The Modes Of Modern Writing Metaphor Metonymy Etc:

The Modes of Modern Writing David Lodge, 1988 The Modes of Modern Writing David Lodge, 2015-10-29 The Modes of Modern Writing tackles some of the fundamental questions we all encounter when studying or reading literature such as what is literature What is realism What is relationship between form and content And what dictates the shifts in literary fashions and tastes In answering these questions the book examines texts by a wide range of modern novelists and poets including James Joyce T S Eliot Ernest Hemingway George Orwell Virginia Woolf Samuel Beckett and Philip Larkin and draws on the work of literary theorists from Roman Jakobson to Roland Barthes Written in Lodge's typically accessible style this is essential reading for students and lovers of literature at any level The Bloomsbury Revelations edition includes a new Foreword Afterword by the author Walking Shadows Ib Johansen, 2015-08-25 Walking Shadows focuses on the American fantastic and the American grotesque attempting in this manner for the first time to establish an overview of and a theoretical approach to two literary modes that have often been regarded as essential to an understanding of the American cultural canon The central importance of these two literary forms has been pointed out earlier by important theorists such as Stanley Cavell David Reynolds and William Van O Connor A number of literary works from the beginning of the nineteenth to the end of the twentieth centuries are taken up in order to illustrate the inherent links or family resemblances between the two modes with special reference to the way in which a Bakhtinian reading may facilitate our appreciation of their status within the canon These excursions into the House of Fantastic and Grotesque Fiction may be of interest not only to hardcore aficionados but also to philosophically minded readers in general in particular perhaps to those who have paid acute attention to debates on late twentieth and early twenty first century post structuralism and deconstruction where the classic positions of Foucault Derrida et al still appear to be relevant Apolline Project: Studies on Vesuvius' north slope and the Bay of Naples Girolamo De Simone, Roger T. Macfarlane, 2009 Literary History, Modernism, and Postmodernism Douwe Wessel Fokkema, 1984-01-01 In these lectures delivered at Harvard University in March 1983 the differences between Modernism and Postmodernism are discussed in semiotic terms based on a contrastive analysis of semantic and syntactical compositional features They present the major results of research into the literary conventions of Modernism Gide Larbaud V Woolf du Perron Th Mann and the innovations of Postmodernism Borges Fuentes Barthelme Calvino Hermans The investigation of innovation in literary history is based on a concept of literary evolution launched by the Russian Formalists and elaborated by reception theory and semioticians such as Lotman and Eco The author argues for further corroboration by means of empirical textual as well as psychological research Metaphors of Confinement Monika Fludernik, 2019-08-13 Metaphors of Confinement The Prison in Fact Fiction and Fantasy offers a historical survey of imaginings of the prison as expressed in carceral metaphors in a range of texts about imprisonment from Antiquity to the present as well as non penal situations described as confining or restrictive These imaginings coalesce into a carceral imaginary that determines the way we think about prisons just as social debates about punishment and criminals feed into the way carceral imaginary develops over time Examining not only English language prose fiction but also poetry and drama from the Middle Ages to postcolonial particularly African literature the book juxtaposes literary and non literary contexts and contrasts fictional and nonfictional representations of im prison ment and discussions about the prison as institution and experiential reality It comments on present day trends of punitivity and foregrounds the ethical dimensions of penal punishment The main argument concerns the continuity of carceral metaphors through the centuries despite historical developments that included major shifts in policy such as the invention of the penitentiary The study looks at selected carceral metaphors often from two complementary perspectives such as the home as prison or the prison as home or the factory as prison and the prison as factory The case studies present particularly relevant genres and texts that employ these metaphors often from a historical perspective that analyses development through different periods

In Search of (Non)Sense Elżbieta Chrzanowska-Kluczevska, Grzegorz Szpila, 2009-01-14 it would seem natural to assume that the disciplines of literary studies and linguistics should by rights converge regularly to exchange views as each pursues its own goals Is such a convergence possible on the question of sense and nonsense James W Underhill this volume The contributors to the present volume have focused their attention on two sets of problems that are leitmotifs in all the articles gathered Firstly should literary semantics the linguistic study of texts discourses marked with the feature of literariness and poeticalness strive after an interpretation of all such texts at all costs Are all literary texts interpretable How do we cope with such troublesome linguistic phenomena as anomaly deviance and absurdity Aren t we by any chance fascinated by nonsense Do we try to make it at least partly meaningful Is interpretability our default value The introductory article by the renowned scholar Margaret H Freeman is an important voice indeed a manifesto of sorts of literary semanticists in this respect Secondly while trying to answer all these questions well aware of the fact that literary semantics is a fuzzy branch of linguistic studies we have attempted at exploring its borderline zone to see to what extent we have to draw from various theoretical sources Literary semanticists have often proved that they are capable of arguing contrastively in the atmosphere of openness to such neighbouring fields as discourse analysis literary pragmatics and reader response theories narratology literary semiotics and hermeneutics translation studies and very importantly the philosophy of language The authors contributing to this book an international company of regularly cooperating linguists and literary scholars strike a nice balance between the cognitive and the more traditionally or philosophically oriented frameworks of study being a vivid proof that cognitive and other denominations are perfectly capable of fruitful coexistence The volume ends with a short presentation by Rados aw Nowakowski already known to academic and artistic audiences in Europe as a creator and propagator of liberature the art of unusual bookmaking the art of the book liberated from our traditional preconceptions We hope that our volume will be of interest to academics and students of literary theory and linguistics alike especially those involved in literary semantics stylistics and poetics Naturally the book is also addressed to members and sympathizers of IALS International Association of Literary Semantics and the readers of Journal of Literary Semantics scattered across the world Sterne's 'Journal to Eliza' Eva C. van Leewen,1981 An Introduction To Post-Colonial Theory Peter Childs,Patrick Williams,2014-06-06 The first book of its kind in the field this timely introduction to post colonial theory offers lucid and accessible summaries of the major work of key theorists such as Frantz Fanon Edward Said Homi Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak The Guide also Explores the lines of resistance against colonialism and highlights the theories of post colonial identity that have been responsible for generating some of the most influential and challenging critical work of recent decades Designed for undergraduates and postgraduates taking courses related to colonialism or post colonialism the book summarises the major topics and issues as well as covering the contributions of major and less familiar figures in the field

Throwing the Moral Dice Thomas Claviez,Viola Marchi,2021-12-07 More than a purely philosophical problem straddling the ambivalent terrain between necessity and impossibility contingency has become the very horizon of everyday life Often used as a synonym for the precariousness of working conditions under neoliberalism for the unknown threats posed by terrorism or for the uncertain future of the planet itself contingency needs to be calculated and controlled in the name of the protection of life The overcoming of contingency is not only called upon to justify questionable mechanisms of political control it serves as a central legitimating factor for Enlightenment itself In this volume nine major philosophers and theorists address a range of questions around contingency and moral philosophy How can we rethink contingency in its creative aspects outside the dominant rhetoric of risk and dangerous exposure What is the status of contingency as the unnecessary and law defying in or for ethics What would an alternative ethics of contingency one that does not simply attempt to sublimate it out of existence look like The volume tackles the problem contingency has always posed to both ethical theory and dialectics that of difference itself in the difficult mediation between the particular and the universal same and other the contingent singularity of the event and the necessary generality of the norms and laws From deconstruction to feminism to ecological thought some of today's most influential thinkers reshape many of the most debated concepts in moral philosophy difference agency community and life itself Contributors tienne Balibar Rosi Braidotti Thomas Claviez Drucilla Cornell Hans Ulrich Gumbrecht Viola Marchi Michael Naas Cary Wolfe Slavoj Žižek
