Strong Women, Strong Communities Tyannah Brown, 2023 This collection of children's stories is inspired by real life Canadian women who have made a difference in their communities

during the COVID 19 pandemic These stories are set in various locations across Canada including British Columbia Nova Scotia Ontario Yukon and Newfoundland and they showcase the resilience creativity and determination of these women In one story a young woman uses her platform to bring Black creatives together and give them a space to collaborate and express themselves openly In another story a Nigerian woman shares her experiences of building a life halfway around the world in a place she never expected Another story follows a Black Jamaican Canadian woman who uses her skills to share the arts history and culture of African descent with her community And in yet another story we see the bond of sisterhood as two Black women come together to protect their community from the deadly impacts of the virus These stories are not only entertaining and engaging but they are also important because they give children the opportunity to see themselves and their own experiences reflected in the pages of a book By showcasing the real life stories of Canadian women this collection helps to broaden children s perspectives and inspire them to think about the world in a more inclusive way It also helps to highlight the diversity and strength of our communities and it encourages children to consider their own potential as leaders and agents of change

Feminist History in Canada Catherine Carstairs, Nancy Janovicek, 2013-11-25 In the late 1970s feminist historians urged us to rethink Canada by placing women s experiences at the centre of historical analysis Forty years later feminism continues to inform history writing and has inspired historians to look beyond the nation and adopt a more global perspective This exciting new volume of original essays opens with a discussion of the themes and methodological approaches that have preoccupied historians over the past twenty years The chapters that follow showcase the work of new and established scholars who draw on critical race theory postcolonial theory and transnational history to re-examine familiar topics such as biography and oral history paid and unpaid work marriage and family and women s political action Whether they focus on the marriage of Governor James Douglas and his Metis wife Amelia or on the experiences of Qu b cois domestic workers in the 1970s the contributors demonstrate the continued relevance of history informed by feminist perspectives and open a much needed dialogue between francophone and anglophone historians in Canada

The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada s flagship genre It continues to attract the country s most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre s beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre s development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany Her Story Susan E. Merritt,1993-01-01 The Canadian Woman's Annual and Social Service Directory, 1915 The English Short Story in Canada Reingard M. Nischik,2017-04-20 In 2013 the Nobel Prize for Literature was for the first time awarded to a short story writer and to a Canadian Alice Munro The award focused international attention on a genre that had long been thriving in Canada particularly since the 1960s This book traces the development and highlights of the English language Canadian short story from the late 19th century up to the present The history as well as the theoretical approaches to the genre are covered with in depth examination of exemplary stories by prominent writers such as Margaret Atwood and Alice Munro Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office,2004 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress,Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy,2012 Canadian Essays, Critical and Historical Thomas O'Hagan,1901 History of Literature in Canada Reingard M. Nischik,2008 The development of literature in Canada with an eye to its multicultural multiethnic multilingual nature From modest colonial beginnings literature in Canada has arrived at the center stage of world literature Works by English Canadian writers both established writers such as Margaret Atwood and new talents such as Yann Martel make regular appearances on international bestseller lists French Canadian literature has also found its own voice in the North American and francophone worlds CanLit has likewise developed into a staple of academic interest pursued in Canadian Studies programs in Canada and around the world This volume draws on the expertise of scholars from Canada Germany Austria and France tracing Canadian literature from the indigenous oral tradition to the development of English Canadian and French Canadian literature since colonial times Conceiving of Canada as a single but multifaceted culture it accounts for specific characteristics of English and French Canadian literatures such as the vital role of the short story in English Canada or that of the chanson in French Canada Yet special attention is also paid to Aboriginal literature and to the pronounced transcultural ethnically diverse character of much contemporary Canadian literature thus moving clearly beyond the traditions of the two founding nations Contributors Reingard M Nischik Eva Gruber Iain M Higgins Guy Laflamme Dorothee Scholl Gwendolyn Davies Tracy Ware Fritz Peter Kirsch Julia Breithbach Lorraine York Marta Dvorak Jerry Wasserman Ursula Mathis Moser Doris G Eibl Rolf Lohse Sherrill Grace Caroline Rosenthal Martin Kuester Nicholas Bradley Anne Nothof Georgiana Banita Gilles Dupuis and Andrea Oberhuber Reingard M Nischik is Professor of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany Library of Congress Subject Headings,2009 Contemporary Canadian Women's Fiction C. Howells,2003-08-22 This book charts the significant changes in contemporary Canada's literary profile since the mid 1990s within a context of the new national rhetoric of multiculturalism By looking closely at a representative range of fictions in English by women from a variety of ethnocultural backgrounds Howells examines the complexities embedded within Canadian identity What does Refiguring Identities mean for these writers given their individual agendas and the multiple affiliation of any woman s identity construction All these writers are engaged in rewriting history across generation and Howells argues that woman s fiction negotiates new possibilities for cultural change introducing more heterogeneous narratives of identity in multi cultural Canada
