Suffolk Airfields In The Second World War:

Suffolk Airfields in the Second World War Graham Smith, 1995 A full account of the part played by Suffolk's airfields during the Second World War The history of each airfield is described with the squadrons and aircraft based at them and the main operations flown The effects of the war on the daily lives of civilians and the constant dangers from raids and night bombing are also detailed Fully illustrated Aviation Landmarks - Norfolk and Suffolk Peter B. Gunn, 2017-11-24 Norfolk and Suffolk are bursting with aviation heritage having played key roles in military aviation through the two world wars and beyond The obvious notable landmarks include airfields past and present traces of former radar stations decoy airfields and other sites that were once highly secretive However there are less conspicuous ones too from churches memorials and museums to local pubs streets and even village signs This new edition of Aviation Landmarks Norfolk and Suffolk offers a fully updated account of aviation heritage and history right up to the present day With over 500 entries it covers nearly seventy airfields as well as many lesser known landmarks such as former radar stations country houses local heritage collections street signs and more Complete with illustrations OS grid references and an index of places this reference guide to the two counties both in the air and on the ground will captivate both interested locals and aviation enthusiasts alike

RAF and USAAF Airfields in the UK During the Second World War Geoff Mills, Daniel Knowles, 2022-03-31 Shortly after the end of the Second World War the United Kingdom was described as one vast aircraft carrier anchored off the coast of Europe During a seven year period 500 airfields were constructed to serve the needs first of the RAF and later the USAAF as they carried the war to German occupied Europe The airfields that were constructed took many different forms from training airfields and Advanced Landing Grounds to grass fighter airstrips and vast complexes used to accommodate heavy bombers This book charts the history of each Second World War airfield in and around the UK providing a unique insight in to the construction operational life and post war history of each airfield Alongside detailing the history of each airfield this work comprehensively records the details of each unit that operated from airfields around the UK The information provided in this meticulously researched book is supported by a wealth of 690 photographs providing an illustration into the life of each wartime station World War II RAF Airfields in Norfolk Martin W. Bowman, 2008-03-26 As part of the Aviation Heritage Trail series this book covers airfields in Lincolnshire Norfolk Yorkshire and Northamptonshire 12 Group was formed in 1937 within Fighter Command to become responsible for aerial defense of the industrial Midlands During World War Two this group was the second most important fighter group and as such it received its fair share of attacks from the German Luftwaffe throughout the war As well as regional defense 12 Group were also supposed to fly cover for 11 Group airfields during the Battle of Britain The airfields and other places of interest include Digby Hibaldstow Kirton on Lindsey Coltishall Matlack Swanton Morley Catterick Church Fenton Clifton Hutton Cranswick and Wittering This book looks at the history and personalities associated with each base what remains today and explores the favorite local wartime haunts Museums and places that are relevant will also be described and general directions on how to get them included Cambridgeshire at War 1939-45 Glynis Cooper, 2020-03-20 Few could believe that within twenty years of the war to end all wars being won the world was once again at war Veterans of the Great War feared going through the same thing again and even worse many knew that this time their children would also be involved in the fighting What had all the sacrifice been about Cambridgeshire the city of Cambridge and the University of Cambridge were badly hit by the Great War with many lives lost families ripped apart and a way of life that had changed forever Building and economic recovery had been hindered by the Great Depression The county was not ready to face another war nor for the problems of warfare in the air Yet somehow the county the city and the university all found the strength to unite against the enemy once more and ensure that Germany would never win the war The book chronicles life on the Home Front during the Second World War which itself reached into every home and affected every citizen changing the life and the face of the county It is also a timely reminder of the difficulties hardships restrictions and morale faced by the city as the war dragged on and how the local community overcame the odds that were stacked against them UK Airfields Past and Present Grant Peerless, 2020-10-04 A great many books have been written over the years about individual airfields or those in particular counties areas but this one covers a good proportion of them in one publication from Abbots Bromley to Zeals It provides brief details of over 1700 airfields from before the First World War to the present day and describes the main activities carried out based units operators and current status It includes military bases civil airports airfields gliding sites microlight sites and larger farm strips together with the probable number of based aircraft An appendix lists over 500 books which have been published about individual airfields and this together with the details provided in this book affords a convenient source of reference for further research It does not pretend to include every flying site that ever existed as this would require a much larger volume but covers what are considered to be the most significant airfields of the past 110 years It includes over one hundred photographs in colour and black white most of which have not been published previously Suffolk's Defended Shore Cain Hegarty, Sarah Newsome, 2014-06-30 Suffolk's Defended Shore presents an illustrated history of the development of military defences on the Suffolk coast using data collected as part of the English Heritage national survey The survey involved the examination of both modern and historic aerial photographs which led to the creation of a detailed map of the archaeological remains on the county's coast The results of the survey are dominated by evidence for the military defence of the coast reflecting the importance of the Suffolk coast in national defence strategies over many years Extensively illustrated this book highlights the particular importance of historic aerial photographs which provide a different and unique perspective on the coastal defences constructed in World War II Photographs taken during and immediately after this war sometimes provide the only visual record of the rapidly evolving defences from this period In the Hands of Strangers Kim Moretto Niemeier, 2016-11-07 On June 12 1944 six days after the D Day invasion of Normandy U S fighter pilot Fred Moretto is ambushed by German

Messerschmitt 109s Barely escaping his burning P 47 Thunderbolt Lieutenant Moretto parachutes into the French countryside where villagers working for the Resistance conceal him from the Germans for two months in a bread oven a secret perch in an attic and a hayloft In 1993 nearly 50 years later Kim Moretto Niemeier convinces her father to return to France Reuniting with the people and the places where he survived against all odds re invigorates his French Connection and launches Kims 20 year odyssey to uncover the dramatic details of her fathers inspiring story Mr Brown's War Helen D Millgate,2011-10-21 Richard Brown kept a personal diary throughout the whole of the Second World War He used it to record the course of the conflict as he perceived it gleaned from the newspapers the wireless and hearsay As well as describing the development of the war Brown captured a vivid image of life in wartime Britain with rationing blackout restrictions interrupted sleep the prospect of evacuation and the enormous burden placed on civilians coping with a full time job as well as war work Richard Brown was a well informed man who made his own judgements His attitude to the war is fascinating as he never doubts ultimate victory despite being impatient and critical of the conduct of the war His observations range from the pithy to the humorous and scathing Above all his diaries reflect the moral and social attitudes of the period and the desire to be fully involved in the war effort They also totally refute the argument that the British public were kept in the dark Suffolk Records Society ,1958
