Imig, Sidney G.

Tarrow, 2001 Is the process of European integration shifting the targets of social movements from the national arena to the European Union level Does the EU remain isolated from the reach of national democratic politics Or are social movements responding to the transnational issues posed by the European Union but continuing to do so by treading the traditional pathways of nation specific contentious politics Addressing these key but hitherto unexplored questions this groundbreaking volume explores how European citizens are responding to the growing policymaking power of the EU The contributors argue that the emergence of a supranational realm of European government offers new opportunities and constraints for domestic social actors In this new transnational realm groups such as environmentalists students and trade unionists can not only undertake traditional domestic forms of contentious action but also link together across national borders At the same time the volume cautions against rushing to herald a new era of transnational mobilization as significant barriers remain to launching contentious action in the transnational realm national governments continue to play a primary role in policymaking before the EU and tried and true routines of collective action and institutions attach citizens to their national political systems At the heart of the book is a newly developed theoretical framework which is rigorously tested against the evidence offered by the editors longitudinal and cross national database on contentious political action as well as by a series of sector specific case studies The combination of theory and original research will make this an important reference for scholars as well as a valuable supplement in courses on comparative politics Western Europe and social movements Culture,

Environment and Ecopolitics Nick Heffernan, David A. Wragg, 2020-05-15 Culture Environment and Ecopolitics brings together a series of new reflections on historical and current ecological and environmental predicaments By way of critical interventions in environmental thought and through engagements with literary visual architectural philosophical and more general cultural studies scholarship this collection of essays by an international panel of writers breaks new interpretative ground While techno science has in some quarters been elevated to a master discourse of humanity's salvation charged with providing a magical fix for planetary ecological dilemmas the focus of our volume is on the importance of cultural reflection for bringing matters of local and global import to light Moving from the abstractions of eco critical utopianisms to the concrete identity of the land in the poetry of John Clare from British Petroleum's attempts to re brand climate change to examples of eco architecture and much more besides these essays exemplify ways in which eco political thought and practice might now be theorized The collection is framed by a substantial editors introduction which offers but one contextualization of the ideas and critical trajectories that follow Culture Environment and Ecopolitics will allow readers to discover original intersections and argumentative cross references across contested terrains in a world increasingly troubled by ecological crises Environmental Health Howard Frumkin,2010-01-22 ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH The second edition of Environmental Health From Global to Local a comprehensive introductory text offers an overview of the methodology and paradigms of this burgeoning field ranging from ecology to epidemiology from toxicology to environmental psychology and from genetics to ethics Expert contributors discuss the major issues in contemporary environmental health air water food safety occupational health radiation chemical and physical hazards vector control and injuries Also emphasizing a wide variety of issues of global interest the thoroughly revised second edition contains updated information on such timely topics as toxicology exposure assessment climate change population pressure developing nations and urbanization energy production building and community design solid and hazardous waste and disaster preparedness In addition each chapter of Environmental Health includes learning objectives key points and discussion questions Praise for the first edition of Environmental Health A classic textbook for the dynamic evolving field of environmental health thoughtful well written well balanced and referenced An excellent overview of a multifaceted approach to environmental health AOEC Newsletter Association of Occupational and Environmental Clinics With its many examples clear explanations and emphasis on big picture themes and relevance it is an astonishingly interesting read Global Public Health The book s chapters contain highly pertinent insights and information on environmental issues that go beyond the usual boundaries of classic environmental health Environmental Health Perspectives Winner AAP Award for Excellence in Professional and Scholarly Publishing

Water Quality in the Cook Inlet Basin, Alaska, 1998-2001 R. L. Glass,2004 Water Quality in the Cook Inlet Basin, Alaska, 1998-2001 ,2004 Food Policy and the Environmental Credit Crunch Julie Hudson,Paul Donovan,2013-09-11 The changing economic environment for the consumer that is emerging from the wreckage of the financial credit crunch plays directly into the importance of food spending This is certainly true from the perspective of food prices in the short run but also from the perspective of sustainability and reducing the impact of the environmental credit crunch The economic changes we experience now have a bearing on our ability to manage the environmental credit crunch that looms Food Policy and the Environmental Credit Crunch From Soup to Nuts elaborates on the issues addressed in the authors first book From Red to Green and asks whether the financial credit crunch could ameliorate or exacerbate the emergent environmental credit crunch The conclusion drawn here is that a significant and positive difference could be made by changing some of the ways in which we procure prepare and consume our food Written by an economist and an investment professional this book addresses the economic and environmental implications of how we treat food The book examines each aspect of the food chain from agriculture to production and processing retail preparation consumption and waste The World's Water

Harris, 2002 Annotation As the twenty first century commences the countries of Pacific Asia are grappling with the impact of regional development industry and growth on their increasingly acute environmental problems International Environmental Cooperation Politics and Diplomacy in Pacific Asia brings together innovative and insightful studies of international environmental politics in this increasingly critical part of the world The first section of the book examines many of the issues and actors impacting international environmental cooperation highlighting important themes such as cooperation between developed and developing countries international justice and regional environmental security This section also illustrates key features of specific multilateral environmental agreements and the competing interests of important national bodies international organizations multinational corporations and nongovernmental entities The second section focuses on environmental diplomacy and regime building in Pacific Asia examining issues such as acid rain nuclear waste deforestation and conflict over regional seas Contributors from Asia Europe and North America bring an international perspective to questions of environmental cooperation International Environmental Cooperation provides policymakers citizens scholars and students with essential information for understanding and addressing some of the world's most significant environmental problems Thirty Years of China - U.S. Relations Sujian Guo, Baogang Guo, 2010-08-04 The year 2009 marks the 30th anniversary of normalization of Sino U S relations Over the past 30 years the bilateral relations have developed by twists and turns It is not until recent years that some stability and forward looking exchanges have returned to the central stage albeit tension grievances and mistrust continue to persist Washington has encouraged China to become a responsible stakeholder in the world affairs while China has urged the U S to work with China to build a harmonious world Both sides want to work together to solve their differences through dialogs and negotiations In the wake of the worldwide financial crisis of 2008

2009 China has contributed greatly in financing the crumbling U S financial market and lent a helping hand in stabilizing the world economy Nevertheless the foundation of the relationship remains very fragile and the long term prospect for a constructive cooperative relationship is still full of uncertainties For many Americans China s increasing global reach and growing political and economic influence constitute the greatest challenge to world dominance by the United States As a result some perceive China s rise as a threat to Americans core national interests The recent changes in the global geostrategic landscape and economic interdependence have suggested that some new ideas factors conditions and elements are shaping the relations between the two countries The task of Thirty Years of China U S Relations Analytical Approaches and Contemporary Issues is to explore these factors issues and challenges and their impact for the bilateral relations in the 21st century

Environmental Apocalypse in Science and Art Sergio Fava, 2013-01-04 At a time when it is clear that climate change adaptation and mitigation are failing this book examines how our assumptions about valid and usable knowledge are preventing effective climate action Through a cross disciplinary empirically based analysis of climate science and policy the book situates the failures of climate policy in the cultural history of prediction and its interfaces with policy Fava calls into question the current interfaces between scientific research and climate policy by tracing multiple connections between modelling epistemology politics food security religion art and the apocalyptic Demonstrating how the current domination of climate policy by models and scenarios is part of the problem the book examines how artistic practices are a critical location to ask questions differently rethink environmental futures and activate social change The analysis starts with another moment of climatic change in recent western history the overlap of the Little Ice Age and the scientific revolution during which intense climatic scientific and political change were contemporary with mathematical calculation of the apocalypse Dealing with the need for complex answers to complex and urgent questions this is essential reading for those interested in climate action interdisciplinary research and methodological innovation The empirical analyses amount to a methodological experiment across history of science theology art theory and history architecture future studies climatology computer modelling and agricultural policy This book is a major contribution to understanding how we are precluding effective climate action and designing futures that resemble our worst nightmares
