Literary Trails of Eastern North Carolina Georgann Eubanks,2013-04-01 This concluding volume of the Literary Trails of North Carolina trilogy takes readers into an ancient land of pale sand dense forests and expansive bays through towns older than our country and rich in cultural traditions Here writers reveal lives long tied to the land and regularly troubled by storms and tell tales of hardship hard work and freedom Eighteen tours lead readers from Raleigh to the Dismal Swamp the Outer Banks and across the Sandhills as they explore the region s connections to over 250 writers of fiction poetry plays and creative nonfiction Along the way Georgann Eubanks brings to life the state s rich literary heritage as she explores these writers connection to place and reveals the region s vibrant local culture Excerpts invite readers into the authors worlds and web links offer resources for further exploration Featured authors include A R Ammons Gerald Barrax Charles Chesnutt Clyde Edgerton Philip Gerard Kaye Gibbons Harriet Jacobs Jill McCorkle Michael Parker and Bland Simpson Literary Trails of North Carolina is a project of the North Carolina Arts Council      The Dead Alive and Busy Alan Shapiro,2000-04-03 In his sixth book of poems Alan Shapiro once again shows that he is a master at articulating the secrets of the heart The Dead Alive and Busy deals with issues of personal identity as revealed through examining the intimate bonds of family life The poems explore these familial relations in terms of the religious social and literary contexts that inform them delving into such universal themes as human frailty illness and death bereavement and thwarted desires By turns lyrical and narrative slangy and elevated analytical and visionary this collection showcases one of America s most important poets in his top form Praise for Alan Shapiro Shapiro is a shrewd and sympathetic moralist He never trivializes his subjects with high minded flourishes or stylistic gimmicks J D McClatchy New York Times Book Review      Image to Word Kathleen Walsh-Piper,2002-10-28 Explore effective ways to teach creative writing using art with an experienced writing teacher whose classroom is in a museum not a school You will learn ways to involve and motivate students by using artwork games formula poems and other specific writing exercises From painting to decorative arts and sculpture the works selected represent a wide range of historical periods and cultures Each is presented as a type which makes it easy to substitute more readily available artworks in any museum Lessons on point of view stream of consciousness description and monologue are developed along with imagination sensations and dreams This guide is a masterpiece of ideas and inspiration that marries the act of writing imaginatively with the art of observation Includes a CD ROM featuring a collection of images by known artists      Intervale Betty Adcock,2001-01-01 With a penetrating eye and a deep and spiritual intelligence Betty Adcock writes poems that range from elegy to dark humor as they confront both loss and possibility Intervale selections from her first four books plus a new collection traces the continuity of her vision and shows that lyric intensity can bring light to even the most obdurate darkness Moving from the original loss of a world at her mother s death during the poet s sixth year to the world s loss of the arboreal leopards of Cambodia and Vietnam from vanishing farmland to the endangered Sacred Harp music that once flourished in backwoods churches from the difficult history of a little known rural place to the weighted ruins of Greece these poems frame lessening divestations and devastations in the midst of plenty A wilderness disappears into cozy myth farming into industry tiger and elephant into zoos the very ground underfoot with its attendant necessities and contingencies can seem to fade into fabrications we take for reality The seam where such themes touch Adcock's personal history is the path these poems travel toward a harsh but luminous transcendence

Passing Through Customs Gibbons Ruark, 1999-02-01 Gibbons Ruark is a poetic naturalist bending close to his subject to report with precision the complexity of beauty we overlook in our haste A truly imaginative writer as well however Ruark gives back to us not merely mirrored documentation but reflections fully colored by his sight and his spirit like water and sky both subject and poet are illuminated in his poems Passing Through Customs a retrospective of thirty years work is arranged in clusters of image feeling and thought like runs of a particular kind of music The reader moves from two coastal poems years apart on the calendar of the poet's career to poems about family and friends through shadows and solitudes of elegies into sunlit homages to the saving grace of art There are evocations of Ruark's beloved and strife torn Ireland others of Italy's bounty portraits of now missed faces and the abiding presence of his wife This gallery of words so strongly affecting steadies and moves us at once Passing Through Customs leads us into the reaches of Ruark's sensibility certainly but also through inherited forms and ceremonies enriching to us all
