Women's Writing from the Low Countries 1200-1875 Lia van Gemert, 2010 This book provides a welcome English translation of a marvelous anthology of women's religious and secular writing stretching from the visions of the late medieval mystics through the prison testaments of sixteenth century Anabaptist martyrs to the pamphleteers and novelists of the growing urban bourgeoisie The translations and introductions demonstrate the ways that women in the Low Countries shaped the intellectual and cultural developments of their eras

Women's Writing in English Patricia Demers, 2005-12-15 In this introduction to the diversity and scope of the writing by women in England from the beginning of the sixteenth century to the restoration of the monarchy in 1660 Patricia Demers discusses the creative realities of women writers accomplishments and the cultural conditions under which they wrote There were deep suspicions and restrictions surrounding the education of women during this period and thus the contributions of women to literature and to the print industry itself are largely unknown This wide ranging examination of the genres of early modern women's writing embraces translation from Latin Greek and French in the fields of theological discourse romance and classical tragedy original meditations and prayers letters and diaries poetry closet drama advice manuals and prophecies and polemics A close study of six major authors Mary Sidney Aemilia Lanyer Elizabeth Tanfield Cary Lady Mary Wroth Margaret Cavendish and Katherine Philips explores their work as poets dramatists and romantic fiction writers Demers invites readers to savour the subtlety and daring with which these women authors made writing an expressly social craft

Women's Writing from Wales before 1914 Jane Aaron, 2020-06-04 This essay collection rediscovers and reassesses a host of still little known pre 1914 Welsh women writers In the last few decades considerable advances have been made towards rediscovering contextualising and analysing women's writing from Wales The combined influences of the post 1960s women's movement the 1990s Welsh devolution successes and the development of the Four Nations school of British literary criticism have together effected significant advances in the field of Welsh feminist literary studies This book focuses in particular on the fifteenth to eighteenth century Welsh language bards such as Gwerful Mechain Angharad James and Marged Dafydd the seventeenth and eighteenth century English language poets including Katherine Philips Jane Brereton Anne Penny and Anne Hughes contributors to the Romantic movement in Wales such as the poets and novelists Mary Robinson and Ann of Swansea the mid nineteenth century protesting voice of polemicists such as Jane Williams Ysgafell the Victorian English language novelists for example Louisa Matilda Spooner Anne Beale Amy Dillwyn Allen Raine and Mallt Williams and their concern with national class and gender identities and early twentieth century Welsh language writers engaged with Welsh Home Rule and women s suffrage issues such as Gwyneth Vaughan and Eluned Morgan This book was originally published as a special issue of Women s Writing Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

The Anthology in Portugal Patricia Anne Odber de Baubeta, 2007 This book breaks new ground in considering the nature and function of anthologies of poetry and short stories in twentieth century Portugal It tackles the main theoretical issues identifies a significant body of critical writing on the relationship between anthologies literary history and the canon and proposes an approach that might be designated Descriptive Anthology Studies The author aims to achieve a full understanding of the role of anthologies in the literary polysystem Moreover this study considers anthologies published in Portugal in the early years of the twentieth century the influential figures who made them the works they selected and who read them It also focuses on the principal publishing houses of the 1940s and 50s and how their literary directors shaped public taste and promoted intercultural transfer The author reveals tensions between conservative nostalgic anthologies that promote an idyllic vision of rural Portugal and collections of poems that question and challenge the status quo whether in respect of the colonial wars or repressed female sexuality The last part of the book explores anthology production in the period following the Revolution of 1974 observing the co existence of traditional anthologising activity with new trends and innovations and noting the role of women both as anthologists and anthology items
