Kushner,1991 For the nineteenth century physician the moral issues that suicide raised could not be isolated from its constitutional components Thus those who exhibited suicidal tendencies were subjected to an amalgamation of pharmacological social and psychological interventions which practioners labeled the moral treatment By the 1890s however the consensus about the causes of suicide became unglued as a bacteriological medicine and the rise of the social sciences jointly served to call into question eclectic diagnoses The goal of American Suicide is to demonstrate how the apparent contradictions among sociological psychoanalytic and neurobiological explanations of the etiology of suicide may be resolved Only through a reintegration of culture psychology and biology can we begin to construct a satisfactory answer to the questions first raised by Durkheim Freud and Kraepelin Guide to
