Jataka Stories in Theravada Buddhism Naomi Appleton, 2016-05-06 Jataka stories stories about the previous births of the Buddha are very popular in Theravada Buddhist countries where they are found in both canonical texts and later compositions and collections and are commonly used in sermons children s books plays poetry temple illustrations rituals and festivals Whilst at first glance many of the stories look like common fables or folktales Buddhist tradition tells us that the stories illustrate the gradual path to perfection exemplified by the Buddha in his previous births when he was a bodhisatta buddha to be Jataka stories have had a long and colourful history closely intertwined with the development of doctrines about the Buddha the path to buddhahood and how Buddhists should behave now the Buddha is no more This book explores the shifting role of the stories in Buddhist doctrine practice and creative expression finally placing this integral Buddhist genre back in the centre of scholarly understandings of the religion      Scenes and Stories from the Land of Idols Pool, 1894

Hidden Lands in Himalayan Myth and History ,2020-11-30 In an era of environmental crisis narratives of hidden lands are resonant Understood as sanctuaries in times of calamity Himalayan hidden lands or sbas yul have shaped the lives of many peoples of the region Sbas yul are described by visionary lamas called treasure finders who located hidden lands and wrote guidebooks to them Scholarly understandings of sbas yul as places for spiritual cultivation and refuge from war have been complicated recently Research now explores such themes as the political and economic role of treasure finders the impact of sbas yul on indigenous populations and the use of sbas yul for environmental protection and tourism This book showcases recent scholarship on sbas yul from historical and contemporary perspectives      A Buddha Land in This World Lajos Brons, 2022 In the early twentieth century Uchiyama Gud Seno o Gir Lin Qiuwu and others advocated a Buddhism that was radical in two respects Firstly they adopted a more or less naturalist stance with respect to Buddhist doctrine and related matters rejecting karma or other supernatural beliefs And secondly they held political and economic views that were radically anti hegemonic anti capitalist and revolutionary Taking the idea of such a radical Buddhism seriously A Buddha Land in This World Philosophy Utopia and Radical Buddhism asks whether it is possible to develop a philosophy that is simultaneously naturalist anti capitalist Buddhist and consistent Rather than a study of radical Buddhism then this book is an attempt to radicalize it The foundations of this radicalized radical Buddhism are provided by a realist interpretation of Yog c ra elucidated and elaborated with some help from thinkers in the broader Tiantai Tendai tradition and American philosophers Donald Davidson and W V O Quine A key implication of this foundation is that only this world and only this life are real from which it follows that if Buddhism aims to alleviate suffering it has to do so in this world and in this life Twentieth century radical Buddhists as well as some engaged Buddhists came to a similar conclusion often expressed in their aim to realize a Buddha land in this world Building on this foundation but also on Mah y na moral philosophy this book argues for an ethics and social philosophy based on a definition of evil as that what is or should be expected to cause death or suffering On that ground capitalism should be rejected indeed but utopianism must be treated with caution as well which raises questions about what it means from a radicalized radical Buddhist perspective to aim for a Buddha land in this world Lajos Brons is a Dutch philosopher and social scientist living in Japan After receiving a PhD from the University of Groningen in the Netherlands for a dissertation on an aspect of the history and philosophy of the social sciences he gradually moved further and further into philosophical territory Currently Lajos is teaching logic ethics and philosophy at a university in Tokyo His research interests are divided over two broad areas in philosophy one is in the overlap of meta ethics and social political philosophy the other is in the intersection of philosophy of language metaphysics and epistemology Research in the former focuses on the relations between death suffering and compassion Research in the latter concerns the relations between language thought and reality and is heavily influenced by the philosophies of Donald Davidson and W V O Quine and by Buddhist philosophy More information about publications and research interests as well as Lajos s blog can be found at www.lajosbrons.net
