Victoria I. Lyall,Terezita Romo,2022-03-01 The first major visual and cultural exploration of the legacy of La Malinche simultaneously reviled as a traitor to her people and hailed as the mother of Mexico An enslaved Indigenous girl who became Hern n Cort s s interpreter and cultural translator Malinche stood at center stage in one of the most significant events of modern history Linguistically gifted she played a key role in the transactions negotiations and conflicts between the Spanish and the Indigenous populations of Mexico that shaped the course of global politics for centuries to come As mother to Cort s s firstborn son she became the symbolic progenitor of a modern Mexican nation and a heroine to Chicana and Mexicana artists Traitor Survivor Icon is the first major publication to present a comprehensive visual exploration of Malinche s enduring impact on communities living on both sides of the US Mexico border Five hundred years after her death her image and legacy remain relevant to conversations around female empowerment indigeneity and national identity throughout the Americas This lavish book establishes and examines her symbolic import and the ways in which artists scholars and activists through time have appropriated her image to interpret and express their own experiences and agendas from the 1500s through today   Time, History, and Belief in Aztec and Colonial Mexico Ross Hassig,2001-04-15 Based on their enormously complex calendars that recorded cycles of many kinds the Aztecs and other ancient Mesoamerican civilizations are generally believed to have had a cyclical rather than linear conception of time and history This boldly revisionist book challenges that understanding Ross Hassig offers convincing evidence that for the Aztecs time was predominantly linear that it was manipulated by the state as a means of controlling a dispersed tribute empire and that the Conquest cut off state control and severed the unity of the calendar leaving only the lesser cycles From these he asserts we have inadequately reconstructed the pre Columbian calendar and so misunderstood the Aztec conception of time and history Hassig first presents the traditional explanation of the Aztec calendrical system and its ideological functions and then marshals contrary evidence to argue that the Aztec elite deliberately used calendars and timekeeping to achieve practical political ends He further traces how the Conquest played out in the temporal realm as Spanish conceptions of time partially displaced the Aztec ones His findings promise to revolutionize our understanding of how the Aztecs and other Mesoamerican societies conceived of time and history   The Oxford History of Historical Writing José Rabasa,Masayuki Sato,Edoardo

Tortarolo,Daniel Woolf,2012-03-29 Volume III of The Oxford History of Historical Writing contains essays by leading scholars on the writing of history globally during the early modern era from 1400 to 1800 The volume proceeds in geographic order from east to west beginning in Asia and ending in the Americas It aims at once to provide a selective but authoritative survey of the field and where opportunity allows to provoke cross cultural comparisons This is the third of five volumes in a series that explores representations of the past from the beginning of writing to the present day and from all over the world

ceremonies with a second set of ritual feast days governed by the 260 day cycle known as the tonalpohualli or count of days In this way DiCesare analyzes how linear and cyclical conceptions of time intersected in Mexica ritual performance Trail of Footprints Alex Hidalgo,2019-07-12 Trail of Footprints offers an intimate glimpse into the commission circulation and use of indigenous maps from colonial Mexico A collection of one hundred largely unpublished maps from the late sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries made in the southern region of Oaxaca anchors an analysis of the way ethnically diverse societies produced knowledge in colonial settings Mapmaking proposes Hidalgo formed part of an epistemological shift tied to the negotiation of land and natural resources between the region's Spanish Indian and mixed race communities The craft of making maps drew from social memory indigenous and European conceptions of space and ritual and Spanish legal practices designed to adjust spatial boundaries in the New World Indigenous mapmaking brought together a distinct coalition of social actors Indian leaders native towns notaries surveyors judges artisans merchants muleteers collectors and painters who participated in the critical observation of the region's geographic features Demand for maps reconfigured technologies associated with the making of colorants adhesives and paper that drew from Indian botany and experimentation trans Atlantic commerce and Iberian notarial culture The maps in this study reflect a regional perspective associated with Oaxaca's decentralized organization its strategic position amidst a network of important trade routes that linked central Mexico to Central America and the ruggedness and diversity of its physical landscape Aztec Religion and Art of Writing Isabel Laack,2019-03-27 Winner of the 2020 Award for Excellence in the Study of Religion Historical Studies In her groundbreaking investigation from the perspective of the aesthetics of religion Isabel Laack explores the religion and art of writing of the pre Hispanic Aztecs of Mexico Inspired by postcolonial approaches she reveals Eurocentric biases in academic representations of Aztec cosmovision ontology epistemology ritual aesthetics and the writing system to provide a powerful interpretation of the Nahua sense of reality Laack transcends the concept of sacred scripture traditionally employed in religions studies in order to reconstruct the Indigenous semiotic theory and to reveal how Aztec pictography can express complex aspects of embodied meaning Her study offers an innovative approach to nonphonographic semiotic systems as created in many world cultures and expands our understanding of human recorded visual communication This book will be essential reading for scholars and readers interested in the history of religions Mesoamerican studies and the ancient civilizations of the Americas This excellent book written with intellectual courage and critical self awareness is a brilliant multilayered thought experiment into the images and stories that made up the Nahua sense of reality as woven into their sensational ritual performances and colorful symbolic writing system Dav d Carrasco Harvard University A Global History of History Daniel Woolf,2011-02-17 An illustrated survey of global historical scholarship from the ancient world to the present for courses in theory and historiography Mestiz@ Scripts, Digital Migrations, and the Territories of Writing D. #### The Casa del Deán

Penny C. Morrill, 2023-09-15
The Casa del Deán in Puebla, Mexico, is one of few surviving sixteenth century residences in the Americas. Built in 1580 by Tomás de la Plaza, the Dean of the Cathedral, the house was decorated with at least three magnificent murals, two of which survive. Their rediscovery in the 1950s and restoration in 2010 revealed works of art that rival European masterpieces of the early Renaissance while incorporating indigenous elements that identify them with Amerindian visual traditions. Extensively illustrated with new color photographs of the murals, The Casa del Deán presents a thorough iconographic analysis of the paintings and an enlightening discussion of the relationship between Tomás de la Plaza and the indigenous artists whom he commissioned. Penny Morrill skillfully traces how native painters trained by the Franciscans used images from Classical mythology found in Flemish and Italian prints and illustrated books from France as well as animal images and glyptic traditions with pre-Columbian origins to create murals that are reflective of Don Tomás's erudition and his role in evangelizing among the Amerindians. She demonstrates how the importance given to rhetoric by both the Spaniards and the Nahuas became a bridge of communication between these two distinct and highly evolved cultures. This pioneering study of the Casa del Deán mural cycle adds an important new chapter to the study of colonial Latin American art as it increases our understanding of the process by which imagery in the New World took on Christian meaning.

Time in Maps Kären Wigen, Caroline Winterer, 2020-11-20
As wide ranging, imaginative and revealing as the maps they discuss, these essays track how maps interpreted broadly convey time as well as space. Richard White, Stanford University Maps organize us in space but they also organize us in time. Looking around the world for the last five hundred years, Time in

Maps shows that today's digital maps are only the latest effort to insert a sense of time into the spatial medium of maps. Historians Karen Wigen and Caroline Winterer have assembled leading scholars to consider how maps from all over the world have depicted time in ingenious and provocative ways. Focusing on maps created in Spanish America, Europe, the United States, and Asia, these essays take us from the Aztecs documenting the founding of Tenochtitlan to early modern Japanese reconstructing nostalgic landscapes before Western encroachments to nineteenth century Americans grappling with the new concept of deep time. The book also features a defense of traditional paper maps by digital mapmaker William Rankin. With more than one hundred color maps and illustrations, Time in Maps will draw the attention of anyone interested in cartographic history.

Mexico: From the Olmecs to the Aztecs (Eighth Edition) Michael D. Coe, Javier Urcid, Rex Koontz, 2019-10-01. An extensive update to the authoritative introduction to Mexico's ancient civilizations. Masterly, The complexities of Mexico's ancient cultures are perceptively presented and interpreted. Library Journal A must for anyone interested in archaeology and history, DIG Mexico arrives in its eighth edition with a new look and the most recent discoveries. This is the story of the pre-Spanish people of Mexico who, with their neighbors the Maya, formed some of the most complex societies north of the Andes. Revised and expanded, the book is updated with the latest developments and findings in the field and current terminology. The new edition includes expanded coverage of Oaxaca, particularly Monte Albán, one of the earliest cities in Mesoamerica, and the center of the Zapotec civilization. Recent research on the Olmecs and the legacy of the Maya offer a wider and more cohesive narrative of Mexico's history. And a fully revised epilogue discusses the survival of indigenous populations in Mexico from the arrival of the Spanish through to the present day. Mexico has long been recognized as the most readable and authoritative introduction to the region's ancient civilizations. Featuring up-to-date research and, for the first time, full-color illustrations throughout, this book brings to life the vibrant ancient art and architecture of Mesoamerica.

Contesting Archives Nupur Chaudhuri, Sherry J. Katz, Mary Elizabeth Perry, 2010. Contesting Archives makes vivid and concrete the way historians must proceed when faced with partial or contradictory sources. Historians and anyone interested in how historians work will appreciate the authors' strategies for and cautions about unearthing information about women from documents inside and outside the archive.
