laughter And as these two childhood friends rediscover each other something extraordinary is beginning to happen In the safety of their friendship Brad will find the courage to make a decision he should have made years before And Faith too is changing beginning to believe in herself and in her right to grab hold of her dreams Gathering a strength she never knew she had Faith is finally ready to face the most painful step of all of sharing the secret that has long been haunting her and truly opening up her heart for the first time in her life With unerring insight into the hearts of husbands and wives lovers and families Danielle Steel tells a wise and moving story of the secrets that wound and the choices that heal and of the second chances that come only once in a lifetime Lonely Planet Provence & the Cote d'Azur Lonely Planet, Insight Guides:

Neo-Impressionism and Anarchism in Fin-de-Siècle France Robyn Roslak, 2017-07-05 In Neo Impressionism and Anarchism in Fin de Siècle France Robyn Roslak examines for the first time the close relationship between neo impressionist landscapes and cityscapes and the anarchist sympathies of the movement's artists She focuses in particular on paintings produced between 1886 and 1905 by Paul Signac and Maximilien Luce the neo impressionists whose fidelity to anarchism to the art of landscape and to a belief in the social potential of art was strongest Although the neo impressionists are best known for their rational and scientific technique they also heeded the era's call for art surpassing the mundane realities of everyday life By tempering their modern subjects with a decorative style they hoped to lead their viewers toward moral and social improvement Roslak's ground breaking analysis shows how the anarchist theories of Elis Reclus Pierre Kropotkin and Jean Grave both inspired and coincided with these ideals Anarchism attracted the neo impressionists because its standards for social justice were grounded like neo impressionism itself in scientific exactitude and aesthetic idealism Anarchists claimed humanity would reach its highest level of social and moral development only in the presence of a decorative variety of nature and called upon progressive thinkers to help create and maintain such environments The neo impressionists who primarily painted decorative landscapes therefore discovered in anarchism a political theory consistent with their belief that decorative harmony should be the basis for socially responsible art
