The Muslim Bonaparte:

The Muslim Bonaparte Katherine Elizabeth Fleming, 1999 Ali Pasha of Ioannina 1750 1822 the Ottoman appointed governor of the northern mainland of Greece was a towering figure in Ottoman Greek and European history Based on an array of literatures paintings and musical scores this is the first English language critical biography about him in recent decades K E Fleming shows that the British and French diplomatic experience of Ali was at odds with the orientalist literatures that he inspired Dubbed by Byron the Muslim Bonaparte Ali enjoyed a position of diplomatic strength in the eastern Adriatic in his attempt to secede from the Ottoman state he cleverly took advantage of the diplomatic relations of Britain Russia France and Venice As he reached the peak of his powers however European accounts of him portrayed him in ever more orientalist terms as irrational despotic cruel and undependable Fleming focuses on the tension between these two experiences of Ali the diplomatic and the cultural She also places the history of modern Greece in the context of European history as well as that of Ottoman decline and demonstrates the ways in which contemporary European visions of Greece particularly those generated by Romanticist philhellenism contributed to a unique form of orientalism in the south Balkans Greece a territory never formally colonized by Western Europe was subject instead to a surrogate form of colonial control one in which the country's history and culture rather than its actual land was annexed invaded and colonized Originally published in 1999 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Napoleon's Egypt Juan Cole, 2025-09-23 In this vivid and timely history Juan Cole tells the story of Napoleon's invasion of Egypt Revealing the young general's reasons for leading the expedition against Egypt in 1798 and showcasing his fascinating views of the Orient Cole delves into the psychology of the military titan and his entourage He paints a multi faceted portrait of the daily travails of the soldiers in Napoleon's army including how they imagined Egypt how their expectations differed from what they found and how they grappled with military challenges in a foreign land Cole ultimately reveals how Napoleon's invasion the first modern attempt to invade the Arab world invented and crystallized the rhetoric of liberal imperialism

Islam and the English Enlightenment, 1670-1840 Humberto Garcia, 2012-01-30 A corrective addendum to Edward Said's Orientalism this book examines how sympathetic representations of Islam contributed significantly to Protestant Britain's national and imperial identity in the eighteenth century Taking a historical view Humberto Garcia combines a rereading of eighteenth century and Romantic era British literature with original research on Anglo Islamic relations He finds that far from being considered foreign by the era's thinkers Islamic republicanism played a defining role in Radical Enlightenment debates most significantly during the Glorious Revolution French Revolution and other moments of acute constitutional crisis as well as in national and political debates about England and its overseas empire Garcia shows that writers such as Edmund Burke Lady Mary Wortley Montagu Samuel Taylor Coleridge Robert Southey and Percy and Mary Shelley not only were influenced by international events in the Muslim world but also saw in that world and its history a viable path to interrogate contest and redefine British concepts of liberty This deft exploration of the forgotten moment in early modern history when intercultural exchange between the Muslim world and Christian West was common resituates English literary and intellectual history in the wider context of the global eighteenth century The direct challenge it poses to the idea of an exclusionary Judeo Christian Enlightenment serves as an important revision to post 9 11 narratives about a historical clash between Western democratic values and Islam

Travel Writing and Re-Enactment Lucas Tromly, 2023-09-07 Travel Writing and Re Enactment Echotourism explores the popular subgenre of travel narratives that re enact historically prominent journeys Drawing on philosopher Walter Benjamin this monograph reads such re enactments as quests for aura in which travellers seek to capture a sense of distinction and historical profundity Travel Writing and Re Enactment frames the re enactment of past journeys in a number of contexts including Benjamin s writing on mechanical reproduction Judith Butler s work on gender performance and postmodern parody Echotourist journeys are surprisingly contingent and precarious and force travellers to navigate historical changes involving empire gender and travel practice in densely performative ways Through close readings of contemporary travel narratives this monograph considers the legacies of Lord Byron Charles Darwin Graham Greene Mary Kingsley and Ernest Shackleton among others Travel Writing and Re Enactment examines the way literary re enactment expresses and sometimes confounds the desire to find meaning through travel in the contemporary world The Ottoman and Mughal Empires Suraiya Faruqi, 2019-08-08 For many years Ottomanist historians have been accustomed to study the Ottoman Empire and or its constituent regions as entities insulated from the outside world except when it came to campaigns and conquests on the one hand and incorporation into the European dominated world economy on the other However now many scholars have come to accept that the Ottoman Empire was one of the not very numerous long lived world empires that have emerged in history This comparative social history compares the Ottoman to another of the great world empires that of the Mughals in the Indian subcontinent exploring source criticism diversities in the linguistic and religious fields as political problems and the fates of ordinary subjects including merchants artisans women and slaves French Mediterraneans Patricia M. E. Lorcin, Todd Shepard, 2016-05-01 Collection of essays that explore the French presence in the 19th and 20th century making of the Mediterranean Provided by publisher The Ottoman Empire in the Tanzimat Era Yonca Köksal, 2019-02-01 The Ottoman Empire in the Tanzimat Era generates a new history of the Ottoman Empire s Tanzimat reforms in the provinces of Edirne and Ankara It studies variation across the two provinces and the crucial role of local intermediaries such as notables tribal leaders and merchants The book provides insights into how states and societies transform each other in the most difficult of times using qualitative and quantitative social network analysis and deep research in the Ottoman and British archives to understand the Tanzimat as a process of negotiation and transformation between the state and local actors The author argues that the same reform policies produced different results in Edirne and Ankara The book explains how factors such as socioeconomic conditions and historical developments played a role in shaping local networks The Ottoman Empire in the Tanzimat Era invites readers to rethink taken for granted concepts such as centralization decentralization state control and imperial decay It will be of interest to scholars and students interested in Middle Eastern and Balkan studies and historical and political sociology
