Future Cities Paul Dobraszczyk, 2025-03-15 Brings together architecture fiction film and visual art to reconnect the imaginary city with the real proposing a future for humanity that is firmly grounded in the present and the diverse creative practices already at our fingertips Though reaching ever further toward the skies today's cities are overshadowed by multiple threats climate change overpopulation social division and urban warfare all endanger our metropolitan way of life The fundamental tool we use to make sense of these uncertain city futures is the imagination Architects artists filmmakers and fiction writers have long been inspired to imagine cities of the future but their speculative visions tend to be seen very differently from scientific predictions flights of fancy on the one hand versus practical reasoning on the other In a digital age when the real and the fantastic coexist as near equals it is especially important to know how these two forces are entangled and how together they may help us best conceive of cities yet to come Exploring a breathtaking range of imagined cities submerged floating flying vertical underground ruined and salvaged Future Cities teases out the links between speculation and reality arguing that there is no clear separation between the two In the Netherlands prototype floating cities are already being built Dubai's recent skyscrapers resemble those of science fiction cities of the past while makeshift settlements built by the urban poor in the developing world are already like the dystopian cities of cyberpunk

Bellies, bowels and entrails in the eighteenth century Rebecca Anne Barr, Sylvie Kleiman-Lafon, Sophie Vasset, 2018-08-08 This collection of essays seeks to challenge the notion of the supremacy of the brain as the key organ of the Enlightenment by focusing on the workings of the bowels and viscera that so obsessed writers and thinkers during the long eighteenth century These inner organs and the digestive process acted as counterpoints to politeness and other modes of refined sociability drawing attention to the deeper workings of the self Moving beyond recent studies of luxury and conspicuous consumption where dysfunctional bowels have been represented as a symptom of excess this book seeks to explore other manifestations of the visceral and to explain how the bowels played a crucial part in eighteenth century emotions and perceptions of the self The collection offers an interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspective on entrails and digestion by addressing urban history visual studies literature medical history religious history and material culture in England France and Germany Urban Undergrounds Patricia García, David Pike, 2025-05-20

Research in urban development in the social sciences has increasingly emphasized the importance of underground infrastructure for envisaging sustainable cities and for critiquing the economies of extraction Urban Undergrounds Contemporary Literary and Cultural Perspectives demonstrates the urgency of integrating a below ground perspective into the emerging field of the Urban Humanities The collection is divided into three thematic sections that cluster and revisit different sets of well known motifs in Underground Studies Displaced Buried and Wasted It showcases the intermedial nature of underground focused analyses in literature extending from literary texts to a wider range of cultural forms including films graphic novels and videogames The contributors build on recent scholarship that has expanded the field into new interdisciplinary areas including intersections with memory studies ecocriticism and decolonial perspectives Urban Undergrounds also explores lesser studied subterranean spaces including those of Warsaw Athens Mexico City Johannesburg and Santiago de Chile The book's substantial introduction offers a guiding theoretical and methodological framework for future scholars working with underground perspectives in literary and cultural studies This thought provoking and illuminating collection is a valuable resource for students and scholars in the areas of Literary Urban Studies Underground Studies and Geocriticism and more broadly in the Urban Humanities and Spatial Humanities Paris Under Water Jeffrey H. Jackson, 2024-09-04 In the winter of 1910 the river that brought life to Paris quickly became a force of destruction Torrential rainfall saturated the soil and faulty engineering created a perfect storm of conditions that soon drowned Parisian streets homes businesses and museums The city seemed to have lost its battle with the elements Given the Parisians history of deep seated social religious and political strife it was questionable whether they could collaborate to confront the crisis Yet while the sewers Metro and electricity failed around them Parisians of all backgrounds rallied to save the city and one another Improvising techniques to keep Paris functioning and braving the dangers of collapsing infrastructure and looters leaders and residents alike answered the call to action This newfound ability to work together proved a crucial rehearsal for an even graver crisis four years later when France was plunged into World War I On the occasion of the hundredth anniversary of the flood Jeffrey H Jackson captures here for the first time the drama and ultimate victory of man over nature Strange Spaces André Jansson, 2016-12-05 Certain bizarre spaces where disruption or disarray rule leave us estranged and out of place This book examines such spaces highlighting the emotional and mediated geographies of uncertainty and the state of being in between of cognitive displacement loss fear or exhilaration It expands on why space is sometimes estranging and for whom it is strange It is the first book to link strangeness and spatial production as well as empirical explorations of strange spaces within a profound theoretical discussion of what is strange about strange spaces and how they evolve in a modern
