Speaking Power to Truth Michael Keren, Richard Hawkins, 2015-11-20 Online discourse has created a new media environment for contributions to public life one that challenges the social significance of the role of public intellectuals intellectuals who whether by choice or by circumstance offer commentary on issues of the day The value of such commentary is rooted in the assumption that by virtue of their training and experience intellectuals possess knowledge that they understand what constitutes knowledge with respect to a particular topic are able to distinguish it from mere opinion and are in a position to define its relevance in different contexts When intellectuals comment on matters of public concern they are accordingly presumed to speak truth whether they are writing books or op ed columns or appearing as guests on radio and television news programs At the same time with increasing frequency discourse on public life is taking place online This new digital environment is characterized by abundance an abundance of speakers discussion and access But has this abundance of discourse this democratization of knowledge as some describe it brought with it a corresponding increase in truth Casting doubt on the assertion that online discourse with its proliferation of voices will somehow yield collective wisdom Speaking

Power to Truth raises concerns that this wealth of digitally enabled commentary is in fact too often bereft of the hallmarks of intellectual discourse an epistemological framework and the provision of evidence to substantiate claims Instead the pursuit of truth finds itself in competition with the quest for public reputation access to influence and enhanced visibility But as knowledge is drawn into the orbit of power and as the line between knowledge and opinion is blurred what role will the public intellectual play in the promotion and nurturing of democratic processes and goals In exploring the implications of the digital transition the contributors to Speaking Power to Truth provide both empirical evidence of and philosophical reflection on the current and future role of the public intellectual in a technologically mediated public sphere Contributions by Barry Cooper Jacob Foster Karim Ally Kassam Boaz Miller Liz Pirnie and Eleanor Townsley Index to Dates of Current Events Occurring Or Reported ... ,1914 Current Encyclopedia Samuel Fallows,Edmund Buckley,Shailer Mathews,1905

positive and self opinionated but you cannot it is not possible set up your judgment against mine on such a point You an inexperienced prejudiced girl a rustic with no knowledge of the world What do you know about the man Oh I allow he is well enough to look at he has had the usual amount of education and so forth but what do you know about him that is what I ask Not much father said Anne steadily but I know him Stuff you a girl not much over twenty know a man Does he tell you do you suppose all the adventures of his life Does he confess his sins to you A young fellow that has been trained at a public school that has been at the university that has knocked about the world is he going to confide all that to you He would be unworthy the name of gentleman if he did

An Ethic of Trust W. Royce Clark, 2021-09-02 The proximity of many different religions each with its own unique metaphysics and ethics did not exist in the ancient world when those religions came into existence Many went uncontested for centuries and many merged with governments to shape the laws for the entire people of a culture or nation Theocracies can exist only where there is no plurality of religions or where the minor religions do not mind the dominant one dictating policy for all citizens In the word s two greatest democracies the U S and India despite the diversity that a democratic society presupposes a majoritarian religion continues to assert an advantage over others to shape the social contract An Ethic of Trust Mutual Autonomy and the Common Will to Live addresses this problem moving beyond sheer utilitarianism W Royce Clark argues that because of religious pluralism a nation s ethic must be grounded on freestanding principles This means that its base must be universally obvious and its principles must be agreeable to all citizens The base is instinctual the will to live which is present in all living creatures and the recognition of that can influence people to agree to a voluntary unity and a couple of other basic principles to which all would agree principles which embrace differences within relationships whether in a marriage or a constitutional republic But to voluntarily agree to these requires a genuine mutual trust and mutual autonomy which can maximize unity while allowing individual liberties To arrive at this point Clark blends scholars who are often cast as opposites Albert Schweitzer Friedrich Nietzsche and John Rawls to forge a new path for an inclusive ethic for a nation within which both the religious and non religious will have equal freedom and stability
