Whitehurst, 2008-04-15

Emulsifiers are essential components of many industrial food recipes whether they be added for the purpose of water oil emulsification in its simplest form for textural and organoleptic modification for shelf life enhancement or as complexing or stabilising agents for other components such as starch or protein. Each chapter in this volume considers one of the main chemical groups of food emulsifiers. Within each group the structures of the emulsifiers are considered together with their modes of action. This is followed by a discussion of their production, extraction and physical characteristics together with practical examples of their application. Appendices cross reference emulsifier types with applications and give E numbers, international names, synonyms and references to analytical standards and methods. This is a book for food scientists and technologists, ingredients suppliers and quality assurance personnel. NIH Library Booklist, 1969 Chemicals, 1968

Surfactants in Consumer Products Jürgen Falbe,2012-12-06 In today's market custom formulated surfactants are offered for a wide range of applications The need for surfactants in detergents cleaning agents cosmetics toiletries is second only to an expanding demand in industrial applications But even within the non industrial areas the demands have undergone significant changes in recent years For example washing and cleaning temperatures have substantially decreased with increased energy conservation attitudes and more stringent regulatory requirements in the area of ecology and toxicology are leading to new product profiles New manufacturing technologies and an increased utilization of natural raw materials also factor into this continuing evolution These changes and trends have been described in numerous publications However a summary and survey of these developments is currently missing The book presented here Surfactants in Consumer Products is intended to close this gap The editor and authors dedicate this work to Dr Dr h c Konrad Henkel on the occasion of his 70th birthday Dr Henkel himself a scientist and industrialist contributed significantly to developments in the surfactant field In the nineteen fifties he initiated the change from soap based detergents to synthetic detergents within Henkel At the same time dishwashing detergents utilizing various synthetic surfactants were also developed and became the basis for modern manual and mechanical dishwashing Official Gazette of the United States Patent Office United States.
