English Learning Maximisation System João Canoquena,2019-05-22 This English language teaching ELT theory book is packed with case studies empirical research reflections and methods for the maximisation of English language learning It is designed to help English teachers boost the potential for learning to occur in language classrooms Written in response to student complaints of not learning anything this book examines reflects upon and interprets the process of English language learning from a student s perspective In order to significantly reduce the likelihood of the emergence of such complaints from students the book suggests a focus on learning by presenting a new philosophy of English language teaching namely the English Learning Maximisation System ELMS This new ELT theory holds that students learn the English language best when their learning experience engages them cognitively and behaviourally

The Influence of Aural Training in Music on the Perceptive Performance of Adult Learners'

Sound-Discrimination Abilities in an Unknown Foreign Language Friederike Flottmann,2011 Can aural training in music enhance your sound discrimination abilities for languages The study sets off to answer this question by testing 50 German speaking students of non linguistic degrees for their abilities to discriminate between sounds in Finnish a language previously entirely unknown to them 25 randomly selected subjects then went through an aural training in music for two weeks before all the subjects were retested in their aural perceptive abilities in the Finnish language by means of a similar test containing different test items The hypothesised positive effect of the musical intervention could be partially proved by a statistically significant mean enhancement in the final scores achieved by the trained group compared to an insignificant enhancement achieved by the control group
