The City of Coventry Adrian Smith,2006-10-27 The image of Coventry in flames was one of the most haunting of the Second World War Yet the excitement and optimism of the 1950s and 1960s were succeeded by a quarter century of urban blight and economic slump The collapse of manufacturing industry machine tools aeroplanes cars left a proud community adrift and demoralised Today a revitalised twenty first century city Coventry has embraced the new millennium and evolved from bleak post industrial desert to vibrant cultural oasis in the process rediscovering a sense of purpose and a vision for the future The City of Coventry tells the story of an experiment in social democracy carried out by a Labour controlled council which envisaged the bomb shattered city as a model of urban regeneration and imaginative planning Post war reconstruction could be a striking success as in the pedestrian friendly Precinct and the bold new cathedral or a notable failure as in the ever more intrusive ring roads and grim high rise flats In offering a fresh perspective on the city this innovative volume of essays rediscovers Coventry as an inspiration for poets and painters such as Philip Larkin and Terry Frost musicians as varied as Benjamin Britten and The Specials and film makers such as Humphrey Jennings whose Heart of Britain was shot in the immediate aftermath of the Blitz Adrian Smith skilfully mixes memoir family history and meticulous scholarship to paint a complete and incisive portrait of Coventry Drawing on new research into topics as diverse as the place of Surrealism in West Midlands culture and the shadowy presence of rugby league in a union bastion Smith brings a unique insight into the recent history of his native city Attractively presented highly readable and with broad appeal The City of Coventry is a lively re examination of an iconic city of the twentieth century illuminating the profound changes that engulfed industrial England during and after the Second World War Princeton Alumni Weekly
