essential context of politics and geo strategy Based on a lifetime's learning The Price of Victory is a masterful culmination of one of the most significant British historical works in recent decades Naval specialists will find much that is new and will be invigorated by the originality of Rodger's judgments but everyone who is interested in one of the central threads in British history will find it rewarding

Hertfordshire Soldiers of The Great War Paul Johnson, Dan

Hill,2020-05-30 Collected first hand accounts of British men and women serving their country during World War I as discovered through the Herts At War community project In Hertfordshire Soldiers of The First World War the authors explore a series of individual case studies of Hertfordshire men who served in various theaters during the First World War all of which had been uncovered as part of the Herts At War community project This unique collection of largely unknown accounts includes stories from the Western Front Gallipoli Salonika Mesopotamia East Africa Egypt and even Russia in the fight against the Bolsheviks in 1919 The Herts At War team uncovered many letters and objects in the course of their research including men who were Victoria Cross winners to those whose courage or bravery went unrecognized as well as stoicism on the Home Front One of the most moving of these surrounds a photograph which was found in the hands of Sergeant Percy Buck as he lay fatally wounded in a shell hole in 1917 On the back of the photograph of his wife and young son he had written his address and asked for whoever found the image to post it to his loved ones in the event of his death Sergeant Buck would have assumed it would be a British comrade who would find the photograph but the person who recovered it was a German soldier who subsequently sent it on to the grieving but grateful family The war memorials of Hertfordshire contain the names of over 23 000 men and women who gave their lives whilst in the service of their country during the Great War some of their tales are uncovered here Indeed the poignant collection of stories anecdotes and artifacts revealed in this book bring the First World War to life in an unusual and highly moving fashion United Services and Empire Review ,1925

Industrial World ,1913 American Manufacturer and Trade of the West ,1913 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1903 Proceedings of the United States Naval Institute United States Naval Institute,1923 Down to the Sea in Submarines Dan Conley,2024-08-20 This unique memoir charts the career of the author in the Royal Navy Submarine Service during the period 1967 to 1997 and in doing so details many of the Silent Service s remarkable achievements since the end of the Second World War And it provides a dramatic first hand account of the underwater confrontation during the Cold War between submarines of the West and the huge submarine force of the Soviet Union Dan Conley narrates the successive stages from his basic submarine training to taking command of two nuclear attack submarines but he does not demur from describing the personal and professional difficulties he encountered in this journey He sets out in detail what life was like serving onboard both diesel and nuclear submarines and in particular the book describes the British submariner s remarkable transformation from the somewhat buccaneering free spirit serving on a clapped out WW2 boat during the sunset of the British Empire to the highly professional individual who spends prolonged periods under the sea in a platform which matches the complexity of a space craft The book describes the long and difficult challenges encountered in developing effective weapon systems for the British submarine force and discusses the difficulties and shortcomings in the UK s defense procurement system a situation which still exists today Ultimately however Western technological superiority and crew proficiency enabled the submarines of the Royal and United States Navies to match those of the Soviet Union and he describes vividly the suspense and tension of underwater confrontations which might so easily have escalated to another dimension of warfare And the book sets out hitherto undisclosed details of submarine activities during the 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis when the world confronted the real possibility of a massive nuclear exchange But it is not all serious content and he also offers a glimpse for the reader of many humorous situations and events of animals that found themselves under the sea in a submarine in one case during a war patrol and other moments of levity that broke the tension of serving in a highly complex and sophisticated fighting machine The Cold War era is now long past However it is evident that as the West now confronts an aggressive recidivist Russia and a more aggressive China Britain's submarine force once again will be key to the security of all its citizens This fine memoir captures vividly the key events and history of the Cold War and in doing so will open the reader's eyes to the significance and importance today of the Royal Navy Submarine Service Praise for the author's previous work Cold War Command A wonderful book full of information momentum excitement and humanity Highly recommended The Mariner's Mirror Electrical World ,1923

Fremantle's Submarines Michael Sturma,2015-09-15 From unpromising beginnings in March 1942 the Allied submarine base at Fremantle on the west coast of Australia became a vital part of the Allied offensive against Japan Pushed back from the Philippines and the Netherlands East Indies American submariners accompanied by a small group of Dutch forces retreated to Fremantle as a last resort The location was chosen for its good harbor and the fact that it was outside the range of land based Japanese aircraft Unfortunately the base was also far from their patrol areas and supply lines and it was difficult to reinforce should the enemy attack Thanks largely to a welcoming civilian population morale quickly improved The hospitality and sense of belonging fostered by Western Australians became legendary among Allied submariners and remains central to their wartime memories Perhaps as a result of such a positive experience the Allied forces became much more successful in combat Intertwining social and military history Fremantle's Submarines relates how courage cooperation and community made Fremantle arguably the most successful military outpost of World War II from the standpoint of troop morale Australian Submarines M. W. D. White,1992 The story of Australia's Submarine Service which began life with two boats in WWI and was disbanded three times 1914 15 1919 24 and 1926 31 but finally reformed in 1965 The history details the circumstances of this start stop record and brings the story right up to the present when Collins class submarines are being constructed in Adelaide for the RAN Includes numerous appendices a bibliography and an index The author now a barrister was formerly an officer on the submarine HMAS Otway
