The Modern Plantation in the Third World Edgar Graham,Ingrid Floering,2024-02-01 Originally published in 1984 this was the first study to define and rationalise the character and functions of the plantation in the contemporary world The author Edgar Graham was uniquely placed to do this having had long experience of Unilever s plantations in West Africa Zaire Malaysia and the Pacific Writing as a pragmatist from observed fact his starting point was the fact that the modern plantation bears very little resemblance to that of the past on which most hostile accounts are still based Two changes altered the very nature of the issue First the 20th Century plantation existed within an economic framework controlled by independent governments Secondly the rapid development in technology has revolutionised most aspects of plantation production The result it is argued is that the modern plantation offers host governments the option of using this as the most efficient way of utilising available factors of production to provide a maximum social return Exemplified by case studies this study presents a powerful argument for the continue use of the plantation system when properly applied to a variety of tropical crops

Economic History of London 1800-1914 Professor Michael Ball,David T Sunderland,2001-04-26 This is the first comprehensive survey of the economic development of the world's first great industrial metropolis. Modern theories of urban economics are used to shed new light on the process of change in the city. Navigating History: Economy, Society, Knowledge, and Nature, 2018-12-24. In Navigating History: Economy, Society, Knowledge, and Nature, the contributors present new research that touches on the core themes developed in Karel Davids's work. The book reflects Davids's omnivorous character as a scholar. Nevertheless, there are common strands that run throughout the introduction and fourteen chapters gathered here. Major themes include resources of knowledge, cultures of learning, and humans and their natural environment. Together, these fourteen essays provide a fascinating panorama of social, economic, and environmental history of the past millennium. The book seeks to bring back the different levels of geographical scope, fusing the local, the national, and the global. Contributors are Ulbe Bosma, Pepijn Brandon, Jaap Bruijn, Petra van Dam, Victor Enthoven, Sabine Go Marjolein, t Hart, Raoul De Kerf, Jan Lucassen, Karin Lurvink, Joel Mokyr, Marijn Molema, Bert de Munck, P. l Nyiri, Harm Pieters, Matthias van Rossum, Joost Schokkenbroek, Jeroen Touwen, Wybren Verstegen, and Jan Luiten van Zanden. Making Of A Sugar Giant. Philippe Chalmin, Erica E. Long-Michalke, 2022-02-22. First Published in 1990. This is a revised and updated second version for English translation from French by Erica E. Long-Michalke. Sugar provides a fascinating example of an international commodity, and this book deals with the history both of a multinational company and of the world sugar economy. It describes the emergence in the nineteenth century of the two family companies of Henry Tate and Abram Lyle. By 1914, they were the largest and most prosperous sugar refining businesses in the British Empire. In 1921, they amalgamated and became, after the Second World War, pre-eminent in the world sugar economy. The book's final chapter covers the company's most recent acquisitions and demonstrates the management strategy of Tate & Lyle in its relations with the developed and developing worlds.

Printing and Painting the News in Victorian London. Andrea Korda, 2017-07-05. Printing and Painting the News in Victorian London offers a fresh perspective on Social Realism by contextualizing it within the burgeoning new media environment of Victorian London. Paintings labelled as Social Realist by Luke Fildes, Frank Holl, and Hubert Herkomer are frequently considered to typify the sentimental Victorian genre painting that quickly became outdated with the development of modernism. Yet this book argues that the paintings must be considered as the result of the new experiences of modernity: the urban poverty that the paintings represent and, most importantly, the advent of the mass-produced illustrated news. Fildes, Holl, and Herkomer worked for The Graphic, a publication launched in 1869 as a rival to the dominant Illustrated London News. The artists' illustrations, which featured the growing problem of urban poverty, became the basis for large-scale paintings that provoked controversy among their contemporaries and later became known as Social Realism. This first in-depth study of The Graphic and Social Realism uses the approach of media archaeology to unearth the modernity of these works, showing that they engaged with the changing notions of objectivity and immediacy that nineteenth-century new media cultivated. In doing so, this book proposes an alternative trajectory for the development of modernism that allows for a richer
