McCarthy,Bruce Rubidge,2013-07-10 Geologically speaking southern Africa is without equal a treasure house of valuable minerals with a geological history dating back some 3 600 million years In addition the evolution of plants and animals especially mammals and dinosaurs is well preserved in the region which also probably has the best record of the origin of modern man This book provides a fascinating insight into that remarkable history how southern Africa and to some extent the world came to be the way it is how its mineral deposits formed its life evolved and its landscape was shaped Along the way readers will be enthralled by accounts of the Big Bang that marked the beginning of time and matter by drifting and colliding continents folding and fracturing of rocks meteors colliding with the Earth the time when the Earth froze over volcanic eruptions and the start of life Anyone interested in the landscape and ecosystems in which we live will be intrigued to discover how our natural landmarks were formed from the deserts of Namibia to the mountains of the Western Cape or

Mpumalanga Why is South Africa so rich in minerals How did glacial deposits come to be found in the Karoo Why did dinosaurs become extinct How did mammals develop from reptiles How closely related are we to the apes The answers to many such questions are found in this lavishly illustrated volume The authors also suggest how we can learn from the past in order to anticipate the future for instance to be able to predict earthquakes deal with volcanic eruptions and meet the challenges of global climate change Youth's Companion, 1918 Souvenirs of the Old South Rebecca C.

McIntyre, 2016-10-05 Written in a clear accessible and lively style Souvenirs of the Old South will be the foundational work for subsequent scholars and readers interested in tourism in the New South W Fitzhugh Brundage author of The Southern Past A Clash of Race and Memory This study of southern images offers readers a glimpse of how history culture race and class came together in the tourist imagination If the South emerged from the Civil War a distinctive place Rebecca McIntyre would remind us that s because distinctiveness sells Richard Starnes author of Creating the Land of the Sky Tourism and Society in Western North Carolina Less than a decade after the conclusion of the Civil War northern promoters began pushing images of a mythic South to boost tourism By creating a hierarchical relationship based on region and race in which northerners were always superior promoters saw tourist dollars begin flowing southward but this cultural construction was damaging to southerners particularly African Americans Rebecca McIntyre focuses on the years between 1870 and 1920 a period framed by the war and the growth of automobile tourism These years were critical in the creation of the South s modern identity and she reveals that tourism images created by northerners for northerners had as much effect on making the South southern as did the most ardent proponents of the Lost Cause She also demonstrates how northern tourism contributed to the worsening of race relations in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries A Directory of African Wetlands R.
