Stolen Life The Journey Of A Cree Woman:

Stolen Life Yvonne Johnson, Rudy Wiebe, 2012-07-31 Written with primal intensity touched with redeeming compassion Rudy Wiebe has explored our history our roots and the secrets of our hearts with moral seriousness and great feeling Governor General s Award for Fiction Citation 1994 A powerful major work of non fiction beautifully written from the twice winner of the Governor General s Award for Fiction and the great great granddaughter of Big Bear This is a story about justice and terrible injustices a story about a murder and a courtroom drama as compelling as any thriller as it unravels the events that put Yvonne Johnson behind bars for life first in Kingston s Federal Prison for Women until the riot that closed it and presently in the Okimaw Ochi Healing Lodge in the Cypress Hills But above all it is the unforgettable true story of the life of a Native woman who has decided to speak out and break the silence written with the redeeming compassion that marks all Rudy Wiebe s writing and informed throughout by Yvonne Johnson s own intelligence and poetic eloquence Characters and events spring to life with the vividness of fiction The story is told sometimes in the first person by Rudy Wiebe sometimes by Yvonne herself He tracks down the details of Yvonne s early life in Butte Montana as a child with a double cleft palate unable to speak until the kindness of one man provided the necessary operations the murder of her beloved brother while in police custody her life of sexual abuse at the hands of another brother grandfather and others her escape to Canada to Winnipeg and Wetaskiwin the traumas of her life that led to alcoholism and her slow descent into hell despite the love she found with her husband and three children He reveals how she participated with three others in the murder of the man she believed to be a child abuser he unravels the police story taking us step by step with jail taped transcripts through the police attempts to set one member of the group against the others in their search for a conviction and the courtroom drama that followed And Yvonne openly examines her life and through her grandmother comes to understand the legacy she has inherited from her ancestor Big Bear having been led through pain to wisdom she brings us with her to the point where she finds spiritual strength in passing on the lessons and understandings of her life How the great great granddaughter of Big Bear reached out to the author of The Temptations of Big Bear to help her tell her story is itself an extraordinary tale The co authorship between one of Canada s foremost writers and the only Native woman in Canada serving life imprisonment for murder has produced a deeply moving raw and honest book that speaks to all of us and gives us new insight into the society we live in while offering a deeply moving affirmation of spiritual healing

Is Canada Postcolonial? Laura Moss, 2009-08-01 How can postcolonialism be applied to Canadian literature In all that has been written about postcolonialism surprisingly little has specifically addressed the position of Canada Canadian literature or Canadian culture Postcolonialism is a theory that has gained credence throughout the world it is be productive to ask if and how we as Canadians participate in postcolonial debates It is also vital to examine the ways in which Canada and Canadian culture fit into global discussions as our culture reflects how we interact with our neighbours allies and adversaries This collection

wrestles with the problems of situating Canadian literature in the ongoing debates about culture identity and globalization and of applying the slippery term of postcolonialism to Canadian literature The topics range in focus from discussions of specific literary works to general theoretical contemplations The twenty three articles in this collection grapple with the recurrent issues of postcolonialism including hybridity collaboration marginality power resistance and historical revisionism from the vantage point of those working within Canada as writers and critics While some seek to confirm the legitimacy of including Canadian literature in the discussions of postcolonialism others challenge this very notion

The Journey of a Tzotzil-Maya Woman of Chiapas, Mexico Christine Eber, 2011-11-01 Most recent books about Chiapas Mexico focus on political conflicts and the indigenous movement for human rights at the macro level None has explored those conflicts and struggles in depth through an individual woman's life story The Journey of a Tzotzil Maya Woman of Chiapas Mexico now offers that perspective in one woman's own words Anthropologist Christine Eber met Antonia in 1986 and has followed her life's journey ever since In this book they recount Antonia's life story and also reflect on challenges and rewards they have experienced in working together offering insight into the role of friendship in anthropological research as well as into the transnational movement of solidarity with the indigenous people of Chiapas that began with the Zapatista uprising Antonia was born in 1962 in San Pedro Chenalh a Tzotzil Maya township in highland Chiapas Her story begins with memories of childhood and progresses to young adulthood when Antonia began working with women in her community to form weaving cooperatives while also becoming involved in the Word of God the progressive Catholic movement known elsewhere as Liberation Theology In 1994 as a wife and mother of six children she joined a support base for the Zapatista Army of National Liberation Recounting her experiences in these three interwoven movements Antonia offers a vivid and nuanced picture of working for social justice while trying to remain true to her people's traditions

Indigenous Women and Feminism Cheryl Suzack, Shari M. Huhndorf, Jeanne Perreault, Jean Barman, 2011-01-01 Can the specific concerns of Indigenous women be addressed within current mainstream feminist and post colonial discussions Indigenous Women and Feminism Politics Activism Culture proposes that a dynamic new line of inquiry Indigenous feminism is necessary to truly engage with the crucial issues of cultural identity nationalism and decolonization particular to Indigenous contexts Through the lenses of politics activism and culture the questions at the heart of this collection What is at stake in conceptualizing Indigenous feminism How does feminism relate to Indigenous claims to land and sovereignty What lessons can we learn from the past How do Indigenous women engage ongoing violence and social and political marginalization cross disciplinary national academic and activist boundaries to explore deeply the unique political and social positions of Indigenous women A vital and sophisticated discussion these timely essays will change the way we think about modern feminism and Indigenous women

The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole Defamiliarizing the

Aboriginal Julia Emberley, 2007-01-01 In Defamiliarizing the Aboriginal Julia V Emberley examines the historical production of aboriginality in colonial cultural practices and its impact on the everyday lives of indigenous women youth and children

Marginality and Condemnation, 3rd Edition Carolyn Brooks, Bernard Schissel, 2021-12-13T00:00:00Z Includes test bank and PowerPoint slides for professors who have adopted the text in their course Contact examrequest fernpub ca for more information This well received criminology textbook now in its third edition argues that crime must be understood as both a social and a political phenomenon Using this lens Marginality and Condemnation contends that what is defined as criminal how we respond to crime and why individuals behave in anti social ways are often the result of individual and systemic social inequalities and disparities in power Beginning with an overview of criminological discourse mainstream approaches and new directions in criminological theory the book is then divided into sections based on key social inequalities of class gender race and age each of which begins with an outline of the general issues for understanding crime and an introduction that guides readers through the empirical chapters that follow The studies provide insights into general issues in criminology ranging from the historical and current nature of crime and criminal justice to the various responses to criminality Readers are encouraged and challenged to understand crime and justice through concrete analyses rather than abstract argumentation In addition to a new introductory chapter that confronts how we define crime measure crime and understand and use criminology in this millennium the third edition provides new chapters examining crime in relation to the environment terrorism masculinity children and youth and Aboriginal gangs and the legacy of colonialism Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists Tim Woods, 2008-02-21 Taking in novelists from all over the globe from the beginning of the century to the present day this is the most comprehensive survey of the leading lights of twentieth century fiction Superb breadth of coverage and over 800 entries by an international team of contributors ensures that this fascinating and wide ranging work of reference will be invaluable to anyone with an interest in modern fiction Authors included range from Joseph Conrad to Albert Camus and Franz Kafka to Chinua Achebe Who's Who of Twentieth Century Novelists gives a superb insight into the richness and diversity of the twentieth century novel Walking a Tightrope David T. McNab, Ute

Lischke, 2005-03-15 The most we can hope for is that we are paraphrased correctly In this statement Lenore Keeshig Tobias underscores one of the main issues in the representation of Aboriginal peoples by non-Aboriginals Non-Aboriginal people often fail to understand the sheer diversity, multiplicity and shifting identities of Aboriginal people As a result Aboriginal people are often taken out of their own contexts Walking a Tightrope plays an important role in the dynamic historical process of ongoing change in the representation of Aboriginal peoples It locates and examines the multiplicity and distinctiveness of Aboriginal voices and their representations both as they portray themselves and as others have characterized them In addition to exploring perspectives and approaches to the representation of Aboriginal peoples it also looks at Native notions of time, history, land, cultures, identities and literacies Until these are understood by non-Aboriginals Aboriginal people will continue to be misrepresented both as individuals and as groups By acknowledging the complex and unique legal and historical status of Aboriginal peoples we can begin to understand the culture of Native peoples in North America Until then given the strength of stereotypes Native people have come to expect no better representation than a paraphrase In the Interval of the Wave Mary McDonald-Rissanen, 2013-12-01 Taking its title from a poem by Prince

Edward Island poet Anne Compton In the Interval of the Wave is a close study of diaries written by Prince Edward Island women in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Women from both rural and urban regions of the Island recorded their lives in a genre that allowed them to play with the conventions of the language they knew For busy farm wives their quotidian language, syntax and choice of topic appear simple whereas for the urban elite like Margaret Gray Lord and Wanda Wyatt the erudition of their diaries suggests a more leisured existence Mary McDonald-Rissanen argues that the initial reception of the text, its physical appearance, handwriting, gaps and flood of words provides interesting insights for understanding the circumstances of Prince Edward Island women from times past Intertextual readings of the diaries alongside other cultural artifacts such as paintings, histories, folk stories and songs embellish the idiosyncratic diary discourse Diaries enabled women to write their voices, create a subjective identity and redefine their place in the world In the Interval of the Wave exposes lives lived and recorded in a special moment and place never far from the rhythm of the sea

Saskatchewan Writers University of Regina, Canadian Plains Research Center, 2004 The more than 175 biographies in this volume together tell the story of writing in Saskatchewan As David Carpenter notes in his Introduction to the volume The writers whose lives are told in these pages are part of an extraordinary cultural community that has touched and been touched by the people and landscape of this province      First Person Plural Sophie McCall, 2011-05-15 In this innovative exploration told to narratives or collaboratively produced texts by Aboriginal storytellers and usually non Aboriginal writers are not romanticized as unmediated translations of oral documents nor are they dismissed as corruptions of original works Rather the approach emphasizes the interpenetration of authorship and collaboration Focused on the 1990s when debates over voice and representation were particularly explosive this comprehensive study examines a range of told to narratives ethnography life narrative documentary in conjunction with key political events that have shaped the struggle for Aboriginal rights in Canada Emphasizing the scope rather than the limits of the told to narrative McCall considers how Aboriginal voices have been represented in a variety of forums such as public inquiries commissioners reports and land claims cases A captivating inquiry First Person Plural offers a vital interdisciplinary discussion of how told to narratives contribute to larger debates about Indigenous voice and literary and political sovereignty      Writing in Dust Jenny Kerber, 2011-03-17 Writing in Dust is the first sustained study of prairie Canadian literature from an ecocritical perspective Drawing on recent scholarship in environmental theory and criticism Jenny Kerber considers the ways in which prairie writers have negotiated processes of ecological and cultural change in the region from the early twentieth century to the present The book begins by proposing that current environmental problems in the prairie region can be understood by examining the longstanding tendency to describe its diverse terrain in dualistic terms either as an idyllic natural space or as an irredeemable wasteland It inquires into the sources of stories that naturalize ecological prosperity and hardship and investigates how such narratives have been deployed from the period of colonial settlement to the present It then considers the ways in which works by both canonical and more recent writers ranging from Robert Stead W O Mitchell and Margaret Laurence to Tim Lilburn Louise Halfe and Thomas King consistently challenge these dualistic landscape myths proposing alternatives for the development of more ecologically just and sustainable relationships among people and between humans and their physical environments Writing in Dust asserts that reading environmentally can help us to better understand a host of issues facing prairie inhabitants today including the environmental impacts of industrial agriculture resource extraction climate change shifting urban rural demographics the significance of Indigenous understandings of human nature relationships and the complex often contradictory meanings of eco cultural metaphors of alien invasiveness hybridity and wildness      The Encyclopedia of Twentieth-Century Fiction, 3 Volume Set Brian W. Shaffer, 2011-01-18 This Encyclopedia offers an indispensable reference guide to twentieth century fiction in the English language With nearly 500 contributors and over one million words it is the most comprehensive and authoritative reference guide to twentieth century fiction in the English language Contains over 500 entries of 1000 3000 words written in lucid jargon free prose by an international cast of leading scholars Arranged in three volumes covering British and Irish Fiction American Fiction and World Fiction with each volume edited by a leading scholar in the field Entries cover major writers such as Saul Bellow Raymond Chandler John Steinbeck Virginia Woolf A S

Byatt Samuel Beckett D H Lawrence Zadie Smith Salman Rushdie V S Naipaul Nadine Gordimer Alice Munro Chinua Achebe J M Coetzee and Ng g Wa Thiong o and their key works Examines the genres and sub genres of fiction in English across the twentieth century including crime fiction Sci Fi chick lit the noir novel and the avant garde novel as well as the major movements debates and rubrics within the field such as censorship globalization modernist fiction fiction and the film industry and the fiction of migration diaspora and exile      Miscarriages of Justice in Canada Kathryn M. Campbell,

Ethical Encounters Janne Korkka, 2013-09-01 The problems of knowing and representing the other are acute every time we encounter a text as writers or readers Ethical Encounters engages with the representation of encounters with alterity in the writings of the Canadian author Rudy Wiebe Drawing on Emmanuel Levinas s philosophy on the ethics of encountering the other the book argues that Wiebe s writings show that the self s knowledge offers an inadequate basis for ethically valid representations of those encounters In the search for ethical ways of engaging with alterity Wiebe s writings offer new ways of employing silence and the presence of the unknowable as means to explore encounters with alterity Ethical Encounters shows that dividing Wiebe s work into two sharply distinct categories of Mennonite and First Nations writings overlooks important connections between the author s central works and may seriously hinder the interrogation of narrative engagement with alterity While such human encounters resonate against ethical strategies of representation the greatest challenge for the ethics of encounter in Wiebe s texts arises in encounters with the alterity of space Ethical Encounters engages with both physical and narrative spaces which are not permanently fixed in landscape or geography or in human perceptions of place arguing that the most radical expressions of alterity in Wiebe s writings emerge in encounters with the spaces of the Canadian North The study raises questions about the relationship between the self and the other as they concern knowing what does the self know when it claims to know another person or space How does the narrating self negotiate the seeming collapse of its own knowledge when it encounters others whose stories cannot be known Ethical Encounters casts new light not just on Wiebe s writings but also on how we as authors and readers engage with expressions of alterity which refuse to be transformed into familiar knowable forms Janne Korkka is post doctoral researcher and coordinator of the North American Studies programme in the Department of English University of Turku Finland His main research interests lie in the problems of representing space and encountering alterity in Canadian writing He is co editor of Seeking the Self Encountering the Other Diasporic Narrative and the Ethics of Representation 2008 He teaches Canadian and postcolonial literatures and North American Studies and publishes mainly on Canadian writing      Forgiveness and Revenge Trudy Govier, 2011-02-25 This is a powerful exploration of our attitudes to serious wrong doings and a careful examination of the values that underlie our thinking about revenge and forgiveness This text examines the impact of revenge and forgiveness      Auto/biography in Canada Julie Rak, 2009-08-02 Auto biography in Canada Critical Directions widens the field of auto biography studies with its sophisticated multidisciplinary perspectives on the theory criticism and practice of self community and representation Rather than considering autobiography and biography as discrete genres with definable properties and rather than focusing on critical approaches the essays explore auto biography as a discourse about identity and representation in the context of numerous disciplinary shifts Auto biography in Canada looks at how life narratives are made in Canada Originating from literary studies history and social work the essays in this collection cover topics that range from queer Canadian autobiography autobiography and autism and newspaper death notices as biography to Canadian autobiography and the Holocaust Grey Owl and authenticity France Th oret and autofiction and a new reading of Stolen Life the collaborative text by Yvonne Johnson and Rudy Wiebe Julie Rak s useful big picture introduction traces the history of auto biography studies in Canada While the contributors chart disciplinary shifts taking place in auto biography studies their essays are also part of the ongoing scholarship that is remaking ways to understand Canada

Defending Battered Women on Trial Elizabeth A. Sheehy, 2013-12-15 In the landmark Lavallee decision of 1990 the Supreme Court of Canada ruled that evidence of battered woman syndrome was admissible in establishing self defence for women accused of killing their abusive partners This book looks at the legal response to battered women who killed their partners in the fifteen years since Lavallee Elizabeth Sheehy uses trial transcripts and a case study approach to tell the stories of eleven women ten of whom killed their partners She looks at the barriers women face to just leaving the various ways in which self defence was argued in these cases and which form of expert testimony was used to frame women s experience of battering Drawing upon a rich expanse of research from many disciplines she highlights the limitations of the law of self defence and the costs to women undergoing a murder trial In a final chapter she proposes numerous reforms In Canada a woman is killed every six days by her male partner and about twelve women per year kill their male partners By illuminating the cases of eleven women this book highlights the barriers to leaving violent men and the practical and legal dilemmas that face battered women on trial for murder
