

LISTENING 1 – SUMMER JOBS

MARYANN POLANCO :)

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying a listening exercise page. The page has a blue header with the title 'Summer Jobs'. Below the header, there is a section titled 'Before You Listen' with a list of four questions. The questions are:

1. How old are the people in the images? What time of year is it?
2. Do students work during summer vacations in your country? What kinds of jobs do they do?
3. Should you do any other jobs in the images? Why/Why not?
4. Do you work during the summer vacation? Do you think it's a good idea for students to work during their vacations? What are the benefits and the disadvantages?

Below the questions, there are two photographs. The left photograph shows a young man wearing a grey t-shirt and a black cap, pushing a shopping cart filled with various items, including a large black bag and a small white bag. The right photograph shows a group of dogs of different breeds (including a Corgi and a Golden Retriever) walking on a paved path, each on a leash held by a person whose legs are visible.

- 1- Between 26 and 37 years old, except in the image that there are children who are between 6 and 8 years old and the year in which I think the photos are located is 2018
- 2- Some high school students decide to spend their vacations to earn money, but they usually choose to be a waiter, babysitter, dog walker or store manager.
- 3- I would choose a dog walker because I really like to take care of and walk my pets, apart from the fact that they pay for just taking them out for a walk, who would not accept?
- 4- I was thinking of working during these summer vacations but since I was going to be traveling mostly I can't, but let's see if next year I have time to earn a little money. I think that students should work (even if it is part time on vacation) so that they have money saved after they finish school. One of the advantages would be having your own money and being able to invest it in something you love, but the disadvantage would be that at work it does not coincide with your routine.
