The Canadian Short Story Reingard M. Nischik, 2007 Beginning in the 1890s reaching its first full realization by modernist writers in the 1920s and brought to its heyday during the Canadian Renaissance starting in the 1960s the short story has become Canada's flagship genre It continues to attract the country's most accomplished and innovative writers today among them Margaret Atwood Mavis Gallant Alice Munro Carol Shields and many others Yet in contrast to the stature and popularity of the genre and the writers who partake in it surprisingly little literary criticism and theory has been devoted to the Canadian short story This collection redresses that imbalance by providing the first collection of critical interpretations of a range of thirty well known and often anthologized Canadian short stories from the genre's beginnings through the twentieth century A historical survey of the genre introduces the volume and a timeline comparing the genre's development in Canada the US and Great Britain via representative examples completes it The collection is geared both to specialists in and to students of Canadian literature For the latter it is of particular benefit that the volume provides not only a collection of interpretations but a comprehensive introduction to the history of the Canadian short story Reingard M Nischik is professor and chair of American Literature at the University of Constance Germany

Politics, Society, and the Media, Second Edition Paul Nesbitt-Larking, 2007-01-01

Politics Society and the Media is the first comprehensive political sociology of the media to be published in Canada Paul Nesbitt Larking draws upon a range of disciplines including cultural and media studies political economy social theory and political science to provide an analysis of the relationship between power and representation in Canada The framework for the book presents a model of the mutual interaction between politics and the media Attention is focused in the early chapters on how cultural ideological economic and governmental forces shape and condition the production of media in Canada Chapters on the work of Innis Grant McLuhan and their postmodern successors place the evolution of McLuhan's theoretical argument that the medium is the message at the heart of the book Canadian identity and how to understand Canadian media politically is the subject of a chapter on textual analysis Two extensive chapters follow on the media s influence and effects on politics In addition to standard topics on politics and the media this new edition offers much more an examination of the media on the politics of gender and aboriginal peoples the micro politics of the media workplace and an exploration of important media related considerations Throughout reference is made to relevant and compelling issues placed within the context of media theory

Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996 This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people institutions organizations publications art literature languages and history It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities These large divisions are then broken down by subject genre type of document and province or territory Titles of national provincial territorial or regional interest are included in every subject area when available The contents of the book are indexed four ways by name title French subject and English subject And to facilitate browsing the major reference books those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region are also cross referenced Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada s official languages Entries for unilingual works include a citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content arrangements and indexing of works the availability of non print formats previous editions and title changes and related works Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers

Literature and Painting In Quebec William J. Berg, 2013-02-04 This unique study explores how Quebec s landscapes have been represented in both literature and visual art throughout the centuries from the writing of early explorers such as Cartier and Champlain to work by prominent contemporary authors and artists from the province William J Berg traces recurrent images and themes within these creations through the most significant periods in the development of a Quebecois identity that was threatened initially by the wilderness and indigenous populations and later by the dominance of British and American influences Focusing on the interplay between nature and culture in landscape representation Literature and Painting in Quebec contends that both have reflected and fashioned the meaning of French Canadian nationhood As such Literature and Painting in Quebec presents a new perspective to approach the notion of national identity a quest that few groups have engaged in more persistently than the Quebecois
