

AESOP'S FABLES

THE WOLF AND THE CRANE

A Wolf had been gorging on an animal he had killed, when suddenly a small bone in the meat stuck in his throat and he could not swallow it. He soon felt terrible pain in his throat, and ran up and down groaning and groaning and seeking for something to relieve the pain. He tried to induce every one he met to remove the bone. 'I would give anything,' said he, 'if you would take it out.' At last the Crane agreed to try, and told the Wolf to lie on his side and open his jaws as wide as he could. Then the Crane put its long neck down the Wolf's throat, and with its beak loosened the bone, till at last it got it out. 'Will you kindly give me the reward you promised?' said the Crane. The Wolf grinned and showed his teeth and said: 'Be content. You have put your head inside a Wolf's mouth and taken it out again in safety; that ought to be reward enough for you.'

The moral: Gratitude and greed go not together.

1. How did the wolf get into trouble?
2. Who did he ask to help him?
3. How did he react to the crane's help?
4. What would you do if you were in crane's shoes?

THE DOG AND WOLF

A gaunt Wolf was almost dead with hunger when he happened to meet a House-dog who was passing by. 'Ah, Cousin,' said the Dog. 'I knew how it would be: your irregular life will soon be the ruin of you. Why do you not work steadily as I do, and get your food regularly given to you?' 'I would have no objection,' said the Wolf, 'if I could only get a place.' 'I will easily arrange that for you,' said the Dog; 'come with me to my master and you shall share my work.' So the Wolf and the Dog went towards the town together. On the way there the Wolf noticed that the hair on a certain part of the Dog's neck was very much worn away, so he asked him how that had come about. 'Oh, it is nothing,' said the Dog. 'That is only the place where the collar is put on at night to keep me chained up; it chafes a bit, but one soon gets used to it.' 'Is that all?' said the Wolf. 'Then good-bye to you, Master Dog.'

The moral: Better starve free than be a fat slave.

1. Who did a wolf meet one day?
2. What did the House-dog advice to the wolf?
3. What is the reason of the Wolf changing the mind?
4. What is better for you?

Ethics in Aesop's Fables the Augustana Collection offers an original and innovative analysis of the Greek fable in the framework of Greek ethical thinking The book starts with a brief account of the history and genre of the Greek fable It then focuses on the Augustana collection of prose fables and analyses its ethical content in the larger context of Greek thought A detailed comparison of Greek ethical thinking with the language of the fables shows the persistence of certain types of ethical reasoning and of certain key ethical norms The author argues that although the fable was not philosophy it was indeed philosophical because it communicated normative messages about human behaviour which reflected widespread views in Greek ethical thought This book is of special interest to both students and scholars of Greek fable and of Greek philosophy The Moral Fables of Robert Henryson Robert Henryson, Robert Aesop, 2015-08-08 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant
