Copyright Office, 1964 Interpreting Statutes D. Neil MacCormick, Robert S. Summers, 2016-12-05 This book is a work of outstanding importance for scholars of comparative law and jurisprudence and for lawyers engaged in EC law or other international forms of practice It reviews compares and analyses the practice of interpretation in nine countries representing Europe as well as the US and Argentina in common and civil law it also explores implications for general theories of interpretation and of justification Its authors who include Aulis Aarnio Robert Alexy Ralf Dreier Enrique Zuleta Puceiro Michel Troper Christophe Grzegorzczak Jean Louis Gardes Enrico Pattaro Michele Taruffo Massimo La Torre Jerry Wroblewski Aleksander Peczenik Gunnar Bergholtz and Zenon Bankowski as well as editors Robert S Summers and D Neil MacCormick constitute an international team of great distinction they have worked on this project for over seven years

Education and Work in Great Britain, Germany and Italy Annette Jobert, Catherine Marry, Helen Rainbird, Lucie Tanguy, 2013-05-13 This volume examines the multiple connections between education broadly defined and work through an analysis of the literature on the transition from school to work on vocational training and on the labour market It shows that concepts such as skill unemployment rates young people and the transition from school to work are socially constructed and are thought about in ways which are nationally specific This book is essential reading for students of European training systems and for those conducting comparative European research Interrogating Networks Lin Foxhall, 2021-06-09 Network theory and methodologies have become central to exploring and explaining social economic and political relationships and connections in past societies However in archaeology the deployment of networks has sometimes been more descriptive than analytical Methodologies have often depended upon underlying assumptions which inevitably simplify relationships that were complex and multi faceted However the fragmentary heterogeneous and usually proxy data we possess are not always amenable to reconstructing that complexity In ancient societies we must infer the movement of knowledge about how to make things largely from objects themselves This is because we usually lack direct evidence of the human relationships that entwined people with objects and their makers and hence have only imperfect understanding of the full range of diverse factors that shaped the relationships that constituted these networks The chapters in this volume aim to interrogate the interpretative potential of network concepts for understanding the movement over time and space of ideas about making using and moving things through a range of archaeological case studies which reveal both functional and dysfunctional relationships The purpose is to consider how more broadly contextualized and multi faceted studies can both enhance and be enhanced by network and related approaches The volume contributes to the search for greater understanding of the movement and transmission of knowledge or in some cases their absence and to debates about how best to expand the utility of network concepts and approaches

Europeanization of Judicial Review Nicola Ch. Corkin,2014-11-13 Europeanization of Judicial Review argues that the higher complexity of the political framework in which laws are made today leads to less well designed laws and loop holes allowing politicians to leave decisions to the courts The higher complexity of the political framework is a result of the need in the EU to consider both national and European legal and political rules when phrasing new laws Both to decrease the complexity in the design of legislation and to preserve the ideal of the rule of law the courts now are more likely to rule laws unconstitutional The book employs a wide range of quantitative and qualitative methods to collect new data about the German Austrian and Italian constitutional courts over the last four decades These three courts have a comparable history theoretical background and structure while differing in two key components length of EU membership and legitimacy perception Corkin employs multi method research based on over fifty interviews with judges politicians and civil servants content analysis of abstract judicial review cases over three decades and a database of over 300 variables relating to the courts and their surroundings Her data reveals that in abstract judicial review and in the wider political arena political culture has become more confrontational due to attitude changes in politicians and judges These attitude changes can be directly linked to the EU and have wide ranging implications for legitimacy democracy and political methodology Presenting a bridge between the revitalized realist and legalist debate Europeanization of Judicial Review will contribute to socio legal theory literature on comparative courts and both new institutionalism and Europeanization theory
