inside my taxicab and waited On the seat outside the driver and Wada sat hunched in a temperature perhaps half a degree colder than mine And there was no tug Possum the fox terrier puppy Galbraith had so inconsiderately foisted upon me whimpered and shivered on my lap inside my greatcoat and under the fur robe But he would not settle down Continually he whimpered and clawed and struggled to get out And once out and bitten by the cold with equal insistence he whimpered and clawed to get back His unceasing plaint and movement were anything but sedative to my jangled nerves In the first place I was uninterested in the brute He meant nothing to me I did not know him Time and again as I drearily waited I was on the verge of giving him to the driver Once when two little girls evidently the wharfinger's daughters went by my hand reached out to the door to open it so that I might call to them and present them with the puling little wretch About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
