Uncovering the History of Children's Drawing and Art Donna Kelly,2004-01-30 Reactions to children s artwork have varied throughout different times and places Donna Darling Kelly is calling for a more joyful appreciation of our youngest artists She presents the dichotomy of the Mirror and Window paradigms First she explains the Mirror paradigm which art educators psychologists and art historians use it is a psychological focus on children s art It can be defined as the ability of the child to represent images of something other than the object itself Psychologists who believe in this theory are interested in the self reflective qualities of children s drawing as they relate to language intelligence and cognitive development The opposing Window paradigm is an aesthetic perspective followed by people working in the arts The subscribers to this theory see children s art as an objective reproduction of reality that carries all of the meaning with the image The act of representation is the ultimate goal in this model not the truth behind the goal Darling Kelly would like to see the interested parties in the field of children s art placing less emphasis on the prevailing Mirror paradigm and embrace the Window paradigm Art educators often feel sidelined because subjects such as science and mathematics are requisites while art remains at best an elective Art is often classified as a sub discipline concerned primarily with therapeutic areas An unwanted effect of the Mirror paradigm is the stereotypical psychological model of the artist as a hopelessly neurotic or troubled soul This volume is a call to arms for the aesthetic Window paradigm so that art as an autonomous discipline can gain stature in the curriculum of all children s schools

Lewis,2020-06-02 Trauma affects the lives of many children who we teach in school It effects the students teachers who teach them the administration and the school community as it is part of the school environment and culture Teachers and administrators have great potential to set up an environment and adopt an attitude that can help heal the trauma in the lives of their students Schools need to become trauma informed to be able to provide for the growing number of refugee children who have experienced terrorism crime war and abuse to better help some Indigenous children who due to systemic racism and discriminatory policies have been traumatised and live daily with trauma and the growing number of all children who have experienced various kinds of trauma during their life span Trauma informed schools means that all students can feel safe enough to learn succeed academically and thrive after having undergone a traumatic event Trauma Informed Teaching demonstrates how Play Art Narrative PAN can be instrumental in creating trauma informed schools The authors provide play art and narrative techniques and activities that educators can use to safely work therapeutically with traumatised children and youth Teaching Children to Draw Barbara Ward,2006-04-10 Addressed to elementary school teachers provides ideas and strategies designed to help students learn how to draw and includes tips on using a variety of sketching materials Teacher's Manual, Pt. 1-6, for The Prang Elementary Course in Art Instruction, Books 1[-12] Third[-eighth] Year John Spencer Clark,Mrs. Mary Dana Hicks,Walter Scott Perry,1896

Using Art to Teach Reading Comprehension Strategies Jennifer Klein,Elizabeth Stuart,2013 Art can be a critical tool in helping students develop and refine reading strategies This book provides classroom and art teachers with an overview of six different reading strategies and integrated reading and art lessons that they can implement in their own classrooms and schools The International Studio Charles Holme,Guy Eglington,Peyton Boswell,William Bernard McCormick,Henry James Whigham,1921 Art Education Mr. Rohit Manglik,2022-04-22 Role of visual and performing arts in holistic student development An Integrated Play-based Curriculum for Young Children Olivia N. Saracho,2013-03 Play provides young children with the opportunity to express their ideas symbolize and test their knowledge of the world. It provides the basis for inquiry in literacy, science, social studies, mathematics, art, music, and movement. Through play, young children become active learners engaged in explorations about themselves, their community, and their personal social world. An Integrated Play Based Curriculum for Young Children offers the theoretical framework for understanding the origins of an early childhood play-based curriculum and how young children learn and understand concepts in a social and physical environment. Distinguished author Olivia N. Saracho then explores how play fits into various curriculum areas in order to help teachers develop their early childhood curriculum using developmentally and culturally appropriate practice. Through this integrated approach, young children are able to actively engage in meaningful and functional experiences in their natural context.

Special Features Include: Vignettes of children's conversations and actions in the classroom; Suggestions for activities and classroom materials; Practical examples and guidelines; End of chapter summaries to enhance and extend the reader's understanding of young children. By presenting appropriate theoretical practices for designing and implementing a play-based curriculum, An Integrated Play Based Curriculum for Young Children offers pre-service teachers the foundational knowledge about the field, about the work that practitioners do with young children, and how to best assume a teacher's role effectively.
