comprehension and appreciation of the literary landscape they collectively illuminate Stories by Foreign Authors: Polish, Greek, Belgian, Hungarian Various Authors, Stories by Foreign Authors Mor Jokai, 2018-06-28 Stories by Foreign Authors by Mor Jokai CHAPTER I On a time it happened that the light house keeper in Aspinwall not far from Panama disappeared without a trace Since he disappeared during a storm it was supposed that the ill fated man went to the very edge of the small rocky island on which the light house stood and was swept out by a wave This supposition seemed the more likely as his boat was not found next day in its rocky niche The place of light house keeper had become vacant It was necessary to fill this place at the earliest moment possible since the light house had no small significance for the local movement as well as for vessels going from New York to Panama Mosquito Bay abounds in sandbars and banks Among these navigation even in the daytime is difficult but at night especially with the fogs which are so frequent on those waters warmed by the sun of the tropics it is nearly impossible The only guide at that time for the numerous vessels is the light house We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience Stories by Foreign Authors Camille Lemonnier, 2017-11-05 Excerpt from Stories by Foreign Authors Polish Greek Belgian Hungarian The only guide at that time for the numerous vessels is the light house The task of finding a new keeper fell to the United States consul living in Panama and this task was no small one first because it was absolutely necessary to find the man within twelve hours second the man must be unusually conscientious it was not possible of course to take the first comer at random finally there was an utter lack of candidates Life on a tower is uncommonly difficult and by no means enticing to people of the South who love idleness and the freedom of a vagrant life That light house keeper is almost a prisoner He cannot leave his rocky island except on Sundays A boat from Aspinwall brings him provisions and water once a day and returns immediately on the whole island one acre in area there is no inhabitant The keeper lives in the light house he keeps it in order During the day he gives signals by displaying flags of various colors to indicate changes of the barometer in the evening he lights the lantern This would be no great labor were it not that to reach the lantern at the summit of the tower he must pass over more than four hundred steep and very high steps sometimes he must make this journey repeatedly during the day In general it is the life of a monk and indeed more than that the life of a hermit It was not wonderful therefore About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find
