Bannister,2022-07-19 Reprint of the original first published in 1871 Stella Siegfried Lenz,2010-08-03 In a small town on the Baltic coast in a community steeped in maritime industries and local mores a teenager falls in love with his English professor Christian looks older than his years Stella younger than hers The summer they spend together is filled with boat rides to Bird Island secret walks on the beach and furtive glances The emotions that blossom between Christian and Stella are aflame with passion and innocence and with an idealistic hope of a future The two lovers manage to keep their mutual attraction concealed but as the hot months comes to an end their meetings become more difficult to conceal Stella begins at the end at Stella Petersen s memorial service where Christian relives the memories he shared with his first love There is nothing salacious about their relationship nor is it just a case of a teenager s crush on his teacher Their affair changes both Christian and Stella allows them to expand their views and pushes them out of social and familial constraints Theirs is a tender love story of a time and yet speaks to any time it is actually through death that their love is transformed The sparseness of Siegfried Lenz s narrative is reminiscent of the existential stringency of Ernest Hemingway Only a master stylist of his standing could compose such a story that is equally modest and powerful a work that leaves a lasting authentic impression and that strives to comply with W H Auden s famous request Tell me the truth about love Synagonism: Theory and Practice in Early Modern Art ,2024-05-06 This book explores for the first time the concept of synagonism from together and struggle for an analysis of the productive exchanges between early modern painting sculpture architecture and other art forms in theory and practice In doing so it builds on current insights regarding the so called paragone debate seeing this however as only one too narrow perspective on early modern artistic production Synagonism rather implies a breaking up of the schematic connections between art forms and individual senses drawing attention to the multimediality and intersensoriality of art as well as the relationship between image and body The history of Clerkenwell. Armenia its mountains its ancient churches its people while also examining his own thoughts and moods A wonderfully human account of travel to a faraway place An Armenian Sketchbook also has the vivid appeal of a self portrait
