Stories Of The Sea:

Stories of the Sea Diana Secker Tesdell, 2010 Classic adventure stories by Joseph Conrad Rudyard Kipling Stephen Crane Robert Louis Stevenson and Jack London mix with marvellously imaginative tales by Isak Dinesen Patricia Highsmith and J G Ballard Robert Olen Butler explores the memories of a Titanic victim who has become part of the sea that swallowed him Ray Bradbury's The Fog Horn summons something primeval and lonely from the ocean depths John Updike's lovers retrace the route of Homer's Odyssey on a cruise ship From Edgar Allan Poe's dramatic A Descent into the Maelstrom to Ernest Hemingway's chilling After the Storm the stories here are as wide ranging and entrancing as the sea itself Astounding Sea Stories Tom McCarthy, 2017-08-08 Stories that will entertain inform and inspire Few people would want to test their mettle in an ice encrusted boat with Ernest Shackleton or search for the Northwest Passage with Franklin's doomed crew or watch their mates being beheaded by angry pirates like Daniel Collins But it's quite another thing to read these true accounts while settled into a favorite chair Here are stoic and hardy sailors who persevered in the face of travails that would have given even Job pause Their vivid accounts are stronger and more dramatic for their total lack of affectation their frankness and their lack of ego Their gripping stories are custom made for the imaginative reader who seeks adventure in a more controlled environment safe warm and well fed Civilized readers with their armchairs anchored firmly to the living room floor This eclectic collection will not disappoint Some are classics that have endured through time and continue to excite new readers Others are hidden gems about to see the light of a reading lamp for the first time in one hundred years Great Sea Stories Joseph Lewis French, 1921 Men have written of the sea since 2500 BC when an unknown author set down on papyrus his account of a struggle with a sea serpent the first sea story on record Modern sea stories begin properly with the chronicles of the early navigators and it is actually Robinson Crusoe that turns the great sea voyage into fiction the foundation of the sea tale as literary art The literature of the sea grew slowly but surely and it is hoped that this compilation offers indisputable evidence that the prose tradition is sustained and that readers new to it will find the theme marvelously interesting Sea Stories for Wonder Eyes Mrs. A. S. Hardy, 1904 Great Stories of the Sea and Ships N. C. Wyeth, 1980-02-01 Stories of the sea and sky Nella Braddy, 1921 Sea Stories Tom McCarthy, 2021-10-21 Rich in history and drama on the high seas Sea Stories entertains enlightens and inspires These are enduring stories that have passed the test of time and have attracted generations of readers They are custom made for the imaginative reader who seeks adventure ensconced in his or her favorite reading chair safe warm and well fed The Game of Life and Death Lincoln Colcord, 1970 Great Sea Stories of All Nations Henry Major Tomlinson, 1932 Sea stories Sea stories, 1858 The sea-stories John Ruskin, 1873 Collected Stories of the Sea Neil Martin, 2013-04-18 UNDER topsails and courses the Diana cruised slowly south by east working the whaling grounds that reach across the Atlantic between Bermuda and the Cape Verde Islands For a month she cruised hither and yon following a zig zag course that took her halfway across the Western Ocean with her lookouts scanning the barren sea day after day but with never a sight of spout or fluke In the meantime the crew had not been allowed to bask in idleness When the watches had been chosen Brett had picked Steve in his Later after a week of boat drills the mate had chosen him to be his boat steerer Gormley couldn t account for this unless the mate wished to have him handy when the time came to even matters for the beating he had suffered at Steve s hands Sooner or later the showdown would come Gormley was sure of that Because he had demonstrated his seamanship he was spared the breaking in suffered by the green hands At least half the crew were making their first voyage to sea These had to be taken in hand by the mate and shown the ropes from the jib downhauls aft to the spanker sheets And woe to the unlucky wretch who failed to learn promptly Left with the seasoned hands Gormley was kept busy doing odd jobs about the ship Shrouds had to be set up and tarred down ratlines renewed halyards spliced Harpoon irons were fastened to their poles scraped of their coatings of red lead and polished The grindstone was kept busy as knives cutting spades and lance points were ground to a razor like edge In the early seventies kerosene and coal gas were fast displacing whale oil as a means of illumination But other uses had been found for the oil which was still selling for one dollar a gallon Yet in spite of the high price of oil the decline of the whaling trade was setting in In the old days before the Civil War crews had been easy to get But now in the 1870 s with plenty of work ashore at high wages it was increasingly difficult to get sufficient men to work the ships Few men cared to go whaling The reason was not hard to find In the first place whale men did not receive wages The whale ship was a cooperative enterprise with the men before the mast on a one hundred and sixty fourth lay the boat steerers on a seventy fifth while the mates ranged from the sixtieth received by the third mate to the fortieth that was the mate s share The master stood to receive a thirty second share of whatever oil was taken in the course of the four year voyage Out of this the food they ate was charged to the men s accounts Damage to the ship or any part of her gear was also deducted Likewise the owners were insured against the desertion of the crew and the premiums were charged to the men with interest The ship too was insured exacting a further toll against the final lay They were scandalously overcharged for the shoddy clothing they drew from the slop chest and for the moldy dank tobacco they smoked Reasons enough for the decline of the whaling trade Aside from all that the Diana wasn t a hard ship Captain Larrabee wouldn t stand for the hazing of the crew Only when the Old Man was below did Brett ever dare to strike a man Twice every Sunday from nine to ten in the morning and during the second dog watch all hands gathered aft for religious services wherein Captain Larrabee thundered his denunciations of the devil and all his works with great earnestness and fury Saves our souls on Sundays and damns em on week days old Sankey remarked one Sunday to Steve as they headed aft to morning worship But there were no services that day Hardly had the crew gathered below the break of the poop when the lookout on the foremast bawled Blows ah blows Instantly the meeting broke up Without waiting for orders the men rushed to the boats and made ready to lower away And then the lookouts on the main and mizzen yelled simultaneously Wreck h An Instrument of the Gods, and Other Stories of
