A Story of Joy Janis Lipinski,2019-01-01 Jan is a woman of faith who has a desperate longing for another child She is married to a terrific guy who is a good husband and a great dad to their two young boys but he is content with their family just as it is and has no desire for another child As Jan struggles with this dilemma she surrenders her desire to God and sees him work in mighty ways When the desire of her heart is finally met with a precious daughter Jan and her husband name her Joy as a tribute to God's glory They loved her wholeheartedly but they were unprepared for the difficult path that lay before them Their daughter was born with multiple medical issues She had jaundice ear and sinus infections that didn't respond to antibiotics and significant breathing difficulties all within the first month of life As the story unfolds and more medical complications are discovered this family struggles to meet one challenge after another Jan's faith is challenged again and again as she desperately tries to meet her daughter's needs for the best medical care and fulfill her obligations as a wife and mother to her other two children In the midst of turmoil Jan learns how to rely on God for the strength and wisdom she needs to make difficult decisions and juggle responsibilities Her honest account of her personal struggles to hang on to God's promises as the world around her shifts and crumbles allows the reader to see how God can use our circumstances to stretch us mold us and create something beautiful out of the chaos

Toward a 21st-Century School Library Media Program Esther Rosenfeld,David V. Loertscher,2007-10-15 This collection of enlightening and stimulating articles written by some of the most important figures in school librarianship demonstrates how teacher librarians classroom teachers and administrators can work together to create a 21st century school library media program With topics that emphasize student success leadership partnerships curriculum design collaborative planning and teaching literacy 21st century skills emerging technologies and so much more this compendium brings together the best of the best discussions The practicing teacher librarian as well as the student seeking to expand his or her knowledge of the field will find this compilation especially beneficial in providing an overview of the most critical issues related to the role the teacher librarian plays in their school The articles previously published in the peer reviewed Teacher Librarian The Journal for School Library Professionals with several included from the magazine VOYA Voice of Youth Advocates reveal how school libraries and teacher librarians are moving forward to meet the challenges of this new century

Teachers' Reading/Teachers' Lives Mary Kay Rummel,1997-01-01 Investigates teachers classroom personal reading histories and how they influence the development of one becoming a resisting reader teacher The premise of this book is important that teachers literacy experiences not only make a difference in their literacy instruction but also in their professional judgment and actions related to curriculum decisions and their resistance to prescribed methods and materials which do not allow children's literacy to flourish. The teachers' own words in the autobiographical chapters offer powerful testimony supporting approaches to literacy that encourage and support the job of reading and writing rather than pedantic and meaningless curriculum methods that emphasize isolated skills and drills. There is currently a backlash against the whole language approach which through the years has had other titles but has always emphasized the creative responsive teaching described in meaningful individual integrated and joyful approaches to the teaching of reading and writing. This book could have a positive influence on the current discussions about the teaching of literacy.

Race: My Story & Humanity's Bottom Line Lauren Joichin Nile, 2014-01-20

Lauren Joichin Nile introduces what she believes is humanity's racial bottom line with a compelling account of her personal experiences growing up in 1950s and 60s segregated New Orleans. In so doing she posits what she believes is humanity's universal racial story. Lauren explains how starting out from Southern Africa, fully formed human beings over thousands of years walked out of Africa, populated the entire rest of Planet Earth, and over 2,000 generations physically adapted to their new environments, gradually taking on the appearance of the many races of modern day humanity, making all of us literally one biologically related human family. She then provides an abbreviated account of some of the most significant events of humanity's racial history and an explanation of how that history has affected the American racial present. She also analyzes a number of controversial topics, including whether there are truly superior and inferior races. Finally, Lauren shares what she believes are the specific actions that humanity must take in order to heal from our wretched racial past, realize that across the planet we all truly can love one another, and as a species walk into a wiser, more empathetic, compassionate human future. Lauren Joichin Nile is an author, keynote speaker, trainer, and licensed attorney who specializes in assisting organizations in increasing their emotional intelligence, compassion, and productivity. The goal of her work with organizations is to help create environments in which understanding and kindness are valued, and as a result, every person is equally welcomed and uniformly appreciated, irrespective of all demographic differences. The goal of Lauren's speaking and training in the greater society is to help the human species grow in both wisdom and compassion.
